Excellent harvest...

Jon Chapman, Hebron, grows cabbages really big despite the fact that Thayer County is in severe drought conditions as of last Thursday.

Chapman says he plans to turn four of the monster vegetables into sauerkraut - "I ought to get about 80 pounds of kraut, don't you think," he laughs.

The cabbage pictured above weighs 22 pounds and measures 48 inches around its circumference. His others, he said, are 19, 20, and 21 pounds.

Kansas man accused of stealing corn

A Kansas man is accused of stealing over $20,000 in corn from the Scouler Company of Overland Park, Kan., and using Aurora Cooperative of Hubbell and A.G.P. of Chester to pull off the theft.

Three counts of felony theft were issued against Lonnie D. Rachow, 45, of Mahaska, and filed in Thayer County court this month. Rachow, a driver for the Jaded Transportation Company, is alleged to have committed the thefts in November, 2011.

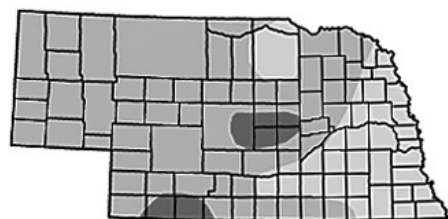

According to the arrest record on file at the Thayer County Courthouse, Rachow is alleged to have hauled corn under contract by the Scouler Company with Aurora Coop from Hubbell to Chester instead of Great Bend Feeding in Great Bend, Kan., where it was supposed to go.

On Monday, Rachow appeared in county court for his arraignment and was bound over to district court. He is scheduled to appear there August 27 at 10 a.m.

Two others were also bound over to district court in separate cases including Lori Korn, 40, of Hebron and Todd Roop, 42, of Chester.

Korn is charged with use of a deadly weapon to commit a felony and assault in the second degree and is currently in jail on a $50,000/10 percent bond.

Roop is charged with strangulation and assault in the second degree. He posted ten percent of a $10,000 bond and is not in jail.

The U.S. Drought Monitor map released July 17, shows severe drought covering most of the state; Thayer County is included. The lightest shade indicates moderate drought, the darkest shade is extreme drought. A new map will be released Thursday.

TC given go ahead

"A large amount of Nebraska's land enrolled in the federal Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) in Nebraska is now available for haying and grazing," announced Farm Service Agency (FSA) State Director Dan Steinkruger.

Secretary Vilsack announced last week that counties designated as D2 on the Drought Monitor could be released by the FSA State Committee after the ending nesting date of July 15 in Nebraska. Secretary Vilsack also announced a reduction in the emergency haying and grazing payment reduction from 25 percent to 10 percent to assist in drought response.

CRP participants need to file a request to graze or hay at their local office. CRP use includes specific rules for haying and/or a grazing plan to insure consistent uses of the land. An additional approval was granted this year for practice CP-25, Rare and Declining Habitat, to allow grazing for the first time.

Steinkruger added, "This approval will provide additional forage during this drought to assist livestock producers."

A current Nebraska map listing approved counties is on the Nebraska FSA website at www.fsa.usda.gov/ne. The map will be updated as new counties qualify.

CRP land available for haying and grazing

Thayer County was placed in severe drought status last week according to the U.S. Drought Monitor.

Drought conditions are expected to persist through harvest, or at least the end of October, according to the National Weather Service's climate prediction center. In a newly released map July 19, nearly two-thirds of the nation, 64 percent, will continue to be affected by drought; 43 percent by severe or extreme drought. The entire state of Nebraska is included in the bad news.

"Dryness and drought, exacerbated by above-normal temperatures, have been increasing both in extent and intensity across much of the central and northern U.S.," officials stated in a summary of the prediction. "The combination of heat and dryness has severely reduced the quality and quantity of the corn and soybean crop, with 38 percent of the corn and 30 percent of the soybeans rated as poor or very poor as of July 15 by NASS/USDA. Some states, such as Kentucky, Missouri, and Indiana, had over 70 percent of their corn adversely rated. Unfortunately, drought is expected to develop, persist, or intensify across these areas, and temperatures are likely to average above normal."

The next outlook will be released Aug. 2.

Weekly Report

By Mike Johanns

U.S. Senator For Nebraska

Don't Overtax Our Economy

Recently in the Senate, we've been debating whether to allow a massive tax increase on our job creators and every American taxpayer at the end of the year. This is exactly what will happen if Congress doesn't act. I strongly oppose allowing a tax increase with our economy still struggling and our job creators still struggling to put Americans back to work.

The bills being considered in the Senate approach our economic struggles from the completely wrong direction. For example, one bill I opposed, which did not pass, sought to punish businesses which establish aspects of their operations outside our borders. Beyond political talking points, this would do nothing to confront the reasons why businesses are moving overseas in the first place.

Why aren't American businesses staying in America, and how can we encourage them to stay? These are the questions we must be asking. The answer lies in the fact that, despite class-dividing messaging about taxes, the corporate tax rate in the United States is the highest of any country in the world. You can literally set up shop anywhere around the globe and you'd be paying lower tax rates than if you did so in Kearney or Cozad.

Business owners have to make smart business decisions to thrive, and the bottom line is our tax code discourages locating operations in the United States. Instead of making the tax code more conducive to American job creation, the Senate is wasting time on political messaging votes. Job creators could be hiring more at home if tax rates elsewhere weren't so much lower than they are here.

Instead of playing politics we should be working to update our tax code and deal with our crippling debt, and the first step should be preventing the January 1 tax increase. In 2010, when he signed a two-year extension of the current tax rates, President Obama himself asserted it was a bad idea to raise taxes in a struggling economy. He has since changed his mind and would have you believe it's now a good idea.

This despite the fact that our economy is growing at a slower rate than two years ago, when the President said the economy was too fragile to raise taxes; despite the fact that, according to a new study, letting these taxes go back up will actually shrink the economy by about 1.3 percent and lead directly to about 710,000 job losses; and despite the fact that, according to IRS data, the average Nebraskan's taxes would go up by nearly $2,500. Some argue it would cost too much to prevent this take hike on our job creators, yet the additional revenue from the President's plan would fund the federal government for less than three days.

The answer to our economic struggle is not to raise taxes, making it harder for job creators to grow and compete, and decreasing the buying power of Nebraska families. Nebraskans need less government in their lives, not more. Nebraska families and businesses need more of the money they've earned to help make our economy and their own lives better. I will continue pursuing policies in the Senate toward that goal.

Message From The Governor

By Dave Heineman

Nebraska Governor

Growing State Economies

This past year, I've served as Chair of the National Governors Association. This gave me the opportunity to work with Governors from the United States' 55 states, territories and commonwealths to study, discuss and develop best practices that help foster entrepreneurship and innovation.

Each year, the Chair develops a policy initiative that can impact discussions in states across the nation. My initiative, Growing State Economies, lead a national discussion and focus on developing strategies that impact entrepreneurs and startup companies that help them become fast-growing firms. We held four regional summits to highlight regional strengths and opportunities. The four regional economic development summits were held throughout 2011 and 2012 in Hartford, Connecticut, Nashville, Tennessee, Seattle, Washington, and Omaha.

The results, published in two reports for Governors, are six drivers of growth and 12 actions for growing state economies. Policymakers with responsibility for growing economies can create a locally meaningful strategy by following 12 basic actions to help the private sector grow and thrive, creating new job opportunities for their citizens.

The 12 Actions for Growing State Economies are as follows:

- Create a competitive tax and regulatory environment.
- Put entrepreneurial activity at the top of the state's economic agenda.
- Distinguish among different kinds of entrepreneurs and businesses and target policies and resources accordingly.
- Cast a wide net to find entrepreneurs.
- Teach entrepreneurship skills and attitudes at all education levels.
- Build a startup environment and culture.
- Find the potential high-growth companies and help them grow.
- Get your entrepreneurs to give back.
- Help companies open doors to new customers – globally and locally.
- Reward strong ties among universities, companies, and entrepreneurs.
- Encourage entrepreneurs and companies, small and large, to build innovation clusters.

- Build ecosystems, not programs.
The six drivers of growth are:

- Entrepreneurs – individuals who seed, grow and renew businesses
  - Education and Skills – the concentration of highly educated, skilled individuals within economies.
  - Innovation and technology – new ideas and technologies that enter the economy and change what is produced, how it is produced, and the way production itself is organized.
  - Private Capital – the sufficiency and availability of debt and equity financing at all states of company formation
  - Global Markets and Linkages – businesses competing successfully in global markets
  - Industry Clusters – firms embedded in regional clusters supported by institutions providing education, training, finance, and marketing services
- These reports mention Nebraska several times in which our state excelled. For example, in partnership with Gallup, Nebraska is using its Entrepreneur Acceleration System to identify small-to-medium sized businesses with high growth potential.

This program begins by identifying the entrepreneurial ability of the individual who heads a particular firm, and then Gallup's research indicates that certain individuals have innate qualities that make them more likely to achieve extraordinary success as entrepreneurs, leading to high business growth and ultimately job creation.

The NGA is a forum for governors to work in bipartisan manner to share insight and feedback that advances economic and job growth in states across America. I was pleased to share Nebraska's success with other states and to learn from other states what else we could be doing to strengthen Nebraska's economy. The reports are available at my website at: http://www.governor.nebraska.gov/news/2012/07/pdf/NGA\_GovInit\_Policy-Framework.pdf and http://www.governor.nebraska.gov/news/2012/07/pdf/NGA\_TwelveActionsReport.pdf.

Working Cattle In Summertime Heat

Understanding and avoiding heat stress in cattle can be a valuable management tool for summertime. In the summertime, most cow calf operations will be working cattle on days when heat stress to cattle is possible. Cattle have an upper critical temperature approximately 20 degrees cooler than humans.

When humans are uncomfortable at 80 degrees and feel hot at 90 degrees, cattle may well be in the danger zone for extreme heat stress. Humidity is an additional stressor that intensifies the heat by making body heat dissipation more difficult.

Over heating is sporadically encountered in cattle, but is really a rare problem. High humidity contributes to the likelihood of heat stroke or prostration because water evaporation from the oral and nasal cavities is decreased, in spite of rapid panting.

At an environmental temperature of about 88 degrees, heat dissipation mechanisms such as sweating and evaporative cooling must take place to prevent a rise in body temperature. Sweat gland activity in cattle increases as the temperature goes above the thermoneutral zone. Panting is an important heat regulatory device in cattle.

The signs of overheating may develop suddenly and depend upon the environmental conditions and the health of the cattle exposed to the heat. Panting often occurs at rectal temperatures at or above 104 degrees F, but may begin even at lower body temperatures.

Some animals manifest restlessness, excitement, and spasms of certain muscles. However, other animals may be dull and depressed. A protruding tongue may be covered with saliva, and frothy mucus discharged at the nostrils. Rectal temperatures of overheated cattle have ranged as high as 107 to 115 degrees F.

Overheating in cattle can be prevented under most management conditions. Allowing animals access to cool water and mineral supplements is a must in very hot summer weather. Shade and free air circulation should be provided if at all possible. Avoid working cattle during very hot parts of the day. Very excitable cattle will be even more prone to heat stress if handled at high environmental temperatures.

If animals are going to have limited access to water under stressful conditions such as shipping by truck or trailer, they should be allowed water prior to further stressful situations.

If weaning calls for cattle to be gathered and put through a working chute for immunizations, implanting, or other operations, then a few common sense rules should be followed.

- During hot weather, cattle should be worked before 8 a.m., if possible. Certainly all cattle working must be complete by about 10 a.m. While it may seem to make sense to work cattle after sun down, they will need most of the night cooling before enough heat is dissipated to cool down from an extremely hot day. Recent research at Oklahoma State University with rumen temperature boluses has shown that the core body temperature of beef cows peaks at 2 to 5 hours after the highest daytime temperature. On a hot summer day the highest daytime temperature is often late afternoon. Therefore the peak body temperature of cattle may occur at 6 p.m. to 11 p.m. (Source: Pye, Boehmer, and Wettemann. 2011 Page 104; Abstract 285 http://adsa.asas.org/midwest/2011/Midwest\_Abstacts\_2011-revised.pdf.)

• Cattle that must be handled during hot weather should spend less than 30 minutes in the working facility. Drylot pens and corrals loaded with cattle will have very little if any air movement. Cattle will gain heat constantly while they are in these areas. Therefore a time limit of one-half hour in the confined cattle working area should limit the heat gain and therefore the heat stress.

• Make every effort to see that cool, fresh, water is available to cattle in close confined areas for any length of time. During hot weather conditions cattle will drink more than 1 percent of their body weight per hour. Producers need to be certain that the water supply lines are capable of keeping up with demand, if working cattle during hot weather.

Summer Heat Safety 5 Things You Should Be Doing

• Drinking fluids: Drink water (5-7 oz.) every 15 minutes, even if you aren't thirsty. In hazardous heat situations, the body loses water faster than the brain can induce thirst. Avoid caffeine and alcohol 24 hours before and during exposure to elevated heat.

• Replacing salts and minerals: Salt is excreted from the body when you sweat. For your body to continue important processes, small amounts of salts and minerals should be consumed. Mix a small amount of sports drink or juice into your water or eat a light snack. Undiluted sports drinks typically provide much more salt and/or sugar than your body needs.

• Wearing appropriate clothing and sunscreen: Wear a hat and light colored clothing. Clothing should cover as much skin as possible, including arms, legs, and neck. Sunscreen with an SPF of 30 or above should be applied throughout the day to uncovered skin, such as the hands and nose.

• Pacing and acclimating yourself: Until your body has had ample time to adjust to working in a hot environment, keep your work load light and take frequent breaks. Slowly increase the intensity of your work as you are able. Stop all activity and rest immediately if you start feeling lightheaded, weak, or faint. Acclimatization can take up to 14 days, so be patient while your body adjusts to the new demands.

• Resting in the shade: Shade provides shelter away from the excess heat that the sun radiates onto the skin. During work breaks, remove yourself from direct sun exposure to allow your skin an opportunity to cool.

Subject: "A Certificate of Moral Character": Rosewater and Rosicky on Immigration

Between 1856 and World War I, over fifty thousand Czechs came to Nebraska, attracted by a steady stream of advertisements in Czech-language newspapers and magazines published here. Edward Rosewater (1841-1906) and John Rosicky (1845-1910), early Omaha newspapermen, originally came from Bohemia and used their publications to make Nebraska's possibilities known to their countrymen. In 1871 Rosewater founded both the Omaha Bee and the weekly Pokrok Zapadu (The Progress of the West), the first Czech-language newspaper in Omaha. Rosicky acquired the Pokrok Zapadu in 1877 and later established several other Czech publications.

By 1891 the two men had differing views on how to discourage "undesirable immigration." Rosewater's Omaha Daily Bee on August 20, 1891, published a letter from Rosicky explaining his position: "To the Editor of THE BEE: In THE SUNDAY BEE you comment favorably upon the suggestion of the secretary of the Now York state board of charities, to keep the undesirable immigration out of our country by demanding from the immigrants a certificate of moral character, approved by our consuls. You think the plan practicable.

"In that I beg leave to differ with you and think the suggestion not alone impracticable, but rather tending to keep out 'desirable' immigrants without preventing the coming of the undesirable. . . . A very large number of very desirable immigrants, young men who leave the old countries to avoid the long and tedious military service, who come without leave of their respective governments, being in the prime of life and growing up here to manhood and appreciation of American institutions would then be barred out altogether, because they would never get the consent of their governments to immigration and could not get any such certificate.

"On the other hand, the 'undesirable' emigrants would in all probability find no difficulty in obtaining a favorable certificate. . . . Take, for instance, the much persecuted Russian Jews. . . . Now, sir, do you think that the Russian authorities would have any scruples about giving those people a favorable certificate for the purpose of emigration? I don't. I believe they would be only too willing to part with them, and wish them God-speed.

"These proposed certificates would have to originate with the municipalities, or municipal authorities. . . . The approval of the consul would not amount to anything. He could not ride all over the country and presumably inquire into the case of every emigrant; he would only simply legalize or acknowledge the signature of the official issuing the certificate; that is all we could expect of him. How that could prevent undesirable immigration I am at a loss to know."

New Immunization Policy

The Center for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) has notified the Nebraska Department of Health and Human Services of a new national policy affecting immunization clinics. In the past, the Nebraska Immunization Program was able to use government purchased vaccines, which had been purchased for the Vaccines for Children (VFC) program, to immunize fully insured children in public immunization clinics. Starting in August this will change. Only VFC-eligible children will receive the government purchased vaccines.

The CDC defines fully insured as anyone with insurance that covers the cost of the vaccine, even if; the insurance includes a high deductible or co-pay or the claim for the cost of the vaccine and its administration would be denied for payment by the insurance carrier because the plan's deductible has not been met.

Under the new CDC guidelines, public immunization clinics will only be able to use Nebraska Immunization Program vaccines for VFC-Eligible children. VFC Eligibility includes:

- children through 18 years of age who are Medicaid-enrolled
- children uninsured
- children underinsured; insurance does not cover vaccines
- children that are American Indian or an Alaska native

Thayer County Health Services is committed to serving the children in Thayer County; however we are required to follow these new guidelines. Starting in August, TCHS will hold two separate immunization clinics in the lower level of the hospital in Hebron. The first will be for VFC-Eligible children and will be held on the second Friday of each month. In August this clinic will be held on the 10th and will strictly be a VFC clinic. Please call the Immunization office at 402-768-4629 to make an appointment. Parents will need to bring their current Medicaid, Coventry or Arbor Health managed care card to their scheduled appointment.

A second immunization clinic will be held on the 4th Friday of each month and will be for children who are commercially insured. This new clinic will start on Aug 24, please call the Immunization office at 402-768-4629 to make an appointment.

Parents will need to know what insurance coverage they have for childhood vaccines and if they are responsible for a copay. Copays will be due at the time of the scheduled appointment and will need to be paid prior to any vaccines being given.

What are the costs for children covered by insurance? The cost for each vaccine may vary depending on the age of the recipient, insurance coverage and where the shot is being given. Check with your insurance provider to see what is covered and if there are any costs to you such as a copay for the visit.

Thayer County Health Services knows this will be a big change for many parents and may cause financial hardship for some. However, TCHS is required to follow this new policy from the CDC. TCHS' immunization clinic isn't alone in making these changes. All public immunization clinics are affected by these changes; not just statewide but nationwide.

However, it is still important to get your child immunized. Vaccines save lives and are the best way to protect your child from certain infectious diseases. The cost of your child having a disease, for which there is a vaccine, is far higher than the cost of the vaccine. Vaccines also reduce the spread of disease to others and prevent epidemics.

Thayer County Conservation Reserve Program Acreage Released

"As of July 19, seventeen additional Nebraska counties have been released for CRP emergency haying and grazing," announced Farm Service Agency (FSA) State Executive Director Dan Steinkruger. Those counties recently released includes Thayer County.

The Drought Monitor was updated and designated Thayer County as being in a "D2-Severe Drought" status. Secretary Vilsack recently authorized FSA State Committees to release counties for CRP emergency haying and grazing once they reached the D2 level. In addition, the associated payment reduction was decreased from 25 percent to 10 percent to further assist producers impacted by the drought conditions.

CRP participants need to file a request to hay or graze at their local FSA office. CRP use includes specific rules for haying and/or a grazing plan to insure consistent uses of the land. An additional approval was granted this year for practice CP-25, Rare and Declining Habitat, to allow grazing for the first time. Steinkruger added, "This approval will provide additional forage to livestock producers in the affected counties as the drought continues to intensify."

A current Nebraska map listing approved counties is on the Nebraska FSA website at www.fsa.usda.gov/ne.

New Report: Nebraska Ag Production Complex is Key to State's Economy

LINCOLN, Neb. -- Nebraska is blessed with a "profoundly significant and diverse agricultural production complex" that gives it great economic momentum as a leader in the ever-expanding global food economy, according to a new report from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

The report uses statistics from 2010 to paint a picture of the prowess of the state's ag-based economy. Its percentage share of the state's total economy is unmatched anywhere except South Dakota.

But the authors also caution that Nebraskans should develop a more comprehensive statewide strategy for long term sustainability of its ag industry to contend with "growing external forces that may not have the best long-term interests of Nebraska in mind."

"The 2010 Economic Impact of the Nebraska Agricultural Production Complex" was written by Eric Thompson, UNL Bureau of Business Research; and Bruce Johnson and Anil Giri, Department of Agricultural Economics.

The agricultural production complex focuses on the set of industries closely involved in the growing, processing and transportation of agricultural products. Included in this complex are crop and livestock production, agriculture-related manufacturing (both durable and nondurable), agriculture-related transportation and wholesaling, agriculture-related research and education and agri-tourism.

The significant role the multiplier effect plays reflects how agriculture has changed in Nebraska and elsewhere, the report said.

"Agriculture has moved significantly from a commodity economy to an agricultural product economy," authors said. For example, only one-third of the state's corn crop is exported from the state. The rest is processed through livestock and ethanol production and exported as food, fuel and related products, and this value-added activity boosts employment and earnings across the state.

Some of those direct and indirect statistics combined, and their percentage share of Nebraska's total economy in 2010:

- Total sales volume: $68.88 billion, 41 percent.
- Total gross state product: $22.64 billion, 27 percent
- Employment: 289,200 jobs, 24 percent
- Total wages and proprietor's income: $13.67 billion, 25 percent

In short, these measures reflect an agricultural production complex accounting for about one-fourth of Nebraska's total economy.

The role of agricultural activity in the economy varies by region. In Northeast Nebraska, home to crop and livestock production and considerable ag-related production and processing, agriculture accounted for 81 percent of the production output and 63 percent of the gross regional product, while employing 51 percent of the region's workforce and producing 66 percent of its labor income.

Agriculture's prominence also was quite high in the North, Central, South and Southeast regional economies. The East region actually generated the largest regional dollar volume of agricultural activity and ag-related employment, but given the presence of the state's two largest urban areas, its portion of the region's broader economy was much smaller.

The report noted that Nebraska's agricultural producers and manufacturers long have been known as innovative users of the latest technologies and management techniques. "These features allow the complex to be a leader in international trade and create a solid foundation for the Nebraska economy," the authors wrote. "This was never clearer than during the recent 'Great Recession,' when the export strength of Nebraska agriculture helped the state stave off the worst effects of that recession."

But the converse of that also is true, the report notes. Economic downturns in agriculture are inevitable and their impact will be magnified in Nebraska. In fact, the report says, economic volatility in agriculture is likely to increase.

Authors predict continued growth for Nebraska's ag production complex, with exports likely to grow to China, India and other countries in Asia and Latin America. They also predict more growth in food processing, agriculture-oriented manufacturers and biotechnology companies and in the transportation industry.

"Overall, Nebraska is positioned, like few other areas of the country, to capitalize on the strength of its agricultural production complex," the authors wrote. "This state has a thriving bio-economy tied to a rich natural resource endowment and skilled human capital which will only increase in importance in a world of rising global demand for food and other agriculturally based output."

"That said, however, economic volatility arising from agriculture will tend to ripple through the state's total economy, often triggered by external forces of both national and global origin.

"This signals a clear need of a more comprehensive state-level strategy for long-term sustainable development around its agricultural base—a strategy engaging all stakeholders in a shared vision for the state and a commitment to pursue it," the authors wrote.

The report said that strategy could include streamlining of regulations, enhancing investment opportunities for new and emerging agricultural technologies, providing workforce training and management education, expanding basic and applied research for innovation in agriculture, practicing sustainable stewardship of natural resources and enhancing quality-of-life for citizens across the state.

"This will involve the need to engage all stakeholders in a shared vision for the state and a commitment to pursue it. To do otherwise could expose the state to growing external forces that may not have the best long-term interest of Nebraska in mind," the report concludes.

The study was a joint effort of the UNL Department of Agricultural Economics and the Bureau of Business Research within the Department of Economics and was funded by the university's Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources. The Hebron Legion Juniors congratulate each other after taking the Class C Area 5 championship July 17. The victory landed them a spot in the currently ongoing 2012 state tournament.

by winning against Malcolm and Pender in the double-elimination state event which started Saturday.

But Monday night turned south as the team experienced its first loss in tournament action.

After failing to get a hit off Creighton pitcher Seth Wilmes well into the game, Hebron fell to Creighton 1-8. Wilmes pitched the no hitter into the sixth inning before singles by Caleb Goedeken and Jay Cottam produced Hebron's only run.

Creighton sent 18 batters to the plate for eight runs in the second and third innings. Preston Brinegar pitched the loss.

Final tournament action will be published next week in the Hebron Journal-Register due to the timing of the bracket; however, daily up-to-date coverage will be provided at our online site at <http://hebronjournalregister.com>.

Earlier action

In the first game against Malcolm Saturday afternoon, the Hebron team went 1-0 in a battle of pitchers between Hebron's Caleb Goedeken and Malcolm's Trevor Carroll. Goedeken gave up one hit in seven innings. Carroll struck out 12 batters while taking the loss. Hebron scored the only run of the game when a toss to third base during a steal attempt escaped into left field bringing in Ben Hintz to score the unearned run. Malcolm got two on with one out in the bottom of the seventh inning, but Hebron turned a double play to end the game as victors.

In Hebron's next contest against Pender Sunday evening, Junior Reed pitched the 13-3 win. Hebron claimed the victory in five innings after taking an early lead by putting its first seven hitters on base. Preston Brinegar was 3-for-4 in hitting with two doubles, a triple, and two RBIs.

The Hebron team earned a trip to the state tournament after picking up the Class C Area 5 championship at Doniphan. The team is coached by Mark Hintz of Hebron.

In game 8 of the Area 5 series, Hebron defeated Davenport/Edgar/Shickley 10-4 to secure its state contention. Hebron went an undefeated 3-0 in the tournament, collecting wins against Davenport/Edgar/Shickley in the opener 10-2; Dannebrog/Cairo/Boelus in the second bout 15-0 and finally DES in the championship game.

Area 5 Seniors

The Hebron Seniors baseball team ended its season after falling to Utica-Beaver Crossing, 1-11, and Meridian, 0-1, at the Class C Area 5 tournament last week. Hebron was seeded sixth in the tourney which is underway at Daykin.

Davenport-Edgar continues to advance after winning 10-0 against Meridian in its first contest and 14-2 against Utica in its second game.

In its third match, the No. 2 seeded team fell to No. 1 Sutton, 0-2, which sent the squad to the contention bracket in the double-elimination tourney. There the team defeated Tecumseh, 3-1.

The win pitted them against undefeated Sutton Tuesday night, July 24, for the championship. The Davenport/Edgar team will need to win twice to take the tourney and qualify for state.

Linda Hudson attended a party for Gina Hudson's birthday at the Bill Hudson home on Thursday, July 19. Also attending were Russ and Marla Gerberding, Shanna Gerberding and Norman Lunzmann.

Tuesday evening Audrey and Katie Mathiesen and Calee Brown came to visit the Hebron grandmas. Audrey stayed overnight with her mother, LaDonna Avers and Katie and Calee stayed overnight with Eveline Bauer. Joined by Hunter Mathiesen, they all had dinner at a cafe downtown.

It's nice to report that George has repaired the refrigerator that broke down the day before the Woman's Club meeting at the community hall. That was a near disastrous happening. All's well that ends well.

It was good to see Betty Dudgeon feeling well enough to be able to attend church again on Sunday.

Arlis Dill accompanied Karla and Lenny Boman and family to the Dill Family Reunion in Arkansas over the weekend. Hopefully we will have more news of the reunion next week.

There will be a TEC meeting for the ladies at 5:30 p.m., at the cafe downtown in Belvidere on July 26.

Next Sunday church will be held in Centennial Park for the annual Church in the Park. A continental breakfast will be served at 8:30 a.m., with church service at 9 a.m. The service has been rained out the last two years so we can only hope that it will be again.

Visiting in the area last week were Bill Priefert, Corbin Priefert, Ervin Priefert and Arlene Hammontree from Mt. Pleasant, Texas. They stopped in Oklahoma City and picked up their niece Sally Williamson and brought her along with them to visit her parents Lee and Dorothy Priefert in Beatrice. They also visited their brother Lonny Priefert and wife Margaret in Beatrice. They drove to Belvidere and Hebron where they visited Russ and Bonnie Priefert and Linda Hudson and were on their way to see Stub Priefert and Loraine Callison.

Belvidere Woman's Club Hosts District IV Workshop

The Belvidere Area Woman's Club hosted the District IV Workshop at the Belvidere Community Center on July 18. Nearly 50 members from area clubs gathered to learn and discuss the new programs for the 2012-2013 club year. They also reviewed the long standing programs such as the Ronald McDonald House, YRTC at Geneva, community improvement, domestic violence awareness and fine arts.

Present were State President Patricia Gage from Aurora, District IV President Della Miers from Seward along with Karen Crandal from Papillion who accompanied Patricia Gage. The president explained her agenda which includes walks for Cancer. Also present were a number of officers from the District IV clubs.

The speakers each focused on their area of expertise and encouraged others to help their individual clubs take part in each program. One of the main points discussed was the need to recruit new members and a number of ideas were brought up to achieve this.

Belvidere is very fortunate to have been able to maintain quite a healthy membership including a number of young, energetic women. Over the years Belvidere has been a driving force for this community, nationally and internationally.

program and several ladies brought quilts, photographs and other art projects to encourage participation in the District Fine Arts Program. Abbey Stone from Hebron discussed her interest in opera and then sang three short operatic songs for the ladies.

Preceding lunch a coin march was held with the proceeds of $55 going to the free clinic of the People's City Mission. Lunch, consisting of casseroles, salads and deserts was served by the Belvidere Club. The tables were decorated with bandannas, engineer hats and little train engines made from candies.

Following the meal the Belvidere ladies performed a skit titled, I've Been Working on the Railroad, to emphasize the theme, All Aboard for District IV. Annette Lober was the conductor and Jackie Williamson was Dinah, blowing her horn. Bonnie Priefert, Dianne Waldmeier, Jenny Waldmeier, Marilyn Cook, Jane Dodes, Jean Shipley, Peggy Meerse, Megan Hinrichs and Linda Hudson were the train cars. The conductor was in charge of handing out the door prizes and goody bags from the club.

Installation of officers was the last order of the day followed by the customary appreciation notes from the various officers present. The 2012 District IV Convention will be hosted by the Bruning Club on Oct. 5 at the opera house in Bruning.

clock. The predicted weather conditions over the next few days indicate the hours of highest demand on NPPD's system will be between 8-10 a.m. and 7-10 p.m. Customers are especially encouraged to reduce energy usage during these times. The reductions will help both the utility's electrical grid and the agricultural community in south central Nebraska.

"For the last couple of weeks, NPPD has been asking for statewide cooperation from customers to reduce their energy use," said NPPD President and CEO Pat Pope. "Their efforts have helped, but our plea continues. With no precipitation or temperature reductions in sight, concern grows for the continued wear and tear on our system during a season with the greatest demand."

NPPD is a summer peaking utility. This means its greatest demand or its highest peaks occur during the summer. NPPD serves 80 communities directly, as well as 75 other utilities in the state that deliver the power NPPD generates to their customers, primarily in small towns or rural areas. NPPD's electrical grid of more than 5,000 miles of transmission lines and substations interconnects with substations and distribution lines of other utilities throughout Nebraska.

Nebraska's number one industry is agriculture. In fact, at least one-third of NPPD's summer electrical load is represented by the irrigation needs of the state's ag community. Many irrigation systems are powered by electricity. This year's increased demand for electricity, coupled with the extreme drought conditions, is challenging the electrical grid more than ever before.

"In addition to asking businesses, cities, residents, and industry to reduce their energy use, we have made concerted efforts with our wholesale utility partners and their agricultural customers to identify time frames for controlling load to help spread out the demand on our system," explained Pope. "This is helping some, yet demands on the system remain high."

"Everything is happening at once. We are in a drought at the height of the growing season. People are running their air conditioners to stay cool. Industries and businesses are operating as necessary, and our system, especially in north central Nebraska, has been consistently stressed to the max," he said. "We have some wind generation facilities in this area that, when operating, can inject generation right into the grid and help meet the demand, but when wind is minimal or absent, the transmission system can get overloaded."

"The failure of transformers or critical components could bring about even more challenges to us and ultimately to customers, so we are making this appeal again and will do what we have to, to maintain system reliability," he said.

NPPD has a program it used last week to protect its system from overloading. When the system's reliability is threatened, NPPD's system control operators send out "Transmission Emergency Relief Messages" to NPPD's wholesale utility partners to let them know they need to open breakers to reduce the amount of electricity carried on the system at a particular time. These steps force a reduction in load to occur. When NPPD issues a TERM message, it also sends out special public service announcements to its wholesale utility partners and radio stations in the affected areas to share with customers.

"We don't like to interrupt anyone's service," said Pope, "but if it means protecting equipment from damage or preventing cascading outages, we may have to force a limited interruption to service. These are purposeful, protective actions we take to preserve grid integrity; because the reliability of NPPD's transmission system ultimately impacts the ability to meet our customers' electricity needs."

"We are grateful for all the cooperation we have received from customers, and they have responded well to shifting their energy usage to other times of the day," said Pope. "Normally this works, but we are seeing around-the-clock demands on our system, which requires even more, around-the-clock energy reductions."

"Nebraska is the Cornhusker state with a reputation for helping one another in times of need," he said. "We are asking everyone to do what they can, without jeopardizing their safety, to reduce their use until we can get rain or a break in the hot temperatures."

B-D students attend National FCCLA Convention

More than 6,800 nationwide members, advisers, alumni, and guests of Family, Career and Community Leaders of America (FCCLA), gathered in Orlando, Fla., July 8-12 for the 2012 National Leadership Conference. Three Bruning-Davenport students and their adviser attended the conference.

Senior Brenna Meyer attended as a member of the Nebraska State Peer Education Team. Also attending as delegates were juniors Elizabeth Ohlde and Emily Folkerts and their adviser, Debra Albers.

This year's student-originated theme for the annual national meeting was "reality-check." Throughout the five-day convention, participants examined and discussed several critical issues, including family, school and community violence prevention, physical as well as financial fitness, future career exploration and countless community service projects.

A number of relevant youth issues, such as the changing roles of men and women in the home and workplace, leadership, and obesity prevention were also explored at the meeting through presentations, workshops, and youth sessions.

Brenna along with other members of the Nebraska Peer Education teams presented a booth explaining the purpose of Student Body, Families First, and Financial Fitness which are national programs.

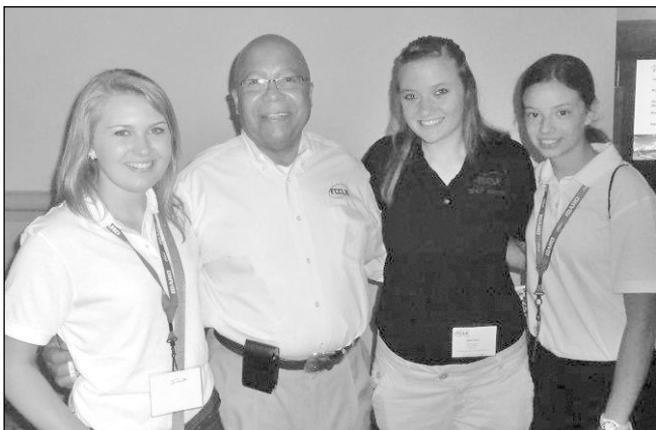

One of the highlights of the week was a donation of $37,488.71 presented to Share Our Strength from National FCCLA to fight childhood hunger. In addition, over 15,000 pairs of shoes were collected to benefit Soles4Souls. The Bruning-Davenport chapter collected shoes for this project in March.

At the closing session on Wednesday, Nebraska delegates were honored to learn that two Nebraska members were selected from a pool of 32 candidates for the 10 member National Officer Team. Lindsey Armstrong and Chandler Clausen both of the Logan View chapter will serve as National Officers for the 2012-13 school year. Also, Jan Brandt, Nebraska State FCCLA adviser was selected as the National Adviser of the year.

During their stay in Orlando the group enjoyed visiting the Magic Kingdom at Disney World, the special FCCLA event hosted at Universal Studios Orlando, and the closing gala which included a sit-down dinner featuring the cuisines and music of Florida.

Family, Career and Community Leaders of America (FCCLA), is a dynamic and effective national student organization that helps young men and women become leaders and address important personal, family, work, and societal issues through family and consumer sciences education. FCCLA has over 200,000 members and over 6,500 chapters from 50 state associations, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands. The organization has involved more than ten million youth since its founding in 1945.

Blossom End Rot

We have had some questions in the office about flat, dry, sunken, brown spots on tomatoes that can be found on the blossom end of the fruit, opposite the stem end. The problems is "blossom end rot" and can be found on tomatoes, peppers, eggplant, squash and watermelon.

The rot is first seen as a small, water-soaked spot on the base of half-developed fruits and continues to enlarge as the fruit matures. The size of the rotted area varies, but can cover up to 50 percent of the fruit.

On peppers, the affected area is tan and is often confused with sunscald, which causes a white lesion. This problem is not an insect or disease problem, but is a physiological disorder associated with a calcium deficiency in the developing fruit.

Calcium is an important component for normal cell wall development; when inadequate levels of calcium are available to the rapidly developing distal tissues of the tomato, the result is cell breakdown. This condition is rarely the result of a lack of calcium in the soil, but rather occurs when plants cannot pull up calcium quickly enough for the developing tissues.

Calcium is a nutrient with limited mobility in plants; it must be dissolved in water to move within a plant, so water deficits are a frequent contributing factor. The distal, or blossom end, tissues of the tomato fruit also contain fewer vascular bundles, which move water and nutrients from one part of the plant to another, so are most susceptible to a lack of calcium.

Drought stress, low daytime humidity, high temperatures and rapid, vegetative plant growth caused by excess nitrogen applications favors blossom end rot development. Drought stress and low daytime humidity cause plants to lose large amounts of water through transpiration, resulting in more water being sent to the leaves and less to the developing fruits. High temperatures contribute to this condition by causing faster fruit enlargement, and a greater need for calcium.

To reduce the incidence of blossom end rot include the following:

- Prevent drought stress on plants by providing at least 1 inch of water per week, and greater amounts for plants in sandy soils or during very hot, dry conditions

- Use an organic mulch like wood chips, clean straw, pine straw, peat moss, compost, herbicide-free grass clippings to preserve soil moisture

- Avoid excess fertilization, especially with ammoniacal nitrogen sources

Foliar applications of calcium have little effect on this condition, due to the poor absorption and movement of calcium from the leaves to the fruits.

FARM PRODUCTS

Class C

Open Class Entries will again be taken for the 2012 Thayer County Fair to be held August 9, 10 and 11 in Deshler.

It is hoped you will bring what produce you have to share with fair goers this summer. The Thayer County Fair Board would like to encourage those throughout the county who like to garden, but have never exhibited before, to take part in the fair. Even if you have something in only one category, it is fun to exhibit and compete against others.

All Class C Farm Products must be grown in Thayer County. In the junior division, the person entering must have taken an active part in growing the exhibit.

Entries will be received Wednesday evening, August 8, from 7 to 9 p.m. and Thursday morning, August 9, from 8 to 11 a.m. Please know the variety of your entry and have the proper number of items for each entry.

Nothing previously exhibited should be shown again to compete for prizes. Remember, with the exception of the largest watermelon and pumpkin, farm products are judged on their fitness for eating and uniformity in size.

An outstanding adult exhibitor and a junior exhibitor will again be recognized.

Items may be picked up Sunday, Aug. 12, from 10-11 a.m. and not before. During that time, pictures of prize winners will be taken. It is asked that you try to be present. If it is not possible for you to pick up your entries, please make arrangements to have someone else to pick them up and inform the superintendent.

Your help is appreciated in making the 2012 fair a success.

CANNED FRUITS & VEGETABLES

Class F Joyce Schardt, Superintendent

The 2012 County Fair is only a few weeks away. The Open Class for Canned Fruits and Vegetables is asking everyone to enter their items. Fruits and vegetables canned after July 2011 are eligible to be entered in the 2012 county fair.

Items will be accepted for entry from 7 to 9 p.m. on Wednesday, August 8 as well as Thursday, August 9, from 8 to 11 a.m. It is asked that you pick up your goods on Sunday, Aug. 12, from 9-11 a.m. and not before. Pictures of the top winners will be taken at that time. All items not picked up at that time will be left at the front desk unless other arrangements have been made with the superintendent.

A Junior and Senior Outstanding Exhibitor ribbon will be handed out. If you are a 4-H'er, please feel free to bring extra items for the Open Class Division. You may just be a winner.

There is no limit to how many items you may enter and if the item is not on the list, we can add it at time of entry. All jams and jellies need to be sealed with a jar flat. Do not use paraffin wax. All items need to be entered in jars. A nice clean jar with shiny rings and flats is always a good choice. And finally, all exhibitors must be residents of Thayer County.

So, look through your pantry and see what you have to help fill our racks. Everyone looks forward to seeing you at the fair.

FINE ARTS & CRAFTS

Class G

The Fine Arts Division is open for exhibitors from Thayer County this year and looks forward to presenting to the public all of your past projects. Please consider bringing your projects to the fair for all of Thayer County to enjoy.

Exhibits for this department will be entered from 7 to 9 p.m., on Wednesday, August 8, and from 8 to 11 a.m., on Thursday morning, August 9. Exhibits will be released on Sunday, Aug. 12, from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m. and not before. Arrangements must be made for pick up of exhibits if that time is not acceptable and should be discussed on entry day with superintendent.

Rule 1: Exhibitors who advertise their skills in the medium before exhibited, teach classes for a fee in the medium being exhibited or earn a considerable portion of their income from sales of the medium being exhibited should use the professional class numbers. Integrity is appreciated. Each category in the Fine Arts and Crafts Class will have three divisions: Professional, Amateur and Junior. Children and youth 17 and under may exhibit in any class number. All entries entered in amateur and professional classes will be judged by adult standards.

Rule 2: All work must be original (not copies) work of the exhibitor; completed within the past five years and not previously entered. Exhibitors will be limited to not more than two items per class number.

Rule 3: All pictures must be framed and/or mounted for hanging with picture frame wire. Because of our display hardware, sawtooth hangers are not acceptable. No tags or string hangers. Tape will not hold in the display environment. Artwork not properly ready to hang will be displayed at floor level.

Rule 4: Age of all exhibitors using a Junior number must be noted. Ribbons will be awarded based on age. Decisions of the judges are final.

Awards: Ribbons will be awarded for first and second. Blue will be $2 and red will be $1.50.

FLOWERS

Class D Wilma Christian, Superintendent

Welcome to the 2012 Thayer County Fair. Everyone is looking forward to having you all back with your flowers and plants.

Flower exhibits may be entered Wednesday, August 8, from 7 to 9 p.m., or on Thursday, August 9, from 8 to 11 a.m. Entrants should furnish their own containers at their own risk. Release of your flowers will be Sunday, Aug. 12, from 10 to 11 a.m. and not before. Pictures of the top winners will be taken at this time. If you need to have someone else pick up your flowers, you need to make those arrangements and inform the superintendent.

Also, it is asked that you please clean up the flowers and plants on your entries — no dried leaves, etc., make everything eye-catching to the judge.

The names of the flowers should be on each container, as well as the number of the category in which they are to be entered, or be present to give us the information. Suitability of container and arrangement will be considered.

More than one entry may be exhibited in each lot.

Rosette ribbons will be awarded to the two top entries, one for the Outstanding Floral Arrangement and the other to the Outstanding Plant. A rosette ribbon will be given to the Outstanding Junior Exhibit for those ages 18 and under.

This class is open to all growers in Thayer County. No awards given to professional growers.

Check the number of the flowers you need for your entry. Where no number is given, use enough flowers to look nice in your container.

130 Years Ago

F. Kingsley has purchased a new evaporator for his sorghum works.

Misses Lizzie Green and Annie Hess solicited contributions to the amount of $7.25 in a very short time for the purpose of procuring new song books for the Hebron Sunday School.

We learn from the State Journal that the B&M Company is making arrangements to build the road from Chester to this place. Also, from Mr. Ferris, that he was informed while in Lincoln that such was the intention of the company.

J.W. Green, our worthy livery man, is having a new hack put up; J.C. Helfrich is doing the wood work and R.A. McKinzie is doing the iron work. Mr. Green is constantly adding stock to his business and is always able to supply the demand.

John Sawyer has the contract of excavating the basement of the new bank building and is rushing it along as fast as possible.

N.W. Bassore has succeeded in getting a splendid stand of sage hedge around his residence lots. Go thou and do likewise.

William Griffin received by mail the other day a sample of oats raised on his farm in Phillips County, Kansas. The oats were well and closely filled and demonstrates the fact that oats will grow in Kansas as well as in Nebraska.

Dr. Piggott and friends, H. Sherman of Lincoln, Ill., and O. Wilson of Denver called on the Journal. The doctor says that he has 800 acres of corn and 700 acres of small grain that can't be beat. He thinks he will be able to assist the poor this fall; and we are the first applicant for his generosity to consider.

An exchange says that girls all over the state are forming clubs and declining to go with young men who drink smoke or gamble. Now if the boys refuse to go with the girls who paint, chew gum or lace too tight, the millennium would be here.

Notwithstanding the act that Hebron has no saloon, and that our druggists have no permit to sell liquors of any kind, it is evident that tangle-foot is procured in some way, as is demonstrated by the occasional intoxicated condition of some of our citizens. We do not accuse any one of illegally selling the "stuff," but we are curious to know which one of our wells produce such strange water.

Henry Lee, living on the Rowe farm on Spring Creek, has received vouchers for back pension on account of a wound received while in the army, he has yet another claim pending for disease contracted while in the service, he thinks will be allowed soon. It has been more than seven years since his application was sent in. The old adage "better late than never" is good in this case, as Mr. Lee's poor health entitles him to government aid.

Hubbell
Messrs. Conklin and Gow have dissolved partnership by mutual consent, Mr. Conklin continuing the business here. Gow goes to Blue Springs.

Hub Johnson and Andy Agnew have commenced building a grain warehouse 24x38. They intend to buy all the grain in the south half of Thayer county and north half of Republic county.

Belvidere
A co-partnership for the practice of medicine has been entered into between Drs. Hugh McCaw of Belvidere and S.L. Evans of Hebron. Dr. Evans locating at Belvidere.

A young capitalist from Colorado is expected soon to lead to the hymenial altar, one of Belvidere's most highly esteemed cooks and then, what will the section boys do for grub?

120 Years Ago

Alexandria's Republican Club now numbers 65 and still increasing.

Ed Beaver of Stoddard precinct has commenced threshing his grain. He is threshing it from the header instead of allowing it to go through the seating process as customary.

A popcorn stand is being built on the west side of the Ring building.

The County Commissioners report the poor farm in good condition and the paupers well cared for.

The McNally brothers of Deshler sold their farm of 160 acres near that city to a German for $4,250 cash and they retain their crop. They will look around soon for another location. As they are intelligent, enterprising and highly esteemed citizens, it is to be hoped that they will not leave the county.

The Young Men's Republican Club will go in a body to Beatrice to hear Wm. McKinley Jr. The Second Regiment Band will accompany the club.

A number of citizens of Hebron were enjoying the pleasures of camp life in the beautiful grove on R. Ellison's place south of the old fair-ground.

The report of the condition of the Thayer County Bank appears in this issue. The deposits are $99,140.68 and the resources amount to $141,945.38.

Newman and Nedrow of Carleton began threshing season at this place by threshing wheat for T. Brown. The quality of the grain is good and it yielded 41 bushels per acre.

Mr. Neville, Belvidere's brickyard man has another kiln burned and ready for use.

The Belvidere gun club has been organized.

Mrs. Chas. Martin of Alexandria, while watching the tight wire performance Friday evening, fell down the outside stairway and at present writing is quite sick from the effects.

Squire Vinton of Hubbell says he made a very careful and accurate measurement of some corn at his place and the next morning measured it again and that it had grown just three inches in 12 hours.

Sixty-one embryo school teachers took examinations at Hebron, Chester, Davenport and Alexandria in preparation for rural school teaching. To date, 46 of the 86 rural public schools in the county have reported teachers engaged for the coming year. Others, not reporting, have engaged the same instructors as last year.

The Farmers and Merchants Bank of Byron failed to open its doors for business and is now in the hands of the state department of trade and commerce.

The attention of the gentle reader is called to the sensationally emotional new department added to the weekly family comforter, the Hebron Journal. This new department is being conducted by Miss Beatrice Barefax, recently imported from Beverly Hills, Calif., and will be published under her name. Not only does Miss Barefax ask you, but she pleads with you to bring your problems to her. "You would be surprised what an interest I take in your problems, folks," said Miss Barefax. Bring your problems, read the solutions, and weep.
