Heath Calvert is the son of Brian and Raegan Calvert of Ohio. He has two brothers, Auston and Caleb.

Heath is involved in football and drama at B-D USD. He likes to rodeo in his spare time.

His favorite food is Chinese, his favorite TV show is "The Rookie," his favorite song is "Lucid Dreams" and his favorite place to go to be alone is the arena.

The most influential people in his life have been his parents, "because they are always there for me when I need them," says Heath.

Heath Calvert

Heath plans to attend Chadron State College and plans to become a chiropractor.

By Phyllis Schmitt

A potluck dinner was held at the First Community Church on Sunday after taking down the Christmas decorations.

Phyllis Schmitt and Gerry Eckles played cards in Nelson last Tuesday. It was the birthday party hosted by Phyllis and Muriel Follmer for their January birthdays.

Lola Biltoft was a Thursday coffee guest of Phyllis Schmitt.

On Friday, Phyllis Schmitt attended the visitation for Russ Genung at the funeral home in Deshler.

Donna Gillan joined others for quilting last Monday. On Tuesday, Donna attended Tai Chi and also again on Thursday as well as coffee.

Wednesday, Donna Gillan and Terri Oltmans went to Grand Island. They ate at Napoli's and came back through Hastings.

On Sunday, the Community United Church of Christ in Nelson had their church board meeting and a brunch following.

Lorrell Peterson came on Saturday and cleaned the snow out of Phil and Gerry Eckles' driveway and did some scooping. He had two of his grandchildren, Kynlee and Easton, with him so they could play in the snow.

Trish Rasmussen visited Phil and Gerry Eckles Sunday morning.

Gaylen Cox had hip surgery last Monday in Geneva. Since then several family members and various friends have visited in the Cox home.

Red Cross blood drive

The Jan 8 American Red Cross blood drive in Hebron fell just short of its 74 units goal.

Thanks to the healthy donors and several walk-ins, we finished with 68 units.

The day of the drive, approximately eight donors called to cancel with the flu. There were also nine deferrals that day.

The next drive is March 5. Folks wishing to schedule early can call Linda Burd at 402-768-8125.

Chester Community Fund...

Members of the Chester Community Fund Advisory Committee met on Wednesday last week to discuss the upcoming Community Vision Meeting on January 23. The Vision Meeting's goal is to hear from the community about their ideas and goals for Chester, both short term and long term. The meeting will be hosted by members of the Nebraska Community Fund and will include guest speakers from other towns who have succeeded with Community Funds. The Vision Meeting will be held in the Chester Auditorium, January 23, at 6:30pm. Child care and refreshments will be available.

Effenbeck named to Dean's list

College of Saint Mary has announced the exceptional achievements of students with the release of the Dean's List for the Fall 2018 Semester. In total, 352 students were named to the honorary list.

Among those achieving this honor was Brigett Effenbeck of Deshler. She is a freshman studying for her Bachelor of Science in Human Biology.

"This is a tremendous honor and a testament to the hard work and dedication these students put forth throughout the semester," said College of Saint Mary President Dr. Maryanne Stevens, RSM. "Each individual on this list has displayed excellence in the classroom, while growing in character and developing lifelong leadership skills."

To qualify for the College of Saint Mary Dean's List, students must earn a GPA of 3.5 or higher after completing at least 12 semester hours as a full-time student.

The face of Extension

The face of Extension as we know it today is very different than it used to be. Although we still do many of the things we have always done, the make-up of our offices have changed. Extension currently has several regions throughout the state, which are broken down into units.

Our unit, which covers Thayer and Nuckolls County, is known as Southern Plains Extension. In the past, each county would generally have an Ag Agent, a Home Economics Agent, and a 4-H Agent.

Over the last three to five years, this model has slowly changed. Under the new model (which is around three years old), Units are served by Educators (what were formally known as 'Agents') stationed in neighboring counties who cover a specific multi-county region. Educators tend to be specialized in their training and programming more than under the older model.

Our offices here in Hebron and Nelson host many Educators responsible for engaging around the needs of our communities. Our Unit Leader is Jason Weigle, who is the "Community Vitality" educator. He and his family moved to Hebron from Pennsylvania about a year ago. Jason resides in the Thayer County Office.

Leanne Manning, specializing in "The Learning Child," calls the Saline County Office home; Mariah Morgan, imparts her knowledge in "Food, Nutrition and Health." Mariah shares her experience with us from the Hamilton County Office; Michael Sindelar, gives us guidance in "Innovative Cropping & Water Systems." He hangs his shingle in the Clay County Office; Nicole Stoner, is specializing in "Community Environment, is a Certified Arborist." Nicole resides from the Gage County Office; Brad Schick, brings his experience in "Beef Systems," calling Webster County Home.

We also have a number of county paid staff who support our engagement efforts. Kaye Mussman, our part time 4-H Aide, is based in the Thayer County Office and is responsible for School Enrichment and 4-H in Thayer County. Tammy Johnson is our office administrator in Thayer County and Jean Stichka is the office administrator for Nuckolls County. Both keep the offices running and assist with programming on a regular basis.

Each of the Educators listed above are responsible for six to ten counties (except for the 4-H Educator who covers Thayer and Nuckolls Counties), imparting their specialized knowledge to all. Because of the wonders of technology, we are able to access their assistance at nearly any time, regardless of their physical presence.

We will be highlighting each of the Educators and staff serving our Unit in upcoming articles. This will give you some idea of the wealth of knowledge and experience available to our counties. Please feel free to give the office a call to get in touch with them. They travel and are able to set up events for us in our area. Let them know how they may help.

The Unit currently has an opening for a 4-H Educator and will soon be posting positions for a 4-H Assistant and a part-time Nuckolls County 4-H Aide. Once these three positions are filled, our completed team should be fully staffed. If you or someone you know are interested in applying for any of these positions, more information may be found at <https://employment.unl.edu>.

This week's Feature we will be meeting Jason Weigle.

We would also like to introduce you to Mariah

Morgan.

On the Radar:

Chemigation Training: January 18 at Davenport, with Steve Melvin.

You've Got to Move it! Move It! Keeping Kids Moving & Healthy: January 15 at Geneva, with Leanne Manning.

Pesticide Training: January 22 at Davenport and February 6 at Hebron, with Michael Sindelar.

4-H Registration: Ongoing at "4-H Online" for the 2019 Season, call office if you need help.

4-H Workshops: Ongoing, See 4-H newsletter, call the office, or check us out on Facebook.

4-H Beef Weigh-Ins: January 12 and February 2. See 4-H newsletter for details.

Tips and Tidbits:

It is less than 65 days until SPRING! (March 20th) Now is a good time to look through your seed catalogs and plan your gardens. Look for something fun and new to try this year. It's great for your gardening spirit, and helps shoe away the winter blues.

We are excited to be rolling out this new column. As always, we are still located at 225 N. 4th, in the basement of the Courthouse. You may reach us by phone at 402-768-7212. Like us on Facebook @ SouthernPlainsExtension.

Each week, we would like to introduce you to a couple of the specialists serving this area. Once we make introductions and get rolling, we will have featured articles, tips, advice and upcoming events. We hope that you enjoy this look at Extension through "Teamwork Works!"

Jason Weigle

My name is Jason Weigle, and I'm a Community Vitality Educator for ten counties across southcentral Nebraska and the Unit Leader for Thayer and Nuckolls County. My family and I moved to Hebron at the end of 2017.

Born and raised in rural Pennsylvania, my work, teaching, and research over the last 20 years has focused around community and environment in rural places. I served as Watershed Specialist with the Tioga County Conservation District in northcentral Pennsylvania, where I provided educational programming, research, and monitoring related to water quality and quantity, stream stability, nutrient management, and dairy herd management.

I worked for the State of Alaska Department of Environmental Conservation, where I permitted and inspected landfills before becoming State Project Manager for the Navy's remediation of the former Adak Naval Air Station in the Aleutian Islands as well as statewide munitions response program advisor.

My work experience lead me back to graduate school, where both my master's thesis and doctoral dissertation focused on community and the challenges facing rural areas due to competing interests in natural resource development.

Following graduate school, I did consulting work with rural communities and private organizations before being recruited by Royal Dutch Shell to work in their Pennsylvania unconventional shale gas assets. As Community Liaison Officer, I helped guide the asset's community feedback program as well as helped coach and support other CLOs in the US and Canada.

I left Shell in 2015 to start my own small business, a custom woodworking shop. I then worked for a short stint as an Agricultural Entrepreneurship educator with Penn State Extension before joining Nebraska Extension.

As a community developer, I believe in the power of people to solve their problems if given the right tools and opportunity to do so. Please don't hesitate to contact me at either the Thayer or Nuckolls County Extension offices if you would like to chat or to see how I might be able to help you or connect you to other resources.

Mariah Morgan

My name is Mariah Morgan, and I was born and raised in Norfolk, and went on to study biology and psychology at Doane College, now Doane University. After graduation, I worked in a physical therapy clinic in Omaha and decided to go back to school for a Master in Public Health degree from the University of Nebraska Medical Center, College of Public Health.

Throughout my Public Health education, I worked as a research assistant for the Center for Preparedness Education and held a position as a Site Lead for a program called Healthy Families. It was during this time that I found my true passion for improving the lives of others through health promotion. I am very fortunate to have joined the Nebraska Extension team in January of 2018 to carry out this aspiration.

My position as a Food, Nutrition, and Health Extension Educator, allows me to provide communities in Thayer, Nuckolls, Fillmore, Clay, Hamilton and Merrick Counties with nutrition education and promote physical activity.

My goal is to increase physical activity in youth, adolescent, and our adult populations, so I will try to incorporate physical activity in all of the lessons as I teach the research being done at UN-L to help improve the lives of Nebraskans. Such as when I am in the elementary classrooms teaching about MyPlate and the nutrients we gain from eating healthy foods, we do a physical activity that is associated with those nutrients. For example, when we discuss the calcium that we gain from the Dairy food group, we do jumping jacks because calcium helps build strong bones.

While I love being in the schools, I also work with senior centers, community gardens, and churches to provide direct education programs and environmental changes that can help improve the lives of our community members.

Please contact me if you are interested in setting up a nutrition education program for your local organization or want to learn more about nutrition or physical activity.

Belvidere

By Linda Hudson

You can always rely on the weather to give you something to discuss. This past weekend is certainly evidence of this. The big snow storm of the past weekend blew into the southeast portion of our state and left us all talking. Fifty miles north of us, York received an inch while most of us received at least seven or eight inches. All of you owning a snowblower probably had a smile on your face. Even if you do own one, you must have someone available to operate it. It even prompted our little church in the village to not have worship service on Sunday morning.

Storms such as this are a little hard on the small village's snow removal fund. Especially when another one is predicted to lash out at us this coming weekend but this time with strong winds and low temperatures.

Farmers in the area sometimes come to our rescue and this last weekend was an example. The Community Center was having a celebration and of course our eating place would need snow removal for the customers. Tim and Isaac Else came to the rescue for these places. The town's old red pickup with a blade on the front doesn't quite fill the bill with snow over boot high. Thankfully we have a professional equipment operator located just a mile from town we can call when the "going gets tough!"

With the help of everyone the 80th birthday party was a happy, spirited success on this cold winter evening. They even had to offer Uber service to get "two old ladies" to the party. Little towns have amenities, too.

A fun party was held Saturday evening at the Belvidere Community Center. Ronnie Williams 80th Birthday was celebrated by relatives and friends despite the wintry conditions. Happy hour was held followed by supper and birthday cake. A birthday roast was held with the help of his two sisters, Jackie Williamson and Jan Carr. Friends and other relatives offered several comments also. Daughter Tammy and husband offered a touching video of Ronnie's life. His children present were Greg, Robin, Shannon and their families. A cousin, Bill and wife Connie Miller of Arlington, Neb., attended as well as the Williamson family, Jeff, Jill, Joy and Joni. Some of the grandchildren entertained with karaoke. The center was decorated beautifully with streamers and big gold numbers.

A few weeks ago we talked of old churches in Thayer County. I wrote the Belvidere Church building was the second oldest building in the county. In talking with Elaine O'Neal, I learned the Friedensau Church will celebrate 145 years in 2019. Is this the oldest church? Elaine's great grandpa was active in building the church. He wanted to build it three miles north of its present location. However, he was overruled and it was built in the beautiful valley between Deshler and Hebron just north of Highway 136. It is indeed a peaceful setting with its tall tower spiraling toward the heavens, never to be touched by tornadoes throughout the many years.

Mr. Schardt didn't get to build the church where he wanted, but he was buried on the site that he wanted.

A small fence surrounds the grave site. I was happy to learn that the word "Friedensau" means "Peaceful Valley."

Martin Luther King Jr. Day will be celebrated next week. Our Belvidere Woman's Club belongs to the state and national Federation, NFWC and GFWC. One of their projects is to promote and educate citizens about this Federal holiday which is held on the third Monday of January. It is seen as a day to promote equal rights for all Americans. It is a day to encourage Americans to give of their time as volunteers to further the cause of Mr. King. He was the youngest man to ever receive the Nobel Peace Prize.

In talking with a local history teacher, I was reminded that African-American settlers began moving into the plains states in 1879. They were called Exodusters. They arrived in Lincoln, Omaha and Nebraska City. Many of these early pioneers settled in Nicodemus, Kansas, which is located in northwest Kansas. Today it is a National Historic Site signed into the official name by President Clinton. Nebraska also had a settlement town established in 1908 and it was called DeWitty, located in Cherry county. They were homesteaders but they homesteaded on some of the poorest land in the state. This town lasted only about 30 years. Today there is a marker on Highway 83 telling of this settlement.

Just heard some good news! Of course depending on how you view it. A doctor had issued a statement saying that perhaps after a certain age you don't need to have all those regular tests. He thought after the age of 70-80 the need for certain tests diminishes. Sometimes the test presents more of a risk than the problem itself. Good news to us procrastinating in our old age. That is until you realize that at our age our life expectancy isn't too great anyway. And that is probably the reason the urgency has diminished. Just label it a senior discount or benefit?

Something relatively new on FaceBook is labeled U.S. Corridor Weather Alerts and Road Conditions. Warnings and conditions are posted by people located in the area giving you personal experience report. For example, a post came on saying, "Travel not recommended on Nuckolls County Roads, or traffic stopped because of a wreck by Geneva. Thinking this will be much more beneficial than dialing 511 for road reports."

Oh, yes, one more thing- Plans are being made for Toad's Annual Super Bowl Road Rally. Further details will be published soon. Be sure to mark your calendars for Sunday, Feb. 3.

Total Lunar Eclipse: Jan. 20-21. Hope the snow doesn't block the view.

In regard to what is going on in our country, ever hear... Oh! What a tangled web we weave, when we practice to deceive!
