Joe Philippi, Matt Gerdes, Cory Voss and Tony Norder watch the other side of the table during the hot dog eating contest Saturday evening as part of Bruning Days' festivities. Contestants had to eat six dogs in six minutes for the champion belt and a $50 gift certificate to Bruning Grocery, the event sponsor.

Fire hall opens bays for Bruning

Bruning Fire and Rescue opened its new building to the public for Bruning Days.

The 60 by 120-square foot building at the corner of East Main and North Fillmore streets was finished about a month ago.

About 80 to 90 donors contributed to build the fire station that has three bays on East Main Street and one on North Fillmore.

The $1.2 million project was finished for just under $700,000, which took the edge off taxpayers, Leroy Voss of the Bruning Rural Fire District No. 3, said.

The building's facade is accented by a donated statue of a fire fighter made out of cement.

Voss said the station has attracted new volunteers and emergency medical technicians to cover the Bruning Fire

Search for missing man ends well

By Nancy McGill

Close to 100 people searched for Kent Tietjen, who went missing July 26 at sometime before 4 a.m., as his wife woke up and noticed he wasn't there, which may not have been unusual — Tietjen, 63, of rural Byron, has medical problems and sometimes, he can't sleep, Byron Fire Chief, Kenny Poppe said.

But Tietjen, who was located that night at 10:25 p.m., on the farm property of Mike Hoops, didn't return from his drive, and family members called Thayer County Sheriff David Lee after they found his vehicle in a ditch on Roads 5100 and E.

Lee then called for local fire rescue volunteers on the ground and the Nebraska State Patrol for aviation support in the air, which was unavailable at the time.

Lee contacted Kevin Mitchell of RotorWings Aviation, who, with Lee, scoured cornfields for about 90 minutes.

Mitchell said they identified a grid pattern and searched for movements in the corn.

"Luckily, it doesn't happen often," Lee said. "It's a scary situation, even in a helicopter. I had a hard time seeing into the crops. It was tough to spot a deer."

Lee also had to establish a command post. Richard and Leah Krotz volunteered their yard.

"We were thankful for that," Lee said. I was amazed at the volunteers and how quickly everyone responded."

Amazed, but not surprised.

"That's just how it is in small towns. They come when you call," Lee said.

He said members of the volunteer fire departments in Byron, Hubbell, Deshler, Chester and Hebron responded, along with Ruskin and Hardy. Joining in the search were approximately 70 people, who came with four-wheeled and personal vehicles. More volunteers brought water to the searchers. Thayer County Emergency Management provided support.

The state patrol was able to conduct a second search in the air.

At one point, Lee said it was necessary to issue an "Endangered Missing Advisory" through the Volunteers and agencies gathered at Roads 5100 and E near Byron to search for Kent Tietjen, who was missing for most of the day July 26. Tietjen was located at 10:25 p.m.

School begins Aug. 15

By Nancy McGill

The Thayer Central Board of Education is finalizing its review of policies for the 2018-2019 academic year, which begins Aug. 15.

The board also approved raises in meal prices according to state guidelines. Kindergarten through fifth grade students will pay $2.75 for lunch. Grade six through 12 will be charged $3. The adult price was raised to $3.55.

Breakfast for students in all grades is $1.90.

Parents will now be able to pay for lunches with credit cards via e-Funds. The district has decided to split the extra fees with parents — both parents and the district will chip in $1.50 each.

The district is hoping the new method will reduce the number of delinquent accounts.

In other business, middle school participation at activities may have been higher last year since the district chose to eliminate activity passes for students.

Superintendent Drew Harris said the goal was to encourage future participation and learn from role models.

"I think attendance from youth was better this past year," Harris said.

Another plus for parents are the middle school athletics practices during the last two periods of the day. For about 90 minutes, middle school students can practice and still catch the bus.

"It saved parents a lot of headaches," Harris said about last year.

If the students try sports for the set three-week schedule and decide they do not want to participate, they take a physical education class instead.

Harris noted the overall participation in lifting weights was good over the summer, and more female athletes took advantage of the room.

"Building strength is very important for athletics," Harris said.

Fall sports practice begins Aug. 6.

Regarding the after school program, the district has found someone for the position. The program operates five days a week until 5:30 p.m. On average, 15 to 17 students attend each day.

Elementary principal, Kurk Wiedel, said Brenda Rippe did a great job with the program and made it hands-on.

A new middle and high school teacher, Halie Meints, is scheduled to join the Thayer Central team. Meints previously taught in western Nebraska and will begin her third year of teaching this year.

Improvements over the summer included renovating the floor around the basketball court and a new floor, tables and chairs in the cafeteria, which was also painted.

In addition, several classrooms were remodeled.

Over at Deshler Public Schools, new student registration was scheduled for Aug. 2 from 8 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. A school counselor is available to assist parents.

Deshler's open house is Aug. 9 from 5 to 7 p.m. with hamburgers and hot dogs provided by the Lions Club.

Middle and high school students and parents will attend a computer meeting during the open house. School begins Aug. 13.

School begins Aug. 15 for Bruning-Davenport with an early dismissal at 1 p.m.

An open house for preschool through fifth grade will be held Aug. 14 from 6 to 8 p.m.

Mr. John G. Deshler of Columbus, Ohio, is here looking after his extensive real estate interest in this county.

Belvidere: Will Smith, Louis Christy, Maud Christy, Linda James and Miss Barlow united with the Christian Church and were baptized last Sunday...There is some talk of organizing a G.A.R. post here in a short time. Excitement is on the decline...The farmers are very busy just now cultivating their corn.

Dr. C. M. Easton was a heavy loser this week, having shot both horses of his fine carriage team. Sometime since the doctor noticed symptoms of glanders, and as a good citizen, notified the State Veterinary Surgeon. The latter came yesterday, and on examination, found that both horses had the glanders. They were at once taken out and shot. The doctor has the sympathy of all in his loss.

Stoddard: The citizens of Stoddard and vicinity have sent in a petition for a new depot...Lt. E. D. Schott, son of A. B. Schott, who graduated at West Point last week, is home visiting his parents and waiting for orders. Lt. Schott is ready to go to the front to help avenge the loss of the Maine.

Belvidere: Mr. Hill, near Pleasant Plain, was buried Tuesday...Uncle Tom's Cabin did not have a tent show on account of the wind and rain, so they repaired to Burruss' hall. There was not a large attendance.

Chester: Work on the foundation of Brown & Ducey's new elevator began Wednesday and will be pushed to a speedy completion...Mrs. Martha Wickes Abbott died at the home of her brother-in-law, Henry Hulbert, on June 1, 1898, aged 40 years, 2 months and 27 days. She, with her husband was on her way from Adair County, Iowa, to Colorado, seeking relief from that dread disease, consumption, and stopped off here to visit relatives.

She leaves a husband and four children...Dr. Spohn of Chester, Dr. Johnson of Fairbury, and Dr. Hanneger of Belleville, met at the home of J. R. Huckins, three miles south of town last Saturday to operate upon Mrs. Huckins. The lady has been suffering severely from sciatic rheumatism. The operation was a difficult one and somewhat dangerous, but the lady stood the shock very well, and with no drawback will soon be all right...Ned Fabrique, son of our popular druggist, M. D. Fabrique, surprised his many friends on last Sunday evening, by appearing at church with a wife, in the person of Miss Nannie Hayes, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. E. G. Brown just before the evening service.

Davenport: Dr. D. F. Anderson of Edgar was called to see Edna Boggs, Tuesday, in consultation with Dr. Stutzman...Michael Cruise and family arrived in Davenport, Sunday morning from the Cripple Creek mining district, where they have been living for some time. Mr. Cruise reports everything very quiet out there and said that they will now make their home in Thayer county...Harry Welch and Jay Weaver started Tuesday to find some place where they could enlist to fight Spaniards...It is with regret that we learn of the serious illness of Mrs. H. M. Eaton, of Fremont. We understand that she had gone to Omaha to have an operation performed and that Dr. Snowden accompanied. -- Later: As we go to press the sad news comes to us that Mrs. Eaton is dead and will be taken to Fremont today for burial.

Suffering from that dreaded disease, "shortenditis," which is caused by being on the short end of several games in a row, the Hebron ball club is being doctored by Manager Stewart this week in an effort to recover from the malady. The condition of the local ball club was sorely agonized last Sunday when a 12-5 decision was dropped to the Belvidere nine.

The Tennis Club now has a membership of 15 with Harvey Hess as president. The club urges all tennis enthusiasts to join the club as money is needed to care for the courts. Hebron has one of the best courts in southeastern Nebraska.

A WPA allotment of $8,000 has been granted for the purpose of deepening the lakes and fixing up the state park at Alexandria.

O. M. and K. O. Butler were out this week with samples of a new drink they now have available for the public. It is called "48 Fruit Cocktail." The product has a rich fruit flavor and should prove to be a popular favorite before the summer is over.

Work has been done making a level strip of farm land on the Elmer Vortman farm available as a landing field for privately owned planes. This farm is two miles south of town. A recreation field has also been constructed. Mr. Vortman is to be congratulated for his spirit of friendliness and generosity of leaving 50 acres of his farm for the use of the general public.

At the Ray Forrell farm two miles south of Hebron on Highway 81 is the field chosen for the terracing demonstration on July 22. The purpose of the show is to demonstrate how terraces are constructed. At 2 p.m., Herman Hoffmeyer of Deshler will demonstrate the use of a moldboard plow in the building of terraces. At 3 p.m. all types of equipment will start to work on their respective terraces. In addition to the moldboard plow will be disc plows, disc tillers, one-way plows, disc terracers. Many people are of the opinion that to build terraces big earth-moving equipment is needed. At the demonstration, it will be shown that terraces can be built with equipment on every farm. Terracing is only one of the many practices which should be followed on almost every farm in Thayer County.

Thayer County held its annual Relay for Life walk-a-thon overnight Friday, Aug. 1, at the Thayer Central Community Schools track. As walkers circled the track, numbers added up in a big way. The annual fundraiser brought in $59,335 while 1,525 luminaries lighted a guiding path around the circuit, and 20 teams made up of up to 15 strollers completed the sundown to sun-up course. In the tradition of Relay for Life manner, 109 of 131 registered cancer survivors kicked off the event with the "survivor lap" at 6 p.m. Two teams raised more than $5,000 including the Hope Walkers and the Victory Walkers. Fifteen individuals raised over $1,000 with Virginia Brase of Davenport topping the list while Kimberly Fayle of Deshler sold the most luminaries. The best decorated camp site winner was the Cowboy Up team.

John Bernadt, retired teacher and girls' basketball coach from Hebron recently spent two months this summer instructing basketball skills, strategies, and practice routines to young and upcoming basketball players. Nearly 40 girls joined Bernadt each Monday, Wednesday and Friday morning in June and July to play and practice the team sport.

Accident report

July 15, 3:45 p.m. — Margaret Cool, 64, of Geneva, was driving a 2013 Dodge Ram pickup and pulling a camper trailer when the trailer's wheels went off the road. Cool overcorrected and the trailer spun out of control, pulling the pickup with it into the ditch. The trailer rolled onto its side. No injuries were reported. Estimated damage was $3,000.

July 19, 8:05 p.m. — Michael Miller, 34, of Deshler, was driving a 2007 Chevrolet KTA west on Road H as Linda Peters, 64, of Deshler drove south on Road 5500 and they collided. Miller's vehicle spun out and came to a rest facing north. Peters' vehicle overturned and came to a rest on its roof.

There was a valley on both roads prior to the intersection, along with a corn field to the northeast, which obstructed oncoming traffic to both drivers. No traffic controls were at the intersection.

No injuries were immediately reported. Both vehicles were declared totaled.

July 26, 11 a.m. — Earl Martin, 57, of Hebron, was backing out of angled parking on 4th Street in Hebron when he turned too soon and collided with Carol Mammen's vehicle. Mammen was parked next to Martin.

Martin was driving a 2003 Honda Odyssey minivan that was estimated with $500 in damages. Mammen's vehicle, a 1997 Mercury Marquis had $1,000 in damages.

Child Vehicular Heatstroke

In 2017, 43 children died from being left alone in a hot car. Already this year there have been 29 confirmed child vehicular heatstroke deaths in the United States. 2018 is on track to be the deadliest year for hot car deaths in U.S. history.

The biggest mistake parents can make is thinking this can't happen to them. We are all creatures of habit and often stress, fatigue or unexpected changes to our routine can cause our mind to be distracted. Anyone transporting a young child should use some type of reminder to make sure this tragedy never happens to them.

Technology is even getting involved in developing reminders. There are now apps that can be set up to give you a reminder, vehicles that give you a backseat warning when turned off and some car seats will emit a sound when a vehicle's ignition is turned off.

Parents and caregivers need to be extra vigilant during any changes in their daily routine. When routines change is when most of these tragedies occur. For those of us that may not have these technology options, Safe Kids has developed ACT to help reduce the number of heatstroke deaths and near misses.

A: Avoid heatstroke-related injury and death by never leaving your child alone in a car, not even for a minute. And make sure to keep your car locked when you're not in it so kids can't get in it on their own.

C: Create reminders:
· Make it a routine to open the back door of your car every time you park to check that no one has been left behind. Some parents have made it a habit to always walk around their car when they get out.

· Put something in the back seat to remind you to open the back door every time you park; cell phone, handbag, briefcase, etc.

· Keep a stuff toy in the car seat. When you put the child in the seat, move the stuffed toy to the front seat as a reminder you have a child in the back seat.

· Ask your babysitter or child care provider to call if your child hasn't arrived on schedule.

T: Take action. If you see a child alone in a car, call 911. Emergency personnel want you to call. They are trained to respond to these situations. One call could save a life.

It doesn't have to be the middle of the summer for a child to overheat when left in a car. Even with seemingly mild temperatures outside, the temperatures inside a car can rise 20 degrees in only 10 minutes. A child's body heats up three to five times faster than an adult's, making them more susceptible to heatstroke.

Thayer County Health Services knows we are all human and creatures of habit. By setting up reminders in our daily routines, we can help protect our most precious cargo from one of these tragedies.

Obituaries

Marlyn Huber

Marlyn F. Huber, 94 years, passed away July 9, 2018, at home in Buford, Ga., formerly from Bruning. He was born to Wilber and Beulah (Carpenter) Huber, December 9, 1923, near Williams.

He attended rural schools around Hubbell. He graduated from Alexandria High School in 1941. Marlyn was inducted into the Army, May 1943 at Fort Crook. His tour of service during WWII was in the South Pacific. He was one of the 122 men of the Midwest states that made up the 421st Engineer Dump Truck Company that were stationed in Guadalcanal, Luzon of the Philippine Island, and Occupation Forces in Japan.

Marlyn was awarded the Asiatic Pacific Ribbon with one Battle Star, Philippine Liberation Ribbon, American Theatre Service Medal and World War II Victory Medal. He was discharged January 9, 1946, from Fort Logan, Colorado.

While stationed in Tacoma, Washington, Marlyn married Marie Maulik on July 27, 1943. Two daughters were born to this union, Deanna (Huber) Bauer and Debrah (Huber) Atcheson.

Marlyn worked as a superintendent for Olson Construction Company of Lincoln for 34 years, building churches, apartments, the Nebraska Historical Society building, northwest seating and press box on the UNL football stadium, banks and malls around Lincoln. His jobs took him to Beatrice, Grand Island, Millard and Hallam. During this time, he also taught a blue print course for the University of Nebraska. For several years, he worked in South Dakota building the Veteran's Home in Sturgis and a church and other building at Ellsworth Air Force Base.

Marlyn's last five years of superintendent work was for Superior Industries building the Hormel Hog Processing Plant in Austin, Minnesota, and freezers in South Dakota, Minnesota, Arkansas and Maine.

Marlyn retired to their vacation home at Tuttle Creek in 1986. In 1988, Marlyn and his wife moved to Bruning, where he continued construction work, lawn service, snow removal, all around "Handy Man," and raised a big garden. In 2013, they moved to Buford, Ga., to be closer to daughters.

Marlyn designed and helped erect the Veteran's Monument at the Thayer County Courthouse in Hebron. He belonged to the Bruning Methodist Church, was a Life time member of both the American Legion and Veteran's Foreign War, and served on the Thayer County Veteran's Committee.

Marlyn enjoyed hunting with his three dogs, fishing, golfing, bowling, rock hunting and making jewelry, playing horseshoes, dancing, reading, and playing cribbage with the Bruning gang every afternoon. No matter what the topic was, it always reminded him of a good story to share.

He is preceded in death by his wife, Marie; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilber Huber; son-in-law, David Bauer; granddaughter, Anitra Vogel; and granddaughter-in-law, Kristi Vogel.

Marlyn is survived by his daughter, Deanna Bauer; daughter and husband, Debrah and Richard Atcheson of Buford, Ga.; grandchildren, Angela Earley of Slidell, La., Anson (Troy) Vogel of Hinton, Iowa, Kari Atcheson of Oregon, Ohio, Laura Atcheson of New Orleans, La.; great-granddaughters, Krystle Rosenberg, Alana Rae and Jessa Lee Earley of Slidell, La., Kayla Rosenberg of New Orleans, La., Shawna, Kendra and Erica Vogel of Woodbine, Iowa, Autumn Holzemer, Molly and Quinn Grehl of Oregon, Ohio. Besides his immediate family, he leaves several cousins, lots of acquaintances, and many friends.

Following Marlyn's wishes he was cremated.

Memorial services will be held August 6, at the United Methodist Church in Bruning, at 11 a.m. Officiant will be Pastor Martin Leeper and soloist will be Susan Kerl singing "Ivory Palaces" and "Softly And Tenderly."

Inurnment will be in the Belvidere Cemetery, with military honors by Bruning American Legion Posts.

Memorial in lieu of flowers are suggested to The Belvidere Woman's Club in care of Kroll Funeral Home 330 North 5th St. Hebron, NE 68370.

Condolences may be left at www.krollfh.com.

Kroll Funeral Home of Hebron is in charge of arrangements.

CPS is now Nutrien Ag Solutions...

This past Thursday, Crop Production Services (CPS) in Chester held a Customer Appreciation Day to announce their name change to Nutrien Ag Solutions. Manager Tom Tipton said that "All services will be the same, as well as the same great people." This is mostly a change in name only as Agrium, Inc. has owned CPS since 1993. Agrium and Potash Corporation have merged to form Nutrien. This move will bring all Nutrien's companies under the same banner.

The lunch was attended by over 50 people who enjoyed a fine meal of burgers, hot dogs, beans and sides. It gave everyone a chance to see the latest building on their site which is used for seed storage and seed treatment. Their new setup is fully automated and became active in April of this year.

DHHS Launches eWIC Benefits Card

The Nebraska Women, Infants & Children (WIC) public health nutrition program will begin offering families a new way to shop with WIC food benefits.

An electronic benefit transaction card will be phased in to replace paper checks between August and November 2018. Once implemented, 340 WIC authorized grocery stores and pharmacies in Nebraska will be able to accept the cards. During the transition, there may be a handful of stores that only take checks and will not continue to eWIC. Clients will be given a list of the stores in their area that take eWIC.

The electronic WIC (eWIC) card works similar to a debit card, except that the cardholder's account contains specific foods instead of a dollar amount. At the beginning of every month, specific food benefits are automatically deposited into the family's eWIC account, versus receiving separate checks for each family member. Every time a purchase of a WIC-approved food item is made, that item is subtracted from the family's monthly balance. When families shop, benefits that aren't used are available for the next trip to the grocery store, until the end of the month.

Moreover, the process of identifying correct foods and quantities at the register is automated through the scanner, and the purchase of WIC foods can be combined with other items at most stores. WIC purchases made at the retail stores are automatically submitted for payment, which is typically made within two days.

The pilot for eWIC ran from June 4 through July 31 of this year at East Central District Health Department in Columbus, which provides service at clinics in Columbus, Schuyler, Albion and Fullerton. Thirteen local pilot retailers were certified to accept eWIC cards. Approximately 600 families received an eWIC card during the pilot phase to purchase their food benefits.

A survey was designed to assess participant satisfaction with WIC services, including a before and after measure of eWIC. Once the eWIC card is available statewide, WIC families will be asked about their satisfaction with the new system through a follow-up WIC customer survey.

Titans to honor Hebron Bears at first home game

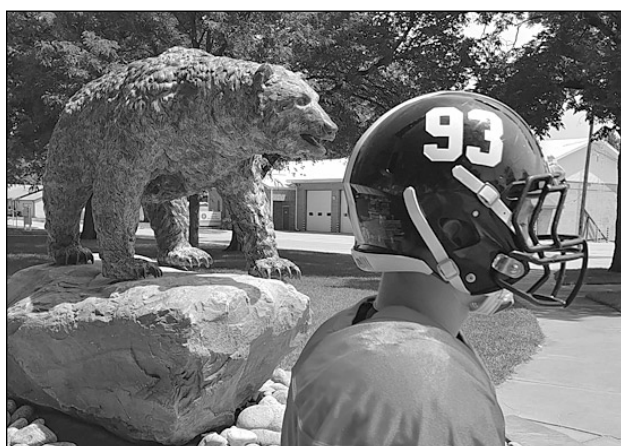

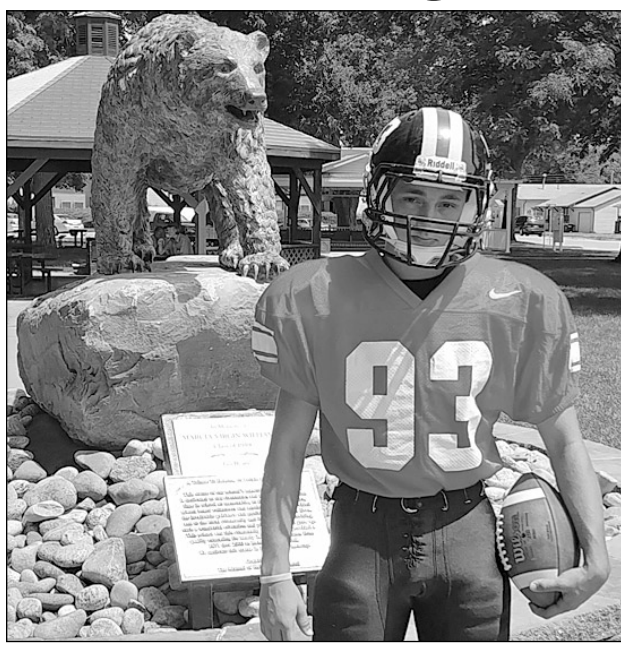

The Thayer Central Titans will honor the 25th anniversary of the Hebron Bears' 1993 Class C2 State runner-up season at the Titans' season opener Aug. 24 on the home field against Nebraska Christian.

"We will wear throwback uniforms for the game based on the 1993 Hebron uniform," head coach Jerome Jones said.

Players will wear a black helmet with a white/red/white stripe pattern and the players' numbers on the side. The jerseys were crafted to blend the 1993 design with a modern look. They are red with white numbers. The body of the jersey is mesh with three white stripes on the sleeves, giving it a familiar look of the old jerseys.

The 1993 team members have been invited to the game. They will carry the Titan shield and lead the current players onto the field.

"The Thayer Central Football program strongly believes in the importance of tradition and the belief that we play for those who came before us," Jones said. "We are very proud to honor the accomplishments of the 1993 team and all alumni who helped build Thayer Central Football into the program it is today," Jones said.

Senior Jarod Hergott models the throwback uniform that will honor the Hebron Bears at the Titans' first football game of the season Aug. 24.

Nebraska Community Foundation- It's about people, not jobs

For years, headlines across rural America looked bleak - job loss, population loss, and loss of critical financial resources due to what has been dubbed the "inter-generational transfer of wealth."

Pick up a newspaper or turn on the news today, however, and you're likely to notice a change in tone.

For instance, the Daily Yonder recently reported that "brain drain" is being countered by "brain gain." What small communities are losing in high school graduates, they're gaining in highly skilled and well-educated newcomers and returners.

And The Atlantic has noted a "reverse talent migration" taking young people to and back to smaller communities where the cost of living is low and the quality of life is high.

This is not to say that rural America and Greater Nebraska do not still face their fair share of challenges. Nebraska Community Foundation and its network of 1,700 volunteers are just one entity looking at innovative solutions to tackle some of rural America's most perplexing issues - access to quality childcare and health-care among them. But my colleagues and I can't help but notice the new brand of optimism that is taking shape across Greater Nebraska. Communities as large as Norfolk and as small as Byron are embracing change, leveraging local assets and forging their own path forward. People attraction is at the center of their efforts.

In the 21st century economy, we can live and work just about anywhere we want. So today, the community economic development question is not one of jobs. The better question is: Why here? Why do I want to live, work and raise my family in this community. It is imperative that we give young people good reason to stay or join us. People attraction should be our highest priority.

In so many places across the state, Nebraska's community leaders are succeeding at this. In fact, in 53 of our most rural counties, the population of 30- and 40-year-olds is on the rise. In many of these Nebraska hometowns, local philanthropy is fueling people attraction initiatives like arts and culture, recreation and early childhood development. It's also instilling local pride and giving local citizens the confidence to talk about what makes their communities so wonderful and invite others to be a part of them.

And we must never underestimate the power of invitation.

In my hometown of Red Cloud, a group of alumni are actively reaching out to their former classmates and inviting them back home. It's working. Danny and Valerie Bengé and their three young daughters are back in Red Cloud running the local grocery in part thanks to a little positive peer pressure.

And just ask Ross Tegeler why he returned to his hometown of Meadow Grove. He'll tell you it's because he was personally invited!

Invitation is a powerful tool that will help shape Greater Nebraska's future. It starts with the way we talk to our youngest citizens about the future. It means creating an optimistic and honorable brand for Greater Nebraska. And can we all agree, it means giving our high school graduates anything but luggage?

Jeff Yost is President and CEO of Nebraska Community Foundation. Feel free to contact him at jeffyost@nebcommfound.org.

Bruning...

It's been a nice asset for us," Voss said.

The new Bruning Fire and Rescue building opened its doors for the public during Bruning Days. Eighty to 90 donors contributed toward construction.

Blacksmith shop....and sand...

The race is on as Michael Zlab wants to see this blacksmith shop finished before the Museum's Fall Festival the last weekend in September. The concrete blocks are heavy, the heat at times has been a factor and the volunteer help is sparse. The best thing going is the abundance of sand for the cement is plentiful. Just one mile out of Belvidere is enough sand to build thousands of shops. Whoever named the Big Sandy Creek had the right idea. Do you think anyone in these parts go to a big box store for a bag of fine sand for the child's sand box? Just wish it were diamonds they were pumping.

Search...

state on Tietjen because of medical concerns.

Unfortunately, the search was unsuccessful, Lee said. Then, around 9 p.m., Poppe said they found tracks on a pivot road they had previously searched.

Lee had made a tough call he didn't like about an hour earlier to suspend the search because daylight was fading.

"Someone called and they had found footprints.

The guys headed back out," Poppe, who used to work for Tietjen, said. "They kept the scene clear of scent because they were going to bring the dogs in." An NSP canine unit was on standby earlier that day and a second unit was set to search at 10 p.m., but Tietjen was found.

"He went west and cut through the fields," Poppe said about Tietjen, who is sometimes confused because of the medical problems. "I don't know if he fell asleep."

Lee said Tietjen was found near an outbuilding.

He was in rough shape, Poppe said.

"He was tore up and bare-foot. He was covered in mud and kind of dehydrated," Poppe said.

Chester Rescue transported Tietjen to an area hospital, where he was under observation.

Kevin Mitchell of RotorWings Aviation and Thayer County Sheriff David Lee searched from above to try and locate Tietjen. The Nebraska State Patrol performed a secondary search.
