- A Sizzling Summer Saturday -

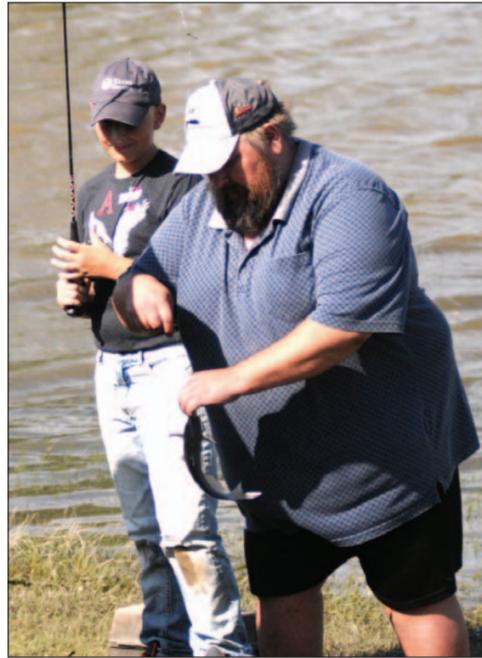

Seasonal activities, storm keep locals busy over the weekend

Locals fit in a fistful of summertime activities Saturday before severe storms packing 60-80 m.p.h. winds ripped apart trees, played havoc with roofs and flattened crops and gardens. Small hail fell in some areas, but most of the damage overnight was from the wind. Starting at about midnight, a wide line of storms, reported to be moving at 105 m.p.h., pushed across Thayer County dropping between a half-inch and inch of rain. Most communities reported tree damage; some had damage to buildings or vehicles from blown over trees and branches. Some rural areas experienced power outages. The rest of the week shows an unstable climate as storms are expected again Thursday and this weekend.

Prior to the stormy night, the community of Deshler held its annual Daze celebration. Ike's Fishing Contest witnessed a huge turnout with 119 entries. Winners of the two age groups can be found inside this issue. Winners of the 10k and 5k runs can be found at deshlernebraska.com.

Also, the Hebron Legion baseball team hosted a wood bat tournament over the weekend raising funds for cancer research. The team will make its donation at the annual Relay for Life event on July 25.

For the 2014 spring season, storms have been particularly intense and unpredictable. Stay alert to changing weather conditions while heading out to summertime events.

Scout flag project continues to grow...

Hebron Boy Scouts will bring you a flag on four different holidays, install it, collect it at day's end, and maintain its condition until the next holiday as part of a fundraiser. All you need to do is contact Scout leaders Roger Virus (402-768-3581) or Chuck Fink (402-200-0142). "For $30 a year we'll bring you a flag on Memorial Day, Flag Day, Fourth of July and Labor Day," Fink said. "We'll install the pvc pipe holder in your lawn, then place the flag, the morning of the holiday and take it down in the evening and store it until the next holiday." Fink said the idea came from an annual round table meeting of Scout leaders. On Flag Day, this last Saturday, the Scouts installed 65 flags throughout Hebron. "The City donated $1,000 to our project to help us get started," Fink added. "Rich Koch donated the pvc pipe." The Scouts are raising funds to go to a boy scout camp of their choice.

Council diligent against nuisance properties

Junk vehicles under watchful eye, too

By Jacque Rocole
Hebron Journal-Register

The standing agenda item - nuisance properties - took a good chunk of time out of the regular Hebron city council meeting June 2. And although the issue is visited each month, the list continues to grow as more of these properties catch the eyes of city officials.

Leading the charge, councilman Kurk Wiedel steered the board through the listed properties again this month. And on this particular Monday, four of eight earmarked property owners were in attendance; one questioning why the city threatened to tear his house down, another stating he thought he was done doing what the council wanted him to do

Wait to collect

For someone who can wait until age 70 to take Social Security, the reward is a lifetime benefit that is 76 percent higher than if taken at age 62.

By Tim Marema and Roberto Gallardo

Thayer County residents who are nearing retirement age can increase their lifetime income if they can wait a bit to start drawing Social Security benefits.

In Thayer County 823 residents, or 16 percent of the population, are aged 55 to 64. Those are the years when folks start thinking seriously about retirement.

Workers can start taking Social Security at age 62. But for those who can wait, the benefits go up.

"If you need Social Security early, take it, you've earned it," said Vir-

Belvidere

Closed Up. The store owned and operated by J.L. Hole. Not because of any lack of greenbacks with which to pay his bills, not because of any fear on the part of creditors that they would not receive full payment when bills were due, but simply because Mr. Hole and his good looking clerk, George, were tired and it was 9 o'clock and time to close.

The "Belvidere Blues" has accepted a challenge from the "Harmony Shin Peelers" and will play a match game on H.S.P. grounds near Prairie Star.

Letter To The Editor

Letter to the Editor:

I'm writing this letter in hopes you will publish it.

In your June 12, 2014, paper there is an article about the safety of our children that attend school in Hebron. It was once again voted against building or adding to the main school. Cost of the project seemed to be the main issue why it didn't get done.

But, amazing, right below that article was a story about a new community center being built. Why? Shouldn't safety of our children and grandchildren be more important?

A building for parties and our events is fine, don't get me wrong. But I feel the safety of the kids should be first. The children will benefit from being safe and secure all year long. How often will the community building really be used?

I feel a community center can be built later. Children can't be in attendance at events that are held at a Community Center if, God forbid, something happens and they are no longer with us. Consider this before investing money in a building that isn't as important as children of our school system.

Thank you.

Karen Stanley

Employee Wellness Month

June is National Employee Wellness Month. This month-long initiative helps business leaders learn about successful strategies centered on prevention to engage their employees in healthy behavior changes.

Company wellness programs represent a broad shift in the way Americans think about wellness. People are slowly starting to realize that we don't have to wait until 5 p.m. to think about making healthy choices. In fact, the workplace is often where they may find the inspiration needed to lead a healthy lifestyle.

Health experts are also finding that employee wellness programs are about more than just cutting healthcare costs.

Over the last five years, there has been an increase in the number of businesses that offer benefits that reward employees for improving their health. This is a sign that employers are looking for ways to improve the health of their employees while also cutting their healthcare spending.

Unfortunately, that doesn't mean employee wellness programs are a cure-all for the nation's health struggles. Experts are still perplexed as to how to measure the impacts of these programs, what exactly should be measured, and what makes a wellness program successful.

Employers have started to see they can improve the morale and productivity of their employees by providing them with this new opportunity to improve their health. This new way of thinking encourages healthier behaviors, improves the health of employees, and helps employers find a cost effective way to help manage their healthcare expenses.

Wellness plans typically offer health-risk assessments, health fairs and screenings as well as on-line, over-the-phone or on-location coaching to help employees establish a baseline health status and determine where and how to invest their time.

Some companies are even using social media tools in their wellness programs to help motivate and cultivate desired behaviors into simple, small steps geared to each individual. Employees engaged in integrated programs often receive encouragement for participation through lower health premiums. Some businesses even offer rewards for participation. These rewards may include items such as gym memberships, discount cards, or free health equipment like pedometers.

Looking back to the 1980s, only one in ten employers understood how prevention could turn back the dial on an individual's health risks for many diseases. A better understanding of how prevention programs can impact an individual's overall health is probably why even during a slower economy, spending on wellness programs by American businesses has increased.

Thayer County Health Services is committed to help our patients remain healthy while preventing disease and/or injury. Our wellness program has tools available to assist businesses and individuals. One way is through educational programs and community events.

The first step in starting any successful wellness plan is to just start moving.

On the 4th of July, the wellness committee at Thayer County Health Services will be once again hosting a 5K/1M Freedom Run. They would like to invite everyone to come out and join them at this fun event to promote individual and family fitness. For more information visit our website thayercountyhealth.com or call 402-768-6041. We hope to see you there!

Don't Bring the Bed Bugs Home

Summer time means vacation, camping at the lake and kids attending many different camps. It may be a time that families encounter bed bugs and you don't want to bring them home with you. Human bed bugs are found worldwide and they move from place to place as humans travel. They are flat, wingless and reddish brown in color and shaped similar to an apple seed.

During the day, bed bugs hide in cracks and crevices close to where people sleep. At night they come out of their hiding places to feed. They survive on the blood they extract from humans (or pets) and can survive 6 - 12 months without food in hotels or vacant apartment buildings. They do not spread disease, but people do not want to encounter them and definitely do not want to bring them home.

When traveling, the more places you stay the greater the chances you have to encounter them. According to Barb Ogg, UNL Extension Educator located in Lancaster County, there are some things you can do to minimize the risk:

1) Check the room for bed bugs and their fecal deposits. Because sheets are changed often, you should look between the mattress and base and behind the headboard. If the bugs are found, ask for another room or stay at another location.

2) Don't place clothing, luggage, computer cases or purses on a bed or floor

3) When you return home, don't take your luggage into your home immediately. Outdoors or in a garage remove the clothing from your luggage and place into garbage bags and seal with a twisty tie. Take the bag of clothing and immediately wash the clothing in hot water with detergent or place them in the dryer for 30 minutes. Throw the garbage bags away and then examine toiletries, shoes, etc. carefully before bringing them inside.

4) Store your luggage in a garage or place it in a car when temperatures are hot in the summer. Bugs die at about 120F; it takes 130F to kill the bug eggs. It can be helpful to use duffel type bags that can be heat-treated in the dryer.

Ms. Ogg has good information about prevention and treatment (with pictures) about bed bugs in her article on the UNL Extension office in Lancaster County website at <http://lancaster.unl.edu/pest/resources/bedbug263.shtml>.

Parkview Haven receives deficiency-free rating

The residents, staff, and board of directors of Parkview Haven Skilled Nursing Home in Deshler are excited to announce receipt of a deficiency free rating following this year's annual survey by the Nebraska Department of Health and Human Services. This is quite an accomplishment as only eight percent of the 227 facilities in Nebraska receive a deficiency free rating per year. Nursing homes are one of the most highly regulated industries in the United States, along with nuclear energy and aviation.

By way of explanation, all Nebraska nursing facilities are surveyed annually. This unscheduled/unannounced survey is required to be done within fifteen months of the previous survey. All aspects of the facility are included in the survey - physical plant, nursing, dietary, staffing, activities, social services, and interviews are done with family and residents. The purposes of the survey are to assure that residents are receiving quality care in a safe environment and that all regulatory requirements are met.

Positive comments received from the surveyors included the maintenance and cleanliness of the campus - both outside and inside; how well kept and happy the residents were; the interaction by the staff with the residents and each other; the care given to the residents; that there were no complaints; and the longevity of the staff. The majority of Parkview Haven's employees have been here over ten years, with many of them 15 years and over, and ten have been with Parkview over twenty years.

Information about the facility can be viewed at parkviewhavenfacilities.com.

Francis Roesner

Francis Bernard Anthony Roesner, 80, of Salina, Kan., died June 16, 2014, at his home surrounded by family. He was born August 20, 1933, in Salina, Kan., to Frank and Katherine (Stover) Roesner. He was the fifth of six children.

On June 17, 1961, he was united in marriage to Charlene Heidrick at St. John's Catholic Church in Beloit, Kan. Seven children blessed their marriage.

Francis graduated from Sacred Heart High School, Salina, in 1951. He served in the U.S. Army from 1953-55 and was in the Army Reserves until 1961. He received his BA in Speech and Drama and English from Marymount College of Kansas in 1964, and his MA in Speech and Drama from Kansas State University in 1969.

Francis had a long and diverse career in education. His positions included serving as principal of St. Peter Claver College, (British Honduras) Belize, Central America; Diocesan Lay Director of the original Papal Volunteer program; Religious Education Coordinator for the western slope of Colorado; and Director of the Salina Migrant Children Education Program.

Forty-two years, he worked at Marymount College of Kansas as a Professor of Speech and Drama. He was also an adjunct professor of speech at Kansas State University in Salina and at Kansas Wesleyan University. He later taught Language Arts and Drama at Sacred Heart High School, Salina, and at Solomon Jr./Sr. High, Solomon, Kan.

Francis was also a development director at Marymount College, a Saline County (Kansas) appraiser, a real estate broker, and the owner of Roesner Realty. He served on the Saline county election board and was a municipal judge of New Cambria, Kan. He was a member of Sacred Heart Cathedral, Salina, and an honorary life-time member of the Knights of Columbus.

Music was always a part of Francis's life. His accolades include performing for city-wide events, reading voice-overs for two locally-produced movies, being a cast member (often the lead) or director of over 200 theatre productions, and singing for prominent politicians including President Gerald Ford. Had President Ford won his election, Francis was promised an invitation to sing at the inauguration festivities.

In 1955, Francis's vocal trio won third place in the All-Army talent contest; in 1959, he was chosen from over 700 actors to be the male lead in the Denver Civic Theatre's production of Kiss Me Kate; and in 1963, he was the only non-music-major awarded a full music scholarship at the University of Colorado, Boulder, to perform as one of the leads in the world premiere of Cyrano De Bergerac. His original children's theatre production of Jack and the Beanstalk was broadcast on a PBS affiliate.

Through the years, Francis was a cantor at countless Masses, weddings, and funerals, in addition to performing in the Salina Chorale and free concerts at area nursing homes. He was a member of the Sacred Heart Cathedral choir for over 50 years.

After suffering a stroke in 2007, he and fellow stroke survivor, Dick Schneiders, formed the performing group Different Strokes. Francis said the highlight of his career was singing at each of his children's weddings.

He is survived by his wife of 53 years, Charlene; children, Joseph (Tracy) Roesner of Tucson, Ariz., Anne (Darcy) Heitmann of Hebron, Nebr., Christopher (Carrie) Roesner of Prairie Village, Kan., Matthew (Kathryn) Roesner of Kildeer, Ill., Stephen (Mary Ann) Roesner of Lawrence, Kan., Jane (Paul) Graves of Lawrence, Kan., Timothy (Kaori) Roesner of Tokyo, Japan; grandchildren, Kaitlyn and Andrew Roesner, Russell and Rachel Heitmann, Grant and Evelyn Roesner, Kayla and Michelle Roesner, Patrick Roesner, and Elise and Maretta Graves; sisters-in-law, Sherry Heidrick, Mary Roesner, and Norma Roesner; many nieces

Davenport ALA Meets

The Davenport American Legion Auxiliary met on June 9 for their monthly meeting. It was a special meeting, as we heard reports of our Boys and Girls State citizens, who had just returned from their week at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln campus.

We met at 6:30 with a special meal and immediately following, Deb Albers, the unit Girls State Chairman, introduced our representatives, Boys State Citizens, Colton Lowery and Ted Degner and Girls State Citizen, Jaycie Hoins.

Each told of their experiences while at Boys and Girls State, learning about the different forms of government on the local and state level. Each one commented on how much they learned and all the special people they met and will continue corresponding. They all participated in various activities along with hearing speakers from the government offices and sports leaders at the University.

The trio also answered questions about their activities and thanked the American Legion and the Auxiliary for giving them the opportunity to attend this event, as it was a great week of their life. Deb attended and helped at Girls State on Monday, Tuesday and Saturday.

Following the reports, the Legion and Auxiliary held separate business meetings. President Sharon Littrel opened the Auxiliary meeting according to ritual. She thanked all who helped with the Memorial Day Services and contributed the food for the annual fireman's June chicken supper. A good crowd was in attendance at the Memorial Day service and a thank you note was sent to our speaker, Craig Urbauer.

Zola Johnson reported that the contribution to the poppy program was also well received. Deb reported that the fireman's chicken supper was also well attended. The blood mobile held on May 16 also went very well.

Deb Albers and Bonnie Dumler attended the Department Junior Auxiliary meeting in Dorchester on May 31. This was also a well attended event for the Junior Auxiliary units from across the state. Entertainment for this event was Joyce (Becwar) Chleboun, assisted by her sister Janis (Becwar) Pierce, who did magic tricks.

The only other business was that the officers for the coming year will remain the same. Being no other business, the meeting closed with prayer.

Our Auxiliary does not meet during the months of July and August, so our next meeting will be held on September 8, and our American Legion and Auxiliary will be host to the county meeting to be held on September 17.

Belvidere

By LaDonna Avers

In Nebraska, when there isn't anything else to talk about, you can always discuss the weather and that is about all anyone has been talking about this week. Sunday morning everyone awoke to tree branches in the yards, shingles off roofs, pivot damage and other mishaps from the wind the night before. Yes, this is Nebraska.

Paula McGinness went to Alexandria on Wednesday to visit with old friends Pat Knigge and Doris Dewald. They had lunch at the State Lakes and then in the afternoon went to the monthly birthday coffee in town.

On Wednesday, Ardys Dunsmoor and her young friend Tori Rice from Audubon, Iowa, came to visit LaDonna Avers on a mission of mercy. A small bedroom/storeroom was in dire need of a face lift, so they did a good job getting it restored to order.

Paula McGinness took her friends, Donna Bedlan, Ruth Joachim and LaDonna Avers, to Grand Island on Thursday. A day of shopping, lunch and as always a stop at the ice cream store gave the "girls" a great day's outing.

Saturday morning the breakfast bunch was a little short of people, but they still enjoyed their coffee and pancakes at a local cafe. Five ladies spent an hour or so visiting. They were Ruth Joachim, Ila Currey, Audrey Else, Betty Dudgeon and LaDonna Avers.

Rhonda Blake from Colorado was a guest of Logan and Paula McGinness from Friday night until Sunday afternoon.

This is the season for family reunions and on Sunday Ruth Joachim and her sister, Dorothy Dondlinger from Geneva, drove to Fairbury to attend the annual Gumble family reunion.

The Whistle Stop Station group is happy to see more and more people stopping at the station to watch the trains go past. Last week a local family had a Sunday picnic there, and this week a family from Beatrice stopped to have a picnic and watch the trains. This is what it is built for and everyone is glad people are enjoying it.

Speaking of enjoying things, a number of volunteers are helping Annette and Henry Laber get ready for the "Treasures under the Trees" being held this week at the museum. Homemade ice cream will be another treat to be had Friday and Saturday on the museum grounds. It will be held June 20 and 21 between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

There will be a train station meeting at the museum annex on June 25th at 6:30 p.m. There are a number of items to be discussed.

Following the train station meeting the Thayer County Historical Society will hold a meeting at 7:30 p.m., June 25. Everyone is welcome.

Hebron High School Class of 1964 . . .

Class of 1964 celebrates 50 years

Hebron High School Class of 1964 celebrated 50 years of life since graduation with a three-day class reunion event, May 23-24, at the Hebron fire hall and May 25 at the alumni banquet. The reunion was planned and organized by four classmates living more than 1,100 miles apart in four states, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Tennessee and North Carolina using email and telephone calls.

Friday night started with a cocktail hour followed by a meal of appetizers, hors d'oeuvres and desserts, all provided by class members. Talking and catching up on the past years took up the rest of the evening.

Honored guests attending Friday night were former teachers Henry Dicke from Holdrege and Melvin Hellbush from Gilead.

Saturday night, following a cocktail hour, the class was treated to a catered dinner prepared by The Acreage Steak House, of Hubbell, paid for by one of the classmates who insisted on anonymity.

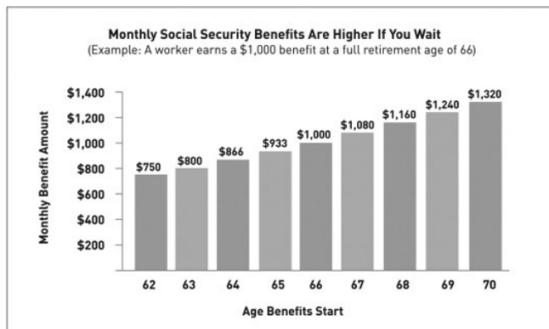

Classmates who served in the military were recognized. Each stood, told their branch of service, the years served and where they spent their military years. Most spent time in Vietnam. They all returned home safely.

There were 55 graduates in the class of 1964; five are no longer living. Their pictures were displayed on a special memorial table with a single white rose placed in front of each black frame. Another table held photos and lots of memorabilia collected and displayed by Jeanie (Christensen) Brown.

The Hebron High School class of 1964 is grateful for being allowed to use the facilities at the Hebron fire hall for its 50th reunion. Rent was not charged, but a donation bucket was set out both nights to collect donations to the fire department. Jeanie (Christensen) Brown presented an envelope holding the checks and cash to Chief B.J. Linton and the HVFD at their regular monthly meeting on June 3 for a total amount of $800 from the class.

Social Security...

ginia Reno with the National Academy of Social Insurance, a nonprofit organization based in Washington, D.C. "But waiting even a year or two can make a big difference in the long run. The extra benefits are there for life."

Payments increase by 5 to 7 percent for each year of delay between ages 62 and 66, and by 8 percent for each year of delay between ages 66 and 70. The increases stop at age 70.

For someone who can wait until age 70 to take Social Security, the reward is a lifetime monthly benefit that is 76 percent higher than if taken at age 62.

For example, a worker who qualifies for a Social Security benefit of $750 at age 62 would receive $1,000 by waiting until full retirement age (66 for people born in 1943 to 1954). By waiting until age 70, the retiree would receive $1,320 a month.

The higher benefit would also be the basis for future inflation adjustments.

Around Nebraska, only about one in four residents who are currently receiving Social Security retirement benefits waited until full retirement age to start their payments, according to the Social Security Administration.

In Thayer County, 1,060 residents received retirement benefits from the federal system, according to 2012 figures.

The average recipient of Social Security retirement benefits in Thayer County received $1,102 a month in December of that year. On an annual basis, that brought $14,016,000 in income to the area - 5.0 percent of all personal income in the county, according to the Bureau of Economic Analysis.

Getting the most out of Social Security benefits becomes more important the longer retirees live, said Leticia Miranda, a policy adviser with the National Council of La Raza, a nonprofit that focuses on Hispanic issues, including retirement.

"You may be here longer than you think," Miranda said.

About half of seniors aged 65 to 69 get most of their income from Social Security. Many have other assets or work part time. But for three out of four seniors in their 80s, Social Security is the main source of income.

Nationally, a woman who is 65 years old today can expect to live until she is 86. For men, it's 84 years.

Another consideration is how the timing of benefits will affect a spouse's income, Reno said.

"If you are the higher earner in a couple, delaying benefits not only means a higher benefit for you for the rest of your life," she said. "It also means a higher benefit for your spouse if she or he outlives you in old age."

In more than half of couples who are 65 today, one spouse will live beyond 90, she said.

But residents of nonmetropolitan areas like Thayer County may have a harder time delaying their retirement.

"In rural areas there is often a challenge as folks move toward retirement," said Deanna Sharpe, a personal finance professor at the University of Missouri. "They are more likely to face unemployment. Jobs are not as available. And when they are, they tend to pay less."

Economic downturns can also affect when people decide to start receiving Social Security, Sharpe said.

"One of the coping mechanisms during the recent recession was to pick up Social Security at age 62, even if they might not have planned to do that before the recession," she said.

Retirees need to make informed decisions, Sharpe said, but too often that doesn't happen.

"We find in surveys of financial literacy that quite a large portion of folks don't understand the basics," she said. "That's a concern."

But retirees can easily find free or low-cost advice. Sharpe said many USDA Extension Service offices can provide information on retirement planning. She also recommended nonprofit organizations such as the National Endowment for Financial Counseling and Financial Education (www.nefe.org).

The Social Security Administration website (ssa.gov) has a calculator that allows workers to estimate their retirement earnings based on their own work records and estimated retirement age.

And the National Academy of Social Insurance has materials online about the impact of delaying Social Security benefits (www.nasi.org/WhenTo-TakeSocialSecurity).

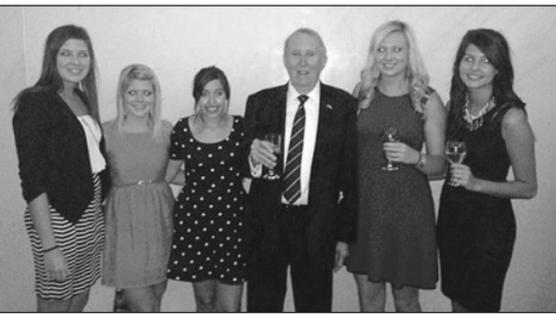

With national discussions about Social Security frequently in the news, some workers may worry whether the system will be there when they need it. Sharpe said people should stay abreast of the issues. "That's part of making an informed decision," she said.

But Reno said that should not influence a personal decision about when to draw benefits.

"Social Security will be there if you wait," she said. The system is fully financed for about the next two decades and is three-quarters financed thereafter, she said.

"Despite what you may hear, lawmakers have some good options to fix the system for the long haul," she said.

Marsh visits Washington, D.C...

Michaela Marsh (pictured right), a senior at Bryan College of Health Sciences, visited Washington D.C. over Memorial Day weekend along with 29 fellow scholars. She attended a concert at the John F. Kennedy Center of the Performing Arts as a guest of the Embassy of the Republic of Estonia. The music of Estonian composer Arvo Pärt was performed by the Estonian Philharmonic Chamber Choir and the Tallinn Chamber Orchestra, under the conduction of Tõnu Kaljuste. Also attending the concert was Arvo Pärt and the Estonian President, Toomas Hendrik Ilves. Following the concert, the scholars attended a reception where they met the composer and his orchestra. While in Washington D.C., Michaela toured the National Mall on a segway, visited the Newseum and had dinner at the Palm. Her group shopped at Georgetown boutiques and enjoyed a cupcake at DC Cupcakes. The trip to Washington D.C. was made possible by the Harry and Reba Huge Foundation. Michaela received the Dorothy Vorderstrasse Huge Scholarship, which is sponsored through the Harry and Reba Huge Foundation, in 2011. The Foundation continues to expand its reach across the country and the world by providing men and women scholarships to help achieve their educational goals. Storm Damage...

During a severe thunderstorm early last Sunday morning, many trees around Chester lost branches. In the instance of this photo, Marlin Smiths lost their main backyard shade tree, so large that part of the end branches were on the neighbor's house, though it didn't appear to do any damage. They and their grandchildren will really miss this great old tree. The storm brought lots of wind plus .60 inch of welcome rain.

Tietjen Earns Gold Award

Allison Tietjen of Chester joins 11 other Nebraska Girl Scouts who have achieved the Gold Award, the highest award earned in Girl Scouts.

On June 14, one of six recognition events was held at the Nebraska State Capitol's Rotunda. Other recognition events will be held in Alliance, Columbus, Grand Island, North Platte and Omaha. Also being recognized at these events are 388 Girl Scouts who earned their Bronze Award and 131 Girl Scouts who earned their Silver Award.

"Earning the Gold Award is a wonderful accomplishment" said Fran Marshall, CEO, Girl Scouts Spirit of Nebraska. "Each girl commits a minimum of 80 hours to her project. This year's 12 Gold Award recipients completed over 900 hours of community service."

While achieving the Gold Award, girls develop leadership skills, discover what they value and take action to make sustainable changes in their community.

Allison Tietjen chose to enhance early literacy skills through her community library. She created game activities to accompany selected books for children in preschool-first grade. The books and games were based on National Reading Standards guidelines.

The Gold Award can be earned by Senior Girl Scouts (grades 9-10) and Ambassador Girl Scouts (grades 11-12). A Gold Award recipient immediately advances one rank in any of the U.S. military branches. Plus, recipients are eligible for some university and college scholarships based on achieving the Gold Award.

Jubilarians honored

Ten Sisters of St. Joseph of Concordia were honored June 8 as Jubilarians, in recognition of the anniversary of the date they were received as novices into the congregation. The ten sisters together represent 540 years of love of God and service to the neighbor.

Sister Margaret Nacke, originally from Hebron, was received into the congregation on March 19, 1954.

After graduating from Marymount College, she earned a master's degree in fine arts from the Catholic University of America, Washington, D.C., and then later earned both a master's and a doctorate from the University of Toronto/Ontario Institute for Studies in Education. She also attended Immaculate Heart College, Los Angeles, and University of North Carolina in Raleigh.

Sister Margaret first served as an elementary and high school teacher, and then served at Marymount from 1962 to 1976, first as an art teacher and then as chair of the art department and later as chair of the Division of Continuing Education.

In the 1980s through 1993, she launched the Life Planning and Resource Service, based in Concordia, established the Pallotti Center, Kansas City, Mo., worked for the Kansas City-based Christian Foundation for Children and Aging and developed programs for Cathedral Square Towers/Nowlin Hall and Christ the

Sister Margaret Nacke

King Parish in Kansas City.

Beginning in 1993, she along with Sister Mary Savoie made numerous trips to eastern Europe to collaborate with Catholic sisters who had lived behind the iron curtain. That work led to the documentary "Interrupted Lives: Catholic Sisters Under European Communism," and included establishing an archive at Catholic Theological Union in Chicago. The two sisters continue that work today.

Since 2007, Sister Margaret has also done pastoral ministry in Belleville, Cuba and Munden, Kan. Also, in 2008, she organized U.S. Catholic Sisters United Against Human Trafficking and created the Bakhita Initiative website.

Today she lives in Belleville, Kan., and works with sisters throughout the world on anti-trafficking issues.

Motioned by Philippi, seconded by Hogeland, to approve claims and payment to be made from the proper funds. Catlett abstained. All in favor, motioned carried.

Trustees Catlett and Philippi recently set in on a power point presentation of Emily Bausch, Devolment Specialist from SENDD. Both Board members found the Nuisance Abatement Program to be of interest for building community pride in our Village. Mr. Catlett will be touching base with the Ms. Bausch, inviting her to our meeting, and her input on assessment of properties that are nuisance related.

On the topic of a State required second well, brainstorming of blending the two existing with intent of being conservative, and avoiding drilling another back-up well. Mr. Bob Byrkit, water supply specialist with the division of the State of Nebraska Public Health, was available for any questions after his observation of using a "blend" of the two wells. He explained using the south well as a back-up well would not be recommended. He went on to prove that it posed many problems as far as cost, volume use, pipe size etc. Sargent Drilling had submitted a cam survey on the well casing and screens, proving much wear, showing poor conditions that most of the casing will need replacement with added use. The Board thanked Mr. Byrkit for his visit and suggestions.

Thayer County Zoning Commissioner, Chris Frye submitted an application from Mr. Ryne Philippi to construct a 10 x 16 foot deck to their home, located at 232 North Jefferson St. Motioned by Catlett to approve the request, seconded by Hogeland. Philippi abstained. All in favor, motioned carried.

A second request by Thayer County Commissioner, was an application from Norder Supply Ag Inc., for the installation of a privacy fence on the north side of Lot # 3, Block 10 of the original town of Bruning. This lot will be used for parking, it will greatly reduce the amount of vehicles that are currently parked on Main Street. The setbacks are being exceeded. Motioned by Catlett to approve the request, seconded by Philippi. Krehnke abstained. All in favor, motioned carried.

In New Business; Motioned by Catlett to renew the Sheriff's contract for the year 2014. Seconded by Hogeland. All in favor, the motioned carried.

Deputy Sheriff Kriese gave his report.

No treasurers report.
Mr. Houser reported on jet cleaning the sewer lines. He reported that the fireman were not successful flushing the culvert behind the restaurant, different gutters throughout the town were discussed, with most problem areas being the responsibility of the homeowner.

The Clerk reported a request for a "Children At Play" sign on Meridian Road. The Clerk is to contact Thayer County on moving signs already there a few feet off the road for easier passing, also inform Thayer County authorities of the request for the safety of children crossing this road.

U.S. 81/Highway 8 crash sends three to hospital

Thayer County law enforcement investigated a single vehicle roll-over at the intersection of U.S. 81 and Highway 8 Thursday morning, June 12. Three individuals were transported to Republic County Hospital with non-disabling injuries, the accident report said.

According to the report, Danae Federico, 45, of Scandia, Kan., said she was northbound on U.S. 81 when an eastbound pickup on Highway 8 entered the intersection. She said she did not think the pickup was going to stop and changed lanes to avoid a collision. She then swerved and lost control and the vehicle rolled on to its top.

Federico's 2002 Oldsmobile Bravada was totaled in the crash and she was taken to the hospital with visible, but non-disabling injuries to her back. A teenage passenger was also transported to the hospital with visible, but non-disabling injuries to her hip and upper leg, and a 20-month old infant was also transported to the hospital to be checked. Both the driver and passenger were wearing seat belts and Sheriff Lee said he was happy to report that the infant was properly secured in a child seat and removed from the car seat while the vehicle was upside down. "Please always have your children properly secured and remember to buckle up," he said. "This accident could have been much worse." Neither drugs or alcohol was suspected. Chester Fire and Rescue and Hebron Rescue answered the emergency call.

A mid-morning roll-over accident at the intersection of U.S. 81 and Highway 8 near Chester sent a Kansas woman, teenage passenger, and 20-month infant to the hospital Thursday, June 12.

Hazel and Gus are two teenagers who share an acerbic wit, a disdain for the conventional, and a love that sweeps them on a journey. Their relationship is all the more miraculous given that Hazel's other constant companion is an oxygen tank. Gus jokes about his prosthetic leg, and they met and fell in love at a cancer support group.

and two others asking what they needed to do to get the City off their backs.

City Attorney Joe Murray explained to the owners that this was why they received letters. "We want you to come in and visit with us, open a dialog." The Council often shows leniency to those who make an effort to clean up their places, but it all starts with conversation.

Wiedel says he knows what people say about him that he just drives around town looking for problems. Of course he doesn't have to drive around looking for nuisance properties, he notes, because they are blatantly there. "I don't care what people say. This is about community," he said during the meeting. "It's about making Hebron a safe and respectful place to live."

At one point the councilman expressed concern about the safety of young children living in homes with broken and boarded up windows, peeling paint and junk cars and appliances littering yards. "Whatever they're saying about me," he said, "it doesn't matter because I will be an advocate of this until they kick me off the board. How hard is it to mow, paint, fix broken windows, keep junk out of the yard? We all have to do it and so should they."

Council members also shared concern that junk vehicles were becoming problematic again. Parked on the street and in yards, unlicensed and broken down vehicles are considered a nuisance by the City. Owners of such vehicles can expect a letter requesting removal of them in the near future.

Published in the June 4 issue of the Hebron Journal-Register, ordinance no. 724 states that any junk motor vehicle parked, left, permitted, or stored on private property in excess of ten days and not enclosed in a building or screened off will be declared a nuisance. And if the owner fails to move the junked vehicle, after five days notice, the City will remove it for them and assess all costs back to them.

In the meantime, the Council will continue to review nuisance properties month by month, send letters to open lines of communication with property owners, become diligent about removing junk vehicles and generally continue to keep Hebron attractive.

"Do these places devalue a neighborhood? You bet they do," Wiedel said. "Take some pride in them. A coat of paint and a little care would make them livable places. At the very least I'd be off your case."
