

Hebron fire destroys camper, boat, garage and pickup

Hebron Volunteer firefighters work to put out a garage fire that occurred near 8th Street and Union Avenue.

The Hebron Volunteer Fire Department was called to a destructive, garage fire last Tuesday, July 28, on 8th Street and Union Avenue.

Emergency responders received the call around 6:15 p.m. after neighbors noticed the fire and reported it.

"We were lucky the wind wasn't blowing the other way," said Andrew Fangmeier, assistant fire chief.

Fangmeier reported lots of smoke from the contents and fiberglass burning.

"When there is a lot of synthetic stuff involved, we are sure to put our air packs on," said Fangmeier.

All in all, a garage, camper, boat and pickup were damaged. All were a total loss.

As of the last follow-up by the Hebron Journal Register, the cause was still under investigation. Fangmeier stated that the fire marshal suspected it to be electrical, but did not have a set conclusion.

There were no injuries as a result of the fire.

"Our guys did a good job putting out that fire quickly," said Fangmeier.

By Amanda Push
Hebron Journal-Register

Volunteers from all over Nebraska came last weekend to the Hebron Blue Valley care facilities to assist with activities such as putting on a carnival for nursing home residents, gardening at the care home and making blankets with assisted living residents.

Twenty-one women of Saved to Serve, which is part of the Women of Evangelical Lutheran Church in America, began their weekend by making tie quilts with assisted living residents Friday evening. The team completed 16 blankets that will be donated to Lutheran World Relief then be distributed overseas to needy people.

The group began Saturday at 6 a.m. gardening at the care home.

Saturday afternoon, from 1-3 p.m., they set up and facilitated carnival games such as fish pond, pluck a duck, the cupcake walk, the drop zone, bowling and a Mt. Rushmore photo-op.

Volunteers and residents wrapped up the afternoon with root beer floats and popcorn.

The longest string beans we have ever seen were grown this season by David Warren, of Belvidere precinct. They measured nearly two feet in length.

Last Sunday, Elder Lobinger administered the ordinance of baptism to seven persons. The immersions were made in the Big Sandy, near Belvidere, and the ceremonies were witnessed by a large number of people.

Messrs. Headington Bros. have rented the rooms over Downen & Green's bookstore, and will open a cigar factory there. While the habit of smoking is to be deprecated, we see no reason why the smokers should be obliged to pay other towns a tribute therefore. Moral--smoke Headington Bros.' cigars and be happy.

The new fire escape iron ladder, manufactured by Bethscheider Brothers for the Central House, is 19 feet long, and the arched rounds are about three feet across.

The program for the memorial exercises in honor of General U. S. Grant, at Hebron, next Saturday, 8th inst., appears in this issue. Ample preparations are being made for a large attendance at the skating rink, which will be prepared to seat about 1,000 people.

Last night, to commemorate the birthday of E. M. Correll, and a surprise party was given to Mrs. Correll and the editor. It was more than a surprise. It was a capture. The attacking party ambuscaded, then assaulted in strong force in front and rear, turned the flanks, pierced the center, cut off the base of supplies, surrounded the force and demanded an unconditional surrender. Of course we surrendered. No other course was left open. Resistance was useless, and all avenues of escape were closed. We could only throw ourselves upon the mercy of our captors. An elegant plush-covered rocking chair was then presented on behalf of the T.C.W.S.A. The presentation remarks by Mrs. S. E. Ferguson were graceful and affecting. The recipient could say but little more than to express his heartfelt appreciation of the kind feelings that prompted the presentation, and is grateful acceptance of the gift, which possesses a priceless value, accompanied as it was with so many kind expressions. After a pleasant time spent in conversation, elegant refreshments were served by the guests, who came prepared to act as hosts. At midnight, the attacking party retired in good order, leaving the battlefield and camp spoils in possession of the vanquished--an anomaly in the art of war.

They said it couldn't be done, but Adolph Fangmeier, local farmer, proved it could be when he went in search for his dentures in a box car full of several thousand bushels of wheat and found them within five minutes. They had slipped out of his shirt pocket earlier while he was leaning over the elevator in at the Gilead Grain Co. The wheat was in the process of being elevated into a nearby box car. Losing one's teeth is getting to be a common occurrence for Fangmeier. A year ago he regained them after he had plowed them under. We would say they've "been through the mill"---well almost.

"We just do whatever they ask us to," said Watson. "Each one is unique with interesting things that happen."

"It has educated us on how to relate to people in care centers," said Watson.

Understanding Concussions

What is a concussion? A concussion is a type of traumatic brain injury that is caused by a blow to the head or body, a fall, or another injury that jars or shakes the brain inside the skull. Although there may be cuts or bruises on the head or face, there may be no other visible signs of a brain injury.

You don't have to pass out (lose consciousness) to have a concussion. Some people will have obvious symptoms of a concussion, such as passing out or forgetting what happened right before the injury. But other people won't. With rest, most people fully recover from a concussion. Some people recover within a few hours. Other people take a few weeks to recover.

It's important to know that after a concussion the brain is more sensitive to damage. So while you are recovering, be sure to avoid activities that might injure you again. In rare cases, concussions cause more serious problems. Repeated concussions or a severe concussion may lead to long-lasting problems with movement, learning, or speaking. Because of the small chance of serious problems, it is important to contact a doctor if you or someone you know has symptoms of a concussion.

What causes a concussion? Your brain is a soft organ that is surrounded by spinal fluid and protected by your hard skull. Normally, the fluid around your brain acts like a cushion that keeps your brain from banging into your skull. But if your head or your body is hit hard, your brain can crash into your skull and be injured.

There are many ways to get a concussion. Some common ways include fights, falls, playground injuries, car crashes, and bike accidents. Concussions can also happen while participating in any sport or activity such as football, boxing, hockey, soccer, skiing, or snowboarding.

What are the symptoms? It is not always easy to know if someone has a concussion. You don't have to pass out (lose consciousness) to have a concussion. Symptoms of a concussion range from mild to severe and can last for hours, days, weeks, or even months. If you notice any symptoms of a concussion, contact your healthcare provider.

To help protect young student athletes, the Nebraska's Concussion Awareness Act became effective July 1, 2012. It mandates concussion education for coaches, parents and players. It also sets rules of play for youth suspected of having a concussion, spelling out how coaches will handle suspected concussions and that young athletes are not allowed to return to play until written approval from an appropriate licensed healthcare professional and the youth's parent or guardian is obtained.

The new mandates are in place because concussions are serious business. If there is any indication that an athlete may have suffered a 'ding' or 'blow to the head,' it is imperative they be properly evaluated for a possible concussion to avoid any problems down the road. One of the best ways to deal with head injuries is to be prepared. Know the facts, and have an action plan ready.

Ground Breaking...

is estimated to be August of 2016.

Phase II of the project will be the renovation of the area where the rehab department is currently located. This area of the hospital will be remodeled into a modern kitchen and cafeteria. When finished, this new space will provide an inviting place for patients, visitors and employees to get something to eat or drink throughout the day. There will also be a meeting room located within the cafeteria to make it easier to provide catering services for meetings and events held in the hospital.

Phase III of the project will separate three key services Thayer County Health Services currently provides into their own space. These areas are: the Specialty Clinic which will be moved to where the kitchen and cafeteria are currently located, the Emergency Room will move across from the nurses' station and the Labor and Delivery room will become two Labor and Delivery suites for new Moms and their newborns. Separating these services means they will all gain more space to improve the care they provide to patients.

Phase IV will add an additional Operating Room to the hospital surgery center. This will allow physicians to have more flexibility and availability to perform surgeries at the hospital in Hebron. Patients can have more procedures done locally, which will reduce their travel time to receive care.

To assist in funding phase II, the kitchen and cafeteria remodel, the Foundation for Thayer County Health Services will be conducting a capital campaign, "Investing in Healthier Tomorrows." The goal set for the campaign is $1 million in gifts and pledges in support for the project. This fundraising effort will be used to reduce the amount of debt Thayer County Health Services will have to incur to fund the overall project.

For questions regarding the project or the capital campaign, call Rita Luongo, TCHS development director, at 402-768-4636 or email her at rluongo@tchsne.org.

Nebraska Timeline

BY THE NEBRASKA STATE HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Veterans' cemeteries in Nebraska

Fort McPherson National Cemetery near Maxwell, Nebraska, early twentieth century.

On August 13, 2010, the Nebraska Veterans' Cemetery at Alliance was dedicated. It occupies twenty acres once part of the World War II Alliance Army Air Field, which became operational in August 1942.

After the war, the government transferred the air field property to the city of Alliance for municipal airport use. The city donated land to the Nebraska Department of Veterans' Affairs for the Nebraska Veterans' Cemetery.

The first interment was made on January 21, 2011, and the cemetery has the capacity for some eight thousand burials. While the cemetery at Alliance is Nebraska's first state-operated veterans' cemetery, military cemeteries here date to the 1820s.

The first significant such cemetery was created by circumstance. During the winter of 1819-20 nearly eight hundred U.S. soldiers of the Rifle Regiment and the Sixth Infantry garrisoned Cantonment Missouri adjacent to the Missouri River north of today's Omaha.

Not only did the troops suffer from harsh winter weather in their primitive log quarters, an outbreak of scurvy decimated the garrison. Scurvy results from a deficiency of Vitamin C, but fruit and vegetables providing this dietary necessity could not be supplied or grown in this remote location during wintertime.

By March 1820 some 345 men had fallen sick and 100 had died. The death toll had risen to 160 by April 1. The dead were interred atop the bluff near where Fort Atkinson would be built that spring to replace Cantonment Missouri.

In 1827 the army abandoned Fort Atkinson, but the soldier dead remained, constituting an unofficial and unmarked military cemetery now on private property.

By the 1840s other military posts sprang up in the Nebraska country to protect the overland route to the West Coast, such as Fort Kearny on the Platte and Fort Laramie.

More forts came with the organization of Nebraska Territory in 1854 and statehood in 1867: Fort McPherson, Fort Robinson, Fort Hartsuff, Fort Sidney, Fort Omaha, and Fort Niobrara, along with smaller cantonments such as Camp Sheridan. Posts large and small had cemeteries for the burial of deceased soldiers and dependants.

In 1873 the post cemetery at Fort McPherson in Nebraska's central Platte Valley was designated as a twenty-acre national cemetery. Although the army closed the fort in 1880, the national cemetery remained and continues in service today.

As other Nebraska army posts and those in adjacent states were closed, the burials in their post cemeteries were relocated to the Fort McPherson National Cemetery. They include twenty-eight enlisted men killed by Indians near Fort Laramie in 1854 during the so-called Grattan fight and sixty-three "buffalo soldiers" of the black Ninth and Tenth U.S. Cavalry who served at Fort Robinson.

The cemetery includes veterans of the Civil War, the war with Spain, World Wars I and II, Korea, and Vietnam. Four soldiers interred there received the Medal of Honor.

Recently the U.S. Veterans Administration announced that a new National Cemetery will be built in Sarpy County. It will be known as the Omaha National Cemetery and is projected to occupy thirty-five acres. Its completion will give Nebraska two national cemeteries, along with the Nebraska Veterans' Cemetery at Alliance.

Veterans from the Civil War to the present, who chose to be buried in the communities in which they lived, lie in nearly every cemetery across the state.

Thayer County Historical Society News

The Thayer County Historical Society met on Wednesday evening, July 29, at 7:30 p.m., with sixteen members present.

President Bob Reinke opened the meeting and Lori Kuhlman read the minutes of the June meeting. Lois Pedersen gave the financial report.

Curator Jackie Williamson reported on several items from the curators list. Meg Harms has been bringing in a number of items from her mother, and there have been a large number of visitors this summer.

The roof on the Business building (formerly the Ag building) has been repaired and the group discussed adding a pole building for the very old machinery to get it all out of the weather. A 1938 Allis cc tractor has been added to the stock.

Jackie said that Todd Williams has painted a picture of the mother of Hebron's founder from 150 years ago.

It was reported that John Carter, one of Nebraska's great historians, has passed away.

He spoke at the dedication of the Big Red Barn and the Barn Again program several years ago.

A long discussion was held on plans for the Fall Festival, the date of which has been changed from the first Sunday in October to September 27. This change will prevent overlapping of the Trail of Treasures and other church activities.

Lori reported that she has received confirmation from a large number of vendors that have replied they are coming to the Fall Festival. Bob has a group of Civil War actors coming, too. Local clubs will be having items for sale and there will be the usual Big Sunday Dinner served by the Woman's Club with help from the Historical Society. There will also be musical events.

Due to miscommunication, two people brought chocolate chip cookies and ice cream to the meeting. Nobody complained.

Wiedel family reunion held

Approximately 150 descendants of Stephan and Kathryn (Stutz) Wiedel met in Hebron the weekend of July 25-26. They traveled to Hebron from several states including Maryland, Colorado, California, Arizona, Virginia, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska.

On Saturday morning, a few teams enjoyed golfing at the Hebron Country Club. Following the noon meal, guests had the opportunity to visit and share photos, as well as participate in games, including a water balloon toss and a bubble blowing contest. Children were also encouraged to create an art project.

Ventriloquist Nick Levendofsky entertained the group following the Saturday evening meal that was catered by Bubba's. Tommy Wiedel from Corning, Calif., shared some cowboy poetry and Jim McKenzie sang. Alan Wiedel served as emcee for the evening.

On Sunday morning, several family members joined the Sacred Heart Choir during Mass which was celebrated by Father Rudy Oborny. Following Mass, family photos were taken on the church steps. The noon meal was catered by Ricky's.

Following the noon meal, several people were recognized. Awards given were for traveling the shortest distance (Gary Wiedel from 4th Street and Duffield Ave.) and the longest distance (Tommy Wiedel from Corning, Calif.)

The oldest person attending was Ed Wiedel, who also won the most joint replacement award. The youngest award was given to the twins of Noah and Kelsey Wiedel, named Isla and Sean. Samuel Paul Wiedel was born May 20, 2015, and was the youngest person to attend the reunion. Samuel is the son of Erik and Meghan Wiedel of Lincoln, who could only attend on Saturday.

The crowd sang "Happy Birthday" to Cory Wiedel. Ed and Norma Wiedel were married 66 years, earning that award.

Pat Kenner served as the emcee on Sunday. It was the consensus of the group to hold the next reunion in five years.

Marilyn Templin

Marilyn Kay Templin of Hebron was born on September 23, 1938, in Haddam, Kan., to Charles Lafatte and Dorothy
C. (Clark) Jones. She departed
this life on Tuesday, July 21,
2015, at Thayer County Health

blessed with three daughters and one son.

Marilyn enjoyed being busy. She worked at Stewart
Pharmacy, Ortino's Pizzeria,

Ultramarathon runner...

Former Marine, Tony Clark, who hails from the Wichita, Kan., area, ran from Chester to Oklahoma one weekend in Sept. 2010. Tony made that run and many others since then to raise money for Wounded Warriors. (Picture is of Tony in 2010 in Chester.)

Last week he completed the Ultramarathon Badwater race of 135 miles, which took place in California. He and 99 others raced from Death Valley to the bottom of Mt. Whitney. This was his third and final time to run this race, which is as grueling as it sounds. It was 114 degrees at Death Valley when he was there. Very specialized training goes into a venture such as this. Tony had a crew of four who follow him every moment and give him what he needs, such as nutrition specifically for hydration. In one 18-mile stretch the land goes from sea level to 6,000 feet.

Part of this type of run includes little cat naps for the runner. At one point in this race, Tony was having trouble and he told the crew to call his wife, Angel, who is a registered nurse. Angel told them he must take at least a 30-minute nap. After he did that, he was able to continue on to the finish.

Tony said this would be his last Badwater race because he wants to be able to have more time for a summer vacation with his wife and young son. Tony ran this race in support of veterans battling suicide and raised $12,000 for the cause.

Gunfire in the Courtroom

During a March 1925 trial in district court in Omaha, gunfire broke out. The March 28, 1925, Omaha World-Herald told the story:

"Frank Tamborana, who in District Judge [Charles A.] Goss' court Thursday drew a gun, discharged it repeatedly, and was only prevented from continuing to do so by the quick wit and prompt action of Bailiff Charles Johnson, who succeeded in wresting the weapon from him, was still at large Friday morning.

"It was during the trial of Tony Penessi, charged with conspiracy to murder Angelo Tamborana—that young Tamborana drew his weapon and discharged it. Spectators were dumfounded at such an act, the jury was dismissed temporarily, and Judge Goss repeated his warning of six weeks ago that persons found in the courtroom with firearms would be jailed.

"Daring representatives of the press Friday went to the home to ask the young man about his act of violence in a court of law. Ferocious dogs greeted the visitors, and there was some hostility on the part of the residents. 'He is not here,' said the mother. 'He will not see you. We don't want this to get in the newspapers.'

"Through mutual friends it was finally made plain to the mother that no harm was to be done to her son—and she explained, 'My boy has vowed repeatedly that he will protect his father from his enemies and myself, and his little sister,' she said. 'Only last night he slept with the gun on his pillow so as to be ready if anyone came to the house to harm us. I don't believe he will talk to you, but I will get him.'

"Shortly afterward Frank Tamborana drove up to the house and while he refused to comment on his actions Thursday, he consented to pose for a picture. The gun which he used in court is an automatic. He is carrying it in his hand most of the time and if enemies come to the Tamborana home there is likely to be something popping.

"Frank is three years old; the gun he packs was purchased for him Thursday by his mother at a 10-cent store following his wails 'for a baby gun.' It was the baby gun discharged in district court that caused all the commotion and it is this gun that Frank carries as he patrols the neighborhood to protect his family from anyone who might harm them.

"In baby talk he has made it plain that should anyone try to hurt his papa again, or treat his mamma mean, or if his papa spansks little sister Rosie, he is prepared to battle for the right. It is the opinion of court officials that no further action will be taken against Frank Tamborana unless in protecting his family he violates traffic regulations by driving his kiddie car in excess of the speed limit."

Accompanying the article was a photograph of Frank on his kiddie car holding his toy gun.

Belvidere

Thirty-eight descendants of the Dill family gathered at Westgate Branson Lakes Resort at Table Rock Lake on July 25-28 for their tri-annual family reunion. Attendees came from: Nebraska, Kansas, Arizona, California, Texas, Oklahoma and Illinois.

The Jo Dill Messman family welcomed everyone with a pizza party and swimming upon arrival. A birthday celebration was held for the July birthday relatives serving cake and ice cream soup.

The Carol Dill Lehmkuhl family schooled the rookies about wind swimming upon arrival. They also schooled the rookies with a game called Arriba.

Fun on the lake was provided by the Barbara Dill Beechner family while another group enjoyed their tri-annual golfing tournament.

The next day a catered dinner was shared by all and later in the evening everyone participated in a memorial event for Jack Dill Sr. (1925-2014), with a special recollection from Jean Dill Anderson.

The final day, sixteen (including Arlys Dill) braved a mammoth zip line that reached exhilarating speeds at nearly 150 feet off the ground. Meanwhile a smaller group walked the hiking trail below to watch the daring high-flyers. This last night, all branches of the family assembled for potluck and togetherness before bidding farewell until 2018.

Tuesday of last week there were several visitors to the Whistle Stop Train Station. They were Ed and Norma Wiedel, Gen Dvorak, and Don and Jeannette Dutcher. They had all attended the Wiedel Reunion earlier in the week.

The train station and "Teresa's Memorial Garden" continue to attract visitors nearly every day. The flowers are blooming and the addition of a bench and bird houses make it especially attractive. Visitors are welcome and perhaps they will see the friendly robin who oversees the project daily.

Saturday, Paula McGinness accompanied Alexis and Parker Nutsch on a little trip to Kansas. They had lunch at Scandia and then went on to Courtland to a Farmer's Market and to do some sight-seeing.

On Saturday, Ruth Yoachim attended little Eleanor White's first birthday party. She is the daughter of Michael and Katherine White.

A group of 21 ladies visited the museum Saturday afternoon. They are a group from the Nebraska Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church, who go to one place each year to help out for two days. They helped at the Blue Valley Nursing Home by playing bingo with residents, pulling weeds and various other chores. They were very impressed with the museum even though they had a hot day for their visit. They ate at Belvidere on Saturday evening and then Grace Lutheran Women served lunch at another time.

Russ and Bonnie Priefert went to Alma on Sunday to attend a wedding. The bridal couple were William Ryen and Chelsea McKenzie. William's mother, Marcie Ryen, was a very good friend of the late Teresa Priefert Demma. Pete and Rubie Demma also attended.

There were several guests at the United Church of Christ on Sunday. One of them, Brett Dunker, grandson of Kim and Jim Dunker, played a special number on the piano during the service. Everyone enjoyed his performance very much. Linda Dudgeon, Ila Currey and Audrey Else provided doughnuts, juice and coffee for the congregation following the church service on Sunday.

On Wednesday, Gerry Eckles accompanied Lorrell Peterson to Lincoln to visit Sondra Peterson in the hospital after surgery. Gerry was among the Nelson Rubies that went to D&D's for supper Thursday evening.

Friday night, Dick Lowery, Pat Brusseau and Ashley went to the home of Cloma Corman and Dean Blain for supper. They were joined by Sharon Anderson and granddaughter, McKenzie, Craig Lowery and grandson, Braden, Vickie Anderson and Mike Blain.

Eight ladies from the First Community Church went to Hastings on Saturday for a "Ladies Day Out." They began with breakfast at Perkins, then went to The Plum Nelly and other shops. They made their choice of jewelry and other fun things for a very enjoyable day.

Donna Gillan visited Donna Fishel who was back in Nelson visiting Saturday evening. On Sunday, the Nelson group of ladies went to Lawrence for dinner, and later had coffee at the C-Store, along with Donna Fishel.
