Six local veterans to board hero flight

ebron Journal-Register hebronjrnews@windstream.net

Bill Williams of Patriotic Productions expects an emotional journey for this 10th flight of the organization's honor series, which treats veterans to day trips in the Washington D.C. area.

"We've got over 50 Purple Hearts, three Silver Stars and six Distinguished Flying Crosses," Williams said of the 500 Vietnam combat veterans going on three, red, white and blue planes June 6.

Six of the veterans are from Thayer County – Ron Kuhlmann of Byron; Dennis Follmer of Davenport; Harvey Sorge and Keith Hintz of Deshler; and Lonny Jacobitz and Rodney Phelps of Hebron.

Kuhlmann said he filled out the application in early March to go on the flight, but held back from sending it in.

"I decided there were more who deserved to go than I did," he said. When a third flight was offered, Kuhlmann went for it.

His Kansas National Guard unit was activated in 1969 and Kuhlmann was with a mobile maintenance team that repaired jeeps and lighter vehicles in southern Vietnam.

He has heard of the hero flights – there have been nine in all. Seven flew World War II veterans to the nation's capital in 2008-2009. Two more planes later carried Korean veterans. A total of 2,100 veterans have boarded the flights thus far. Kuhlmann spent some time in Washington during his training before and after the war.

"Oh, I think it will be great," he said of the flight. "Just the whole trip in general.'

Follmer also went over in '69 after being drafted the year before into the infantry.

He is just grateful Agent Orange didn't affect him earlier as veterans struggled for relief from the government.

"A lot of vets had to fight and fight to get help from the VA, and didn't get nothing," he said.

But Follmer, a wounded veteran, who has had 13 stint procedures and heart disease since 2008 from the chemical cocktail used to wipe out forest cover in Vietnam, mentions Thayer Central first.

Students there raised $8,175 for the flights, the most any school in Nebraska has contributed.

"I'm really surprised what the people have given in Thayer County to see this flight go on and really happy with the way the school got behind us and raised all that money,' Follmer said.

It's important to him people don't forget.

'We left a lot of people over there and a lot are still suffering from the war," he said.

Sorge, who was drafted at 23 years old, was in country for a little over seven months, beginning in 1965 as a member of the second half of the 1st Infantry Division.

He was in communications and carried the radio while staying in contact with the different squads.

Sorge is looking forward to the

"I'm going to really enjoy it," he said. Hintz was 19 years old when he went to Omaha Sept. 22, 1969, for his physical. You get called up to do what you have to do," he said.

He landed in Vietnam Feb. 9, 1969. He wouldn't leave until April 29, 1970.

He was assigned to 1st Battalion, 5th Field Artillery of the 1st Infantry

As part of a mobile artillery unit, Hintz got around.

"As we were going from place to place, I wrote everything down,"

Hintz mapped his locations in Vietnam and Cambodia. He was in least 20 different areas from the Iron Triangle to the north and west.

One of the larger draws for Hintz on the trip to Washington will be The Vietnam Veterans Memorial Wall.

"I want to pay my respects to some of my close friends," he said.

Hintz said on May, 24, 1969, they received orders to fire upon target. His job was to load 105mm shells into a howitzer, but his lieutentant took over and as he was loading it, the canon exploded, killing the lieutentant and two other men while injuring seven.

"I did not get a scratch on me for some reason I still do not understand. Our gun crew were like brothers. We knew everything about each other," Hintz said. After that, he didn't make close friends during the remainder of his tour.

Jacobitz was a Navy man and in Vietnam twice with the first aboard the USS Gunston Hall (LSD5) until he received orders to return for survival training in San Diego, Calif.

Jacobitz then went back to patrolling D.C. along the Vietnam coast and rivers. Jacobitz, a gunner's mate, was in the first boat up the river after daybreak one morning. They'd been called out in the middle of the

"I was wounded in a fight," he said. 'We were medevacked out.'

In 1968, Jacobitz said the United States had one of the largest influxes ever when it came to its troops.

"There were over a million of us that year. We shouldn't have ever been there," Jacobitz said.

Phelps was drafted in 1970 and assigned to a security platoon for the 14th Aviation Headquarters in the army.

The base was soaked with Agent Orange.

"Later, we found out that's why no grass grew around our building. The whole area had been sprayed before we built the camp," he said.

Phelps was responsible for walking the fence, 12 hours on, 12 hours

He documented his journey on rolls of 24-exposure film, enough to compile three albums.

Phelps recalled a group of guys who were playing cards in a tent over a floor of solid ammunition, and took a direct hit.

The army couldn't exclusively identify those in the tent and consequently, didn't list the men as killed in action.

"It didn't really seem fair to the family since they were the only ones that were missing," Phelps said.

Phelps had a close call during one 21-day mission.

"We had driven over a mine and pulled over in the shade. The next one came and hit the mine," he said.

He's never been to Washington

"I think it's a good deal," he said.

Kuhlmann, Follmer, Sorge, Hintz, Jacobitz and Phelps will be part of the largest count of Vietnam veterans from a single state to visit the memorial wall in Washington D.C.

The flight festivities will have several more local ties.

Thayer Central Alumni, Allison Tietjen, will be along for the trip as a guardian. She rallied for the flights while in high school and continued her quest by working with Patriotic Productions and reaching out to other schools for fundraising.

And, Thayer Central will be one of the highlights during the preflight banquet in LaVista, Williams said.

The kindergarten class joined the high school earlier this year to help raise funds for the honor flight via handmade patriotic bracelets and donations.

Williams said a class photo will be shown, along with an announcement about the effort and teachers, Anne Heitman and Amy Tietjen who helped lead the fundraising.

The next morning, early, the red, white and blue planes will leave in 15minute intervals for Washington.

Amy Tietjen will stay behind with the spouses and families of the veterans on the homefront buses.

"They'll get the royal treatment," Heitman said.

Meanwhile in Washington, the veterans will first visit the Lincoln Memorial. From there, they will see the Korean and Vietnam Memorials. A ceremony will be held at the

Quilts of Valor presented in Belvidere

The Memorial Day service at United Church of Christ in Belvidere included a presentation by Janelle Bruning of two Quilts of Valor for Veterans Leila Morrison and Loren Else. Morrison, above with Linda Hudson, felt it was a privilege to serve her country on the front lines of World War II for the 118th Evacuation hospital. The hospital was a group of tents that constantly moved with the line. Morrison arrived in 1944 and received two battle stars with one from Battle of the Bulge. At 94 years old, Morrison took listeners at the church back in time to a concentration camp and the soldiers who never complained of their wounds. Else was accompanied by his son, Tim Else and grandson, Isaac Else. Else said he was lucky enough during his service in Germany not to experience warfare.

The occupants were also somewhat wrecked and all were brought to the Blue Valley Hospital where their wounds were dressed and some surgical attention was given.

Byron: William Hoops, our departed "Father Hoops," who may be called a patriarch among us, was born before the middle of the former century, on Jan. 21, 1839, at Schwalingen, Hanover, Germany. There he was baptized, and after receiving the necessary religious instruction, was confirmed at the age of 14 years.

In 1866 at the age of 27, he emigrated to America, finding a home first at Davenport, Iowa, for a few years, and then in Nemaha county, Nebraska. Here he was united in marriage with Anna Bohling. This union was blessed with 12 children. Besides these children, two orphans also found temporary home with his family.

Father and Mother enjoyed a happy married life, and had the privilege of sharing joy and sorrow with each other for 65 years. In 1892, Father Hoops and his large family moved to Thayer county to secure a farm place and it was their home until 1910 when they moved to Byron.

Father Hoops did his share in building churches, twice in Nemaha county and twice in this community, namely for St. Peter's, north of Byron, and then in 1907 for the church in Byron.

A trio of suspects in recent Hebron and Geneva burglaries were questioned last week at Hot Springs, Ark., by Thayer County Sheriff Herb Schoenfeld and Fillmore Sheriff Albert Tobiassen, but the officers said results of the grillings were apparently insufficient to definitely connect the men with the Nebraska break-ins. The men were questioned about a $5,000 safe-cracking at the Ells Oil Co., here three weeks ago, and the burglary of several Geneva business places two nights later.

It isn't unusual to hear local farmers claim they went in the hold in 1955, but one of them says it's already happened to him this year. It all came about the other afternoon when Albert Braun, who farms just west of Hebron, was plowing a garden for a neighbor. As he was trying to get into a corner to do a really good job, his tractor suddenly dropped out from under him. Only the fact that it was held back by a mounted plow kept the machine from going completely out of sight. Investigation revealed that at some time someone had covered a large cesspool with plants and about a foot of dirt. During many years and through several different occupancies, it had been forgotten. Anyhow, Albert Braun is already out of the hole in 1956, but it took a wrecker from town to do it.

EA honored with ACEC/NE Merit ward Rosiland K. Brettmann

EA Engineering, Science, and Technology, Inc., PBC (EA), a leading provider of interdisciplinary environmental services, announced today that it was honored with an Engineering Excellence Merit Award by The American Council of Engineering Companies of Nebraska (ACEC/NE).

ACEC/NE recognized EA for the high degree of achievement demonstrated in its preparation of the Little Blue River Basin Water Management Plan (Plan) on behalf of the Little Blue and Tri-Basin Natural Resources Districts

In addition to receiving a Merit Award, the project was also recognized as the Category Winner for Studies, Research and Consulting Engineering Services. Completed in September 2015, the Plan establishes a comprehensive strategy to manage both water quality and quantity in the Little Blue Basin including both surface water and groundwater – an innovative approach within Nebraska.

Involved from its inception in 2013, EA helped the NRDs successfully secure project funding through multiple grants. In preparing the Plan, EA provided technical expertise, completing two water quality studies, in addition to thoroughly evaluating existing data detailing the Basin's water resources and their uses.

EA was also instrumental in facilitating resource agency coordination and the public involvement process to ensure that decisions were made in consideration of, and to the benefit of, public needs and preferences. The final Plan provides a blueprint for managing the Basin's water resources for years to come, including implementation targets and action items to address known deficiencies in water quality and quantity.

"It is an honor for EA and the NRDs to receive this award, especially as the project clearly reflects the vision of sustainable water resources shared by the NRDs and EA," stated Dale Schlautman, Manager of EA's Lincoln, Nebraska Operations. "The recognition underscores the collaborative work of the NRDs staff and EA's project team, to make this important project such a

Deadlines approaching to report prevented plant, failed acres in Thayer County

Thayer County USDAFarm Service Agency (FSA) Executive Director, Jay VanWesten, reminds producers that filing accurate and timely acreage certification reports for all crops and land uses, including prevented plant or failed acres, can prevent the potential loss of FSA program benefits.

"Excessive moisture and severe storms in the county may have prevented producers from planting an intended crop or may have damaged an existing crop," said Mr. Van Westen. "Producers should report any crop acres they intended to plant, but due to extreme weather, were prevented from planting."

Prevented planting acreage must be reported on FSA form CCC-576, Notice of Loss no later than 15 calendar days after the final planting date, as established by FSA and the Risk Management Agency

In Thayer County the final planting date for corn is May 25, 2016, and the final planting date for soybeans is June 10, 2016.

"In order to comply with FSA program eligibility requirements, producers are encouraged to visit our office to report their prevented plant or failed acreage," said Mr. VanWesten.

According to CED Van-Westen, producers should also use FSA form CCC-576, Notice of Loss to report failed acres. Failed acres, except those covered by the Non-Insured Crop Disaster Assistance Program (NAP), must be reported to FSA prior to the disposition or destruction of the crop. For losses on crops covered by NAP, producers must file a Notice of Loss within 15 days of the occurrence of the disaster or when losses become apparent.

If a producer is unable to report the prevented planting acres within the 15 calendar days following the final planting date, a late-filed report can be submitted. Late-filed reports will only be accepted if FSA conducts a farm visit to verify the eligible disaster condition that prevented the producer from planting the crop. A measurement service fee will be charged.

For questions regarding crop acreage certification and crop loss reports, please contact the Thayer County FSA office at 402-768-6520.

National Employee Wellness Month

June is National Employee Wellness Month. This monthlong initiative helps business leaders learn from best practices from other companies on successful strategies on how to engage their employees in healthy behavior changes to help reduce healthcare costs.

In recent years, there has been an increase in the number of businesses that reward employees for improving their health. This is a sign that employers are looking for ways to improve the health of their employees while also helping to cut their healthcare spending.

For example, the percentage of employers offering health and lifestyle programs jumped from 33 percent in 2008 to 45 percent in 2012. Rewards or bonuses for completing a health and wellness program have increased from 23 percent in 2008 to 35 percent in 2012.

Employers recognize that providing employees with the opportunity to improve their health can increase morale, confidence and productivity. This is coupled with organizations wanting to find new ways to manage costs, as the economy slowly improves. Healthier employees, equals less sick days and Workman's Comp claims. Benefits the employer receives even when an employee isn't on the company insurance plan.

Wellness plans typically offer health-risk assessments, health fairs and screenings as well as online, over-the-phone or on-location coaching to help employees establish a baseline health status and determine where and how to invest their time. Employees engaged in integrated programs often receive encouragement for participation through lower health premiums. Some businesses even offer rewards to their employees that participate.

Since 2014, Thayer County Health Services has been offering Corporate Wellness Programs to area businesses. The hospital wellness team works with participating busiHealth News Thayer County Health Services nesses to create a customized wellness program and health screening. Together they assess their needs, goals, and create a comprehensive, sustainable solution for their work-site wellness program.

These wellness programs include a health risk assessment screening to determine which employees are at risk for developing a chronic disease. To date, the wellness team has done approximately 1,000 individuals from different participating businesses.

Most commonly, the Wellness team performs an on-site health screening that includes fasting glucose, lipid panel (cholesterol), blood pressure, waist circumference, and a health risk assessment completed online by the participant. The employees that are identified as high risk are offered a 10-week healthy lifestyles course that includes classes, as well as one-on-one health coaching to assist with making lifestyle changes and learning activities they can do to improve their overall health.

Starting in the fall of 2016, Thayer County Health Services will open the new wellness center being built on the north side of the hospital. This wellness center will be another tool to help businesses and individuals get active and healthy. The facility will be available, on a membership basis, to help individuals and businesses reach their health and wellness goals.

The most important thing to remember about any wellness program is the first step is to get moving. For more information on wellness programs, please contact your healthcare

Ruth

Eickman Ruth Irene Eickman of Lincoln passed away at the Monarch House Hospice Care Facility on May 28, 2016, at the age of 87. Ruth will be remembered for her sharp wit, willing leadership, and faithful service to her family, church, educational and local communities. Born on the family farm in

Republic Co., Kansas, August 27, 1928, Ruth was the fifth of seven children born to Lawrence William and Margaret (Davis) Eickman. After Ruth's mother died, her father remarried, adding a second mother, two more sisters and a brother to the family. As her brothers and sisters married and began families, Ruth shared in the lives of her forty nieces and nephews.

Ruth attended the Victor School #36 in Republic County, Kan., through sixth grade and finished school in Chester. She attended Wesleyan College in Lincoln, graduating with a Bachelor Degree, earning her first teaching certificate. Ruth continued her education, completing a Masters Degree at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. She began her life-long teaching career in Beatrice, also teaching two years in Sydney, before moving to Lincoln.

During her 39 years in Lincoln, Ruth served Bethany, Pershing, Norwood Park, Rousseau, Holmes, and Randolph Schools as either a teacher or principal. She was also the Director of Federal Programs at the Central Office from 1964-1971. Before retiring from Lincoln Public Schools in 1988, Ruth chose to leave administration and go back to classroom teaching so she could experience, once again, that daily joy of watching young children learn. She joined the teaching staff of Randolph Elementary School where she taught kindergarten. Retirement gave Ruth the opportunity to fulfill a lifelong desire to serve others beyond the U.S. borders. She became a Peace Corp volunteer in 1989 and spent two years as a teacher trainer in Cameroon. West Africa. Upon her return from Africa, she shared her souvenirs and experiences with hundreds of children and adults through speaking engagements. Other volunteer services included work with Heifer Project International, The Lincoln Literacy Council, The Refugee Women's Sewing Group, The Lincoln Public Schools Foundation, Christ United Methodist Church, Eastmont Towers, and many Iverna M. Harms of Hebron, passed away on May 27, 2016, at Blue Valley Lutheran Nursing Home in Hebron, at the age of 93 years. She was born to Carl and Anna (George) Schliem on November 4, 1922, on a farm near Gladstone.

Iverna grew up in the Gladstone area attending the country school. She was baptized and confirmed at Zion Evangelical Church near Gladstone.

Iverna married Elmer Harms on May 12, 1943. They had three children, Joyce, Russell and Nancy.

She taught Vacation Bible School and sang in the Church Choir. She also sold Avon for several years. She was a member of Zion Lutheran Church in Hubbell and later joined Faith Lutheran Church in Hebron. Iverna and Elmer enjoyed the Bible study group they attended while members of Zion. She was also a member of the Hubbell American Legion Auxiliary and Hubbell

Women's Club. Most of all she was a farm wife, working alongside Elmer, whether it be driving a tractor, farm truck or bringing lunches to the field in her special cardboard box. They farmed in the Alexandria, Gladstone and Hubbell communities. She especially enjoyed all of her flowers she had planted around their farmyard. Raising baby kittens was a special hobby of hers.

Iverna and Elmer were season ticket holders to the UNL basketball games. She also enjoyed watching the UNL volleyball games on television. Iverna moved to Courtyard Terrace Apartments in March 2009 and lived there until she moved to Blue Valley Nursing Home in June 2014. She felt the staff at both Courtyard Terrace and the Nursing Home were second families to her. She also enjoyed her "special" nurses from Asera Care Hospice. She is preceded in death by her parents, Carl and Anna Schliem; her beloved husband, Elmer; daughter, Joyce; and son, Russell. Left to cherish her memory is her daughter, Nancy and husband John of Hebron; granddaughter, Amanda Fangmeier-Juricek and her husband John of Denton; grandson, Ethan Fangmeier of Lincoln; sister-in-law, Bernice Harms of Fairbury; and nieces, nephews and friends.

Wiedel runs to fourth year win

By Nancy McGill Hebron Journal-Register hebronjrnews@windstream.net

Packing seven gold medals from his four- year run with the Thayer Central High School Boys Track team, senior Simon Wiedel credits encouragement.

Wiedel is amazed at the reassurance he's received on and off the track.

"I really can't say enough about the constant support from everyone on Facebook, the fire truck rides and everyone waving," he said three days after he ran the 100-meter dash in 10.90 for his fourth state win.

"It's kinda cool to look back on it," he said about his streak that kicked off in 2013 with a time of 10.85.

Wiedel was a freshman who also won the 200-meter dash in 22.39.

The clock ticked up to an 11.02 in his sophomore year. He was third in the 200.

As a junior, Wiedel picked up the speed with a 10.82 and second place finish in the 200. This year, he won the longer stretch in 22.35, sealing up three of his four events with a 21-foot, 9-inch first place leap in the long jump.

Wiedel was fifth in the triple jump, competing with fellow C-boy Jadyn Dightman, who took second at 44 feet, .75 inches, one-inch shy of Kimball's winner.

As he reflects on the last four years, Wiedel said each season had its obstacles.

"I ran really well my freshman year. That was probably the peak of my training," he

An illness hit in his sophomore year. Wiedel found himself working from scratch to build his strength back up after his body shut down.

By the state meet that year, his speed wasn't at the level he would have liked.

"It was one of the tougher seasons," he said. "My junior year wasn't great, but I still ran pretty well."

Trouble this year brewed as Wiedel rose to defend a shot against Fillmore Central during Thayer Central's basketball season, and came down to a foot injury.

For his recovery, he zeroed in on being healthy enough to compete in all four events at the state track meet in Omaha. "My preliminaries were decent times," he said. "Mr. Solomon said, 'I told you I'd get you there,'" Wiedel said about head Titan track coach, Bryan Solomon.

"Once I get him for track, we focus on the finer details of a race and focus on making him stronger. When state comes around, he is ready to compete in a quality meet," Solomon said.

The state meet might not seem like a series of tough events, Wiedel said.

But, after he made six competitive jumps, warmed up in the heat and hopped on over to win the 100, Wiedel said it took a lot out of him.

"It's go, go, go in that heat. You have to factor in, it is a tough meet. But I'll take that consistent four years," he said.

He'll also covet the bumps along the way that smoothed out to give Wiedel the advantage.

His simultaneous club and public school training on the track seemed to cause a rift for him early on, but as Wiedel shed the club training, he grew with the team.

"Mr. Solomon was all about the team. He really cares," Wiedel said, adding yes, he wants everyone to meet their individual goals, however, the team is equally important.

"It made it a lot of fun for me. We really work together,' Wiedel said.

Solomon's philosophy in track and field is to keep

Thayer Central Senior Simon Wiedel runs his district race to qualify for the state meet.

improving every meet. Athletes run to get personal bests," Solomon, who coached Wiedel all four years and his record-setting brother, Seth Wiedel for two years, said.

The advantage will help out as he advances in his sport to the University of Nebraska-Lincoln team and even throughout life itself, he said.

The experience, coupled with the humble foundation his parents laid, contributed to his success.

"Without that core support, Idon't think I could have done what I did," he said. He said he'll focus on what he can do now as a young college freshman who wants a healthier lifestyle and to excel at running.

"I have no specific goal, just to keep improving," he said.

Track doesn't have a limit, unlike other sports, Wiedel said.

"I can just keep going," he said.

In under two weeks, he will join a bridge program at UNL to academically and athletically jumpstart his freshman year.

Wiedel plans to major in elementary education.

National CPR/AED Awareness Week is June 1st-7th

Cardiac arrest – an electrical problem with the heart that causes an irregular heartbeat and interrupts blood flow to the brain, lungs and other organs – is a leading cause of death. Each year, over 326,000 out-of-hospital sudden cardiac arrests (OHSCA) occur in the U.S. Sadly, fewer than 10% of those who have an OHSCA survive. CPR and AED use within the first minutes of cardiac arrest can double or even triple a person's chance of survival. In December of 2007, Congress unanimously passed a resolution to celebrate June 1-7 each year as National to highlight how tens of thou-more Americans know how to do CPR and use an automated external defibrillator (AED). Be the Difference for

Someone You Love

According to the American Heart Association, about 70% of out-of-hospital sudden cardiac arrests (OHSCA) occur in homes. That means that if you need to do CPR in a heart emergency, you will most likely be trying to save the life of someone you love, a spouse, a family member, or a friend. Unfortunately, less than half of the people who suffer an OHSCA get the immediate help they need CPR/AED Awareness Week before emergency responders arrive. Bystander or Handssands of lives can be saved if Only© CPR - CPR without breaths – is the solution to this problem. It is simple and easy to do, and it has been shown to be as effective as regular CPR for witnessed cardiac arrest in adults or teens that occur at home, at work, or in a public place.

Bystander CPR and AED Use

An adult or teen who SUD-DENLY collapses, is UN-RESPONSIVE, and NOT BREATHING or NOT BREATHING NORMALLY is likely having a cardiac

If you SEE an adult or teen suddenly collapse:

1. CALL 911 or send someone else to call 911 and get an AED, if one is available.

2.PUSHHARDANDFAST in the center of the chest to the beat of the disco song "Staying Alive." The compression rate is 100-120/minute at a depth of at least two inches.

3. USE the AED as soon as it arrives. TURN IT ON and follow the voice prompts. Other important

Information

 When a person has cardiac arrest, survival depends on immediately getting CPR from someone nearby. CPR keeps the blood and oxygen flowing to the victim's brain and other organs until an automated external defibrillator (AED) can be used to shock the heart. The shock interrupts the bad heart rhythm and gives the heart a chance to RESET itself in a normal rhythm. Chest compressions should only be interrupted when the AED is analyzing the heart rhythm and when a shock is being delivered. An AED will not shock a normal heart rhythm.

• You may break some ribs when you are doing chest compressions, but doing CPR and using an AED gives the OHSCA victim his best chance of survival. DOING CPR CAN ONLYHELP. BROKEN RIBS HEAL.

• The American Heart Association still recommends CPR with compressions and breaths for infants and children and for people who are victims of drowning, drug overdose, or who have collapsed due to breathing problems.

• Take 90 Seconds to Learn How to Save a Life. Go to www.heart.org/handsonlycpr to watch the Hands-Only® CPR video and encourage friends and family to watch

• The Public Health Solutions Saving Rural Hearts Program teaches FREE Bystander/Chest Compression Only CPR/AED classes. Contact Kate Lange, RN, BSN, to schedule a class at your church, school, workplace, club meeting, and etc. 402-826-6694 or klange@phsneb.org.

HEBRON WHOLESALE POWER CONTRACT John Krajewski, with JK Energy

Consulting was present to report his findings from the request for proposals/energy study that was included in the contract between JK Energy and the City of Hebron. John reported that the RFP was sent to 17 suppliers with responses from 7 suppliers. John also made recommendations that were derived from the study. *Robert Dodes entered meeting

The recommendations were

1. Sign the proposed wholesale power agreement with our current supplier with is Nebraska Public Power District. This would be a 20year contract with minor changes to the agreement.

2. Sign the proposal from Norris Public Power District which is structured similar to the Nebraska Public Power District proposal. The Norris proposal is structured similarly, but with a projected 3.5% savings to the City of Hebron on the City's wholesale power bill due to Norris' load profile. Also included with the agreement with Norris would be an Emergency Operation and Maintenance Assistance Agreement. John explained that in his opinion both of these options would provide the retail customers of the City of Hebron with reliable and affordable power.

That being said John recommended to sign the agreement with Norris Public Power due to the rate savings and the Emergency Operation and Maintenance Assistance Agreement.

City Administrator Chris Fangmeier stated that the City would have to terminate our current agreement with Nebraska Public Power before signing the new agreement with Norris Public

In the afternoon, visits to the World War II Memorial, Arlington Cemetery, the Kennedy graves, and the Iwo Jima and Air Force Memorials are scheduled.

A ceremony is planned at Eppley Airfield upon everyone's return.

The Daughters of the American Revolution will pass out hundreds of donated yellow

"Every veteran must receive a yellow rose," Williams said.

He and his wife, Evonne, who is from Byron, started the honor flights after reading a story about one.

The first honor flight donation of $70,000 came from Dan Whitney, also known as Larry the Cable Guy.

Williams said the donation carried the first honor flight to Washington.

New FFA to grow roots in Hebron Local is where it's at for Thayer Central.

Last year, local beef was added to the school's menu and this year, the FFA program designed a sustainable plan to factor in locally-grown fruit and produce. The FFA program is also in its first year with advisor Rachel Eickman

They started looking for grants. Two students, Logan

Tietjen and McKenna Tietjen, applied for the Farm Credit Services Working Here Fund for a $2,000 gift.

The FCSAmerica awarded the grant to Thayer Central FFA, one of 107 to receive the grant in the first three months of 2016.

"We understand that by educating tomorrow's farmers today, we are supporting the future of rural communities," Amy Blomenberg, vice president of retail operations at FCSAmerica's Beatrice office, said in a news release.

An empty lot west of the school where the city flattened a house will serve as FFA's growing spot for tomatoes, cucumbers, peppers and cool season crops such as lettuce and broccoli.

"We also planted two fruit trees - two apple and two pear," Eickman said.

Overflow fruit and produce will be directed to Central Market when school is out, They'll grow the produce in stock tanks, filled with donated soil by S&P Dirtworks of Belvidere.

The FFA students will buddy up in the summer to take care of the garden with two-person teams each week.

"The dream plan is to get a greenhouse there," Eickman said, noting a greenhouse would generate more produce for school lunches.

Club hits high note with 25th anniversary

The Women's Achievement Club of Hebron celebrates its 25th anniversary this year.

The club has 12 members who meet in each other's homes to coordinate annual activities such as, holiday decorating at Roosevelt Park, the Halloween Parade judging, decking the town in American flags on appropriate holidays, Mr. and Miss Firecracker and the nativity scene on the courthouse lawn.

"It's a nice group to put around the table," past president, Elaine O'Neal said.

She said as many as 17 children in one year have interviewed for the Firecrackers. "They might perform for you, too," O'Neal smiled.

Cindy Petersen is the current president. The organization formed in 1991 to create a locally-based community service group. O'Neal said WAC wanted to be independent to "keep the money in town" after the nationwide Business and Professional Women's Club wanted members to contribute
