meeting Oct. 14 of the Thayer Central Board of Education.

Superintendent Drew Harris estimated about 40 people attended.

Five designs of the Thayer Central

Community Schools district were presented at the School Facilities special

"I think it went well," Harris said about the meeting. "We're trying to keep the public informed as we move forward.

The designs were a slide show of five ways the district could renovate and build to address the critical, high and medium needs as identified by the district's Facilities Committee.

Clarks Enersen Partners out of Lincoln presented the slides, and included the construction specifics of the first phase, which was decided by the committee, school and staff.

The approximately $3.5 million project will dip into the district's building fund. The district will borrow as much as $2.2 million per a state statute formula that allows school districts to borrow two times what their building funds generate in one year.

Districts can pay the loan back over a period of four years. "We would want to pay off the borrowed money before phase 2 is started," Harris said during the meeting. The district is not going to raise

"We've already set the levy. It will not go up from that," Harris said.

Features of the first phase will change the Intermediate facility to include eight classrooms (should the primary school be vacated); an office area for reception and the principal; new restrooms and renovation to existing restrooms; tornado safety areas; indoor play area; special education rooms; an updated heating and cooling system; new carpeting; and keyless entry.

Harris was pleased with the tornado safety call by the committee - the district was already thinking about the safety of its students.

"It was one thing we were really hoping to get done," Harris said.

The facilities committee first met in June of 2014 to consider the future of the primary building and discuss portable classrooms, the high school's future and overall construction and renovations.

After the nearly $13 million bond election failed in May of 2014, the school community met to brainstorm

Committee Member Chad Oswald said there were roughly 60 to 70 people at that meeting. Subsequent meetings saw attendance dwindle, but the thought was to form a sub-

The committee honed in, and the project became more detailed, Oswald

The facilities sub-committee brought a plan of action to the school board in February. Come spring, the committee was examining construction models and decided on the design-build model because of the advantages it offers.

A set, fixed cost before construction and shorter timeline are two features of the design-build model. On the downside, projects require more attention from their owners and the fixed cost may be difficult to set.

The remaining two models the committee mulled were the design-bidbuild and construction management.

The first was good for competitive bidding, but bad for budgets because costs could change during project construction.

The construction management model provided for costs projected early on, but had the potential pick up overhead costs later on.

The design-build model places the contractor and architect in one entity hired by the district. The team designates a "guaranteed maximum price," which is based on a performance criteria developer or PCD.

District moves ahead with design-build process board sought proposals, beginning in June with Clarks Enersen selected in the summer.

> The firm's responsibilities fall under four focuses: to develop criteria that will essentially guide the larger process; help the district select a designbuild team and oversee construction; and monitor the construction to ensure the developed criteria is met.

Potential design-build teams had until Oct. 16 to submit letters of interest to the district. A special board of education meeting Oct. 19 set aside time for discussion on the letters.

Three contractor/architect teams were selected by the school board for interviews Dec. 10. Board members will take about one hour per team for the interviews, and they will conduct the interviews at a public meeting.

Harris said the meeting could easily go for three hours.

The three teams are Sampson Construction and Wilkins Architecture out of Lincoln; Ayars and Ayars, Lincoln; and JLC Incorporated from York with Omaha firm, The Schemmer Associates.

The five designs presented by the district's PCD include ideas to align athletic areas, construct a larger commons area and corridor system to connect the building and design a courtyard area surrounded by classrooms.

Walking the track for breast cancer research

Brittany Boyce, Cassie Hergott, Kaisha Solomon, Jessica Huhman and Jayme Huhman wear their pink and glow-in-the-dark face paint while walking the Thayer Central High School track to upbeat music in support of breast cancer research. The Pink Out and Glow Walk night was organized by Math Teacher Deb Bullin, who reported approximately 60 people registered for the event. Bullin wanted to make a dent in breast cancer research since she was diagnosed with the disease in November of 2014 and went through a double masectomy while avoiding chemotherapy and radiation treatments. Bullin said she received a lot of support from her high school community over the past year. Participants in the event received glow bracelets, necklaces and pink and white popcorn. Proceeds went to the Susan G. Komen Foundation.

Harvest taking hit from Labor Day hail

It's been about five weeks of good, steady harvest, Keith Wilt of the Chester AGP said, albeit the damage caused by the early September hail bands.

For some bean fields, the damage was worse because two hail storms came through on the same evening. Wilt reported tennis ball-sized hail.

Chester was hit first. Wilt said about 80 percent of the homes in Chester needed new roofs and new windshields were installed in a number of vehicles.

The bean harvest and corn yields were reduced quite a bit, and in some fields, the hail took it all, Wilt said.

"Some of them had five to 10 bushels. That's all they cut," Wilt said.

As of Monday, soybeans were about 95 percent harvested and 65 to 70 percent of the cornfields were done.

In Hebron, Larry Seaman of Norder's Supply, Inc., said they were just starting on the irrigated corn. The bean yield varied from 30 to 60 bushels per acre and irrigated soybeans reaped 60 to 70 bushels.

The dryland corn that wasn't pummeled by hail yielded 150 bushels per acre.

Seaman said moisture levels in the grain were very good.

Another bridge went out of commission last week on Road F between 6200 and 6300 Roads. The entire deck caved in and broke every one of the 20-foot wide bridge's 15 stringers. The bridge was back in operation Monday.

Commissioners receive updates on bridges

At their Oct. 15 meeting, the Thayer County Commissioners passed a resolution to adopt the Americans with Disabilities Act in conjunction with receiving federal aid for transportation construction programs.

In other business, Road Superintendent George Gerdes said the county will put in one culvert at a new ag business started by Andrew Wiedel on River Road near the sewer plant.

Gerdes said Wiedel is planning driveways for the business because semi-truck traffic will be heavy. The county's responsibility will be one, 30-inch culvert.

Gerdes also told the commissioners the bridge on Road 7000 would receive its beams Oct. 20 and concrete was expected to be poured Oct. 16.

The Spring Creek flooding in May has not been resolved for federal emergency management funds. The county's FEMA representative turned documents in at the first and second steps on the government ladder, but wasn't approved at the third step and must start the entire process over.

Most healthy adults can infect others beginning 1 day before symptoms develop and up to 5 to 7 days after becoming sick. Children may pass the virus for up to 7 days. Symptoms start 1 to 4 days after the virus enters the body. That means you may be able to pass on the flu to someone else before you even know you are sick. Sometimes people can be infected with the flu virus without any symptoms.

· Avoid close contact with people who are sick. When you are sick, keep your distance.

Your Guide To A Perfect Wedding Bridal Boutique

Make your engagement photoshoot a success

Engagement photos vary depending on the couple. Often reserved for save-the-date cards and now commonly used to spruce up wedding websites, engagement photos can range from formal shoots in which couples are dressed to the nines to more laid back shots featuring couples in more everyday attire.

When planning an engagement shoot, couples should give themselves carte blanche with regard to style, as the photoshoot need not follow many of the more accepted rules that the wedding itself will ultimately adhere to. Once couples have settled on a style for their photoshoot, there are additional ways to ensure the session is a success.

· Find a photographer who shares your sensibilities. Photographers can vary greatly in style, and an engagement photoshoot will be most successful when couples find a photographer whose style matches the theme they are looking for with their photoshoot. You likely would not hire a nature photographer to photograph a basketball game, so don't hire someone who specializes in posed shots if you want your photos to be more lively and spontaneous. Before you hire anyone, ask for samples of each photographer's work to be certain you're getting someone who has experiencing shooting the type of photos you want to take.

· Solicit ideas from the photographer. Some couples already know exactly where they want their engagement photos to be shot and which poses they want to be arranged. However, many couples have little or no experience with professional photoshoots, and such couples should solicit ideas from each photographer they are considering hiring. A skilled and/or seasoned photographer should propose several ideas. Be wary of photographers who offer little input, as you may ultimately be dissatisfied with their work once the shoot has come and gone.

· Avoid studio shots. Many couples prefer their engagement photos be taken somewhere they have a personal connection to, such as the sight of their first date or a park they frequently visit. Studio photoshoots might provide the best lighting, but couples have no connection to such spaces, and down the road they may regret not taking the photos in someplace that's a little more meaningful. In addition, a photoshoot outside the studio affords couples and their photographer more opportunities to experiment and improvise, which can produce a wider array of shots than a studio photoshoot is likely to deliver.

· Don't forget candid shots. Candid shots make the photoshoot more fun and loosen couples up a little bit. Many engagement photos will never be seen by anyone other than the photographer and the couple he or she is shooting, so don't be bashful during candid shots for fear of being embarrassed down the road. Have fun with the candid shots, and your other photos are likely to come out better as a result.

An engagement photoshoot should be fun and reflect the personalities of the couple. A few simple strategies can ensure couples' shoots accomplish both of those

Mosier receives Agricultural Research Award at Purdue

Nathan Mosier, a Purdue University professor of agricultural and biological engineering, will receive the 2015 Agricultural Research Award for his work in biofuels and bioprocessing technology.

The award is given each year to a faculty member in the College of Agriculture with fewer than 18 years of experience beyond a doctoral degree. It is for scientists who have demonstrated a high level of excellence in research and made significant contributions to agriculture, natural resources and quality of life for Indiana citizens.

Mosier's research primarily focuses on developing new ways to efficiently convert agricultural materials such as corn stover and fiber, switch grass and soybeans, into fuels, chemicals or other products traditionally made from petroleum and natural gas. 'Dr. Mosier is an exceptionally creative, entrepreneurial researcher whose work has made outstanding contributions to the field of renewable bioenergy," said Karen Plaut, director of agricultural research and associate dean for research and faculty affairs. "He excels at translating fundamental science into innovative technologies that make life more sustainable and at preparing new scientists and engineers to have lasting impacts on the future.'

As a researcher in Purdue's Center for Direct Catalytic Conversion of Biomass to Biofuels, or C3Bio, Mosier tackles the challenge of efficiently freeing sugars from the components of the plant cell wall - such as cellulose, lignin and hemicellulose - to produce biofuels. He creates catalysts that mimic those in the rumen of cows and guts of termites, some of the few organisms that can digest cellulose. He is also working on cellulose-derived fuels that could be drop-in replacements for gasoline and aviation fuels, more or less interchangeable with their conventional counterparts and with equal performance.

Mosier also worked with colleagues at Purdue's Laboratory of Renewable Resources Engineering to design and build a van-sized portable generator that can convert food waste and trash into power, a valuable technology for remote military operations and disaster areas. The machine can process a ton of waste a day to produce the equivalent amount of electricity needed to power about two or three family houses. The first prototype received a U.S. Army Commendation and was tested in Iraq.

"Dr. Mosier's work in renewable bioenergy has had important impacts across our state as well as nationally and internationally, and his engagement with industry connects the engineering of renewable resources to the business of agriculture," said Jay Akridge, Glenn W. Sample Dean of Agriculture. "His path-breaking research in bioprocessing and his passion for teaching provides our students with an extraordinary learning opportunity. Dr. Mosier represents the best of the best in a landgrant faculty member.'

Mosier will receive the award at 3 p.m. (EDT) Sept. 23 in Pfendler Hall's Deans Auditorium on the West Lafayette campus. He will give a seminar on "Transforming How We Sustainably Utilize Our Agricultural Resources for Food, Feed, Fiber, Fuel and Chemicals." A reception will follow the ceremony.

The award includes $10,000 to support Mosier's research program, a $1,500 honorarium and a commemorative Mosier is a 1993 graduate of Davenport High School and is the son of Rich and Wanda Mosier of Davenport.

Donald

Gaston Donald Joseph Gaston, 90, was born June 22, 1925, at the Gaston homestead, east of Hebron to Joseph Roscoe and Bessie Marguerite (Senteney) Gaston and went home to sons born to Joe and Bessie. Donald attended District No. 51 Thayer County country school and Hebron High School.

Donald was the second of five

Growing up on the farm his father and Grandpa Nels Gaston taught him the value of hard work and an entrepreneurial spirit where in addition to farming they had a saw mill , shelled corn, bailed hay and made sorghum for others.

There were also several baseball games played in the pasture between the Gaston farmstead and the Cecil Fry farm. During one of those games, one of the Fry girls (Hazel) got tired of Don always being up to bat and tripped him as he rounded second base so he would get out! He must have taken notice of that feisty Fry girl as he became sweet on her, and then came World War II. He was drafted into the US Army on June 30, 1944, in Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., and served in the infantry in Africa and Italy. As they were going from Africa to Italy he was impressed by the sight of the Rock of Gibraltar. During battle in Italy he was injured and his unit went on while he was in the hospital. His honorable discharge was on October 28, 1945, in Leghorn Italy, and re-enlisted so he could get back home. He was on a ship headed for Japan when the A bomb was dropped so his ship turned and returned to the United States. His final honorable discharge was December 3. 1946, in Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md.

After World War II Donald returned to Hebron and he courted Hazel Darline Fry and they were united in marriage on June 3, 1948. To this union were born four children. Donald was baptized into the family of Christ on August 10, 1952, at the First Christian Church in Hebron.

When Don and Hazel were first married he did electrical and plumbing work for Miller Home Appliance in Hebron and then went to work for the Burlington Northern Railroad in Lincoln. They then returned to the family farm to help his Dad until his brother returned from World War II. They then moved to Belvidere where Don trucked cattle and grain. Don went to work for J. Lynch Elevator Feed and Grain in Belvidere in 1953 as manager. Don eventually went on to work for Evans Grain Company before finishing up his career at the Farmers Co-op in Hardy. Donald retired from Hardy Coop as the general manager in 1986 and he and Hazel enjoyed 17 years going to Arizona for the winters until health issues kept them in Nebraska. While wintering in Arizona Don took up golfing and got a hole in one! The family is grateful for the caregivers at the Blue Valley Lutheran Nursing Home that treated him like family for the last six and one-half years. Donald was a lifetime member of the V.F.W., was on the Belvidere School Board, Commander of VFW three times, American Legion, board member of First Community Church, board member of Christian Church of Belvidere, deacon at Christian Church in Apache Junction, Ariz., and elder at Church of Christ, Superior. Don loved his family and enjoyed being with his grandchildren. He was even known to be a tease now and then and he did not limit that to just his family. He loved camping, boating, fishing, traveling, round and square dancing, Husker football and getting together with family and friends where there was usually a spirited game of cards. Donald is preceded in death by his parents, Joseph and Bessie; brothers, Harold, Dale, Lyle (Punjab) and Merlin; in-laws, Cecil and Grace Fry, Wanda Caswell, Bud and Letha Fry, Kenneth and Betty Krakow, Dwayne Anderson, Gordon and Alice Fry, Vivian Gaston, Rose Gaston, Max Miller and nephew Glen

tives and friends. Don's family is grateful for having shared in his life journey and knew he always had our best interest in mind and are appreciative for the us teaching us a strong work time he took with each one of ethic, love of our country, nature, family and most importantly God. We appreciate him for his

Christ-like example that allowed us to see and understand what is means to trust God and the need we all have to lay our sins of the flesh on the altar before our Lord. We take great comfort and peace in knowing he is with Jesus in heaven and we will see him again Funeral services were held October 21 at the First Community Church in Hebron. Interment with military honors was in Rose Hill Cemetery, Hebron. These arrangements were conducted by Price-Urbauer-Ahrendts Funeral Homes of Hebron, Davenport, and Deshler.

Alexandria Birthday Coffee Has Fun Time Reminiscing

The Alexandria Birthday Coffee was held October 14 at the Legion Hall with 14 ladies attending. It was a beautiful day, sunny, mild temperatures in the 70's, leaves beginning to change colors and enjoyable conversation.

Wilma Busing brought pictures from the Alexandria 125th town celebration showing entries in the parade. Governor Johanns was there. It had been dry and that day the heavens opened up and "rained on our parade," but the people didn't mind because the moisture was needed. Another picture shown was the threestory farm house moved to Alexandria to be the new home for Kenny and Kathleen Selig. How nice to reminisce.

The two ladies with October birthdays were Nancy Mau and Kathleen Selig. They received the "Happy Birthday" serenade.

The laugh of the day was a question by Nancy asking what was depicted on the front of Bonnie's T-shirt, was it a covered bridge or a rustic barn? After a few silly remarks, everyone started to laugh and we will wait for a report from Bonnie about what is pictured on her T-shirt.

We were pleased to see the news release honoring Donna Rut, our village clerk, as Clerk of the Year. USDA Rural Development State Director Maxine Moul presented the plaque on October 7 at the Alexandria library with attendees from Daykin, Alexandria, Tobias Western, Lincoln, and Swanton.

Rolls, coffee or tea were served. Our next coffee will be Wednesday, November 11, at 2:30 p.m.

Alexandria Community Club Holds October Meeting

The Alexandria Community Club met October 15 at the community center. Ruth Schultz welcomed the group and chaired the meeting. Minutes read by Pat Knigge and treasurer's report given by Betty Bulin were approved.

In discussion about choosing a candidate for Milo Queen, the Community Club had a protocol to follow but we are willing to work with the Milo Planning Committee on the choice of a candidate.

Pat and Betty reported on District 10 School repair. Nothing has been reported as being completed.

Community Club commends Donna Rut for being honored as Village Clerk of the Year. This is a positive event for Alexandria and a well-deserved award for Donna.

Alexandria Community Club will sponsor Halloween Night at the Legion Hall on Saturday, October 31, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. Hot chocolate, cookies and pictures for costumed visitors will be provided.

Jean reported on cards sent during the past month to homes with well-maintained lawns and flower beds for the summer. It was an unusual summer with a flood in May and nice rains to follow but drier weather in September. The state roadside cleanup was completed with three large bags collected on the miles from town to the Catholic cemetery. There was lots of paper, foam items, some cans and bottles, bones of a baby "Bambi" and the unusual item, a 10x10 inch glob of wire, some barbed, all melded together by age and rust. It looked like it could have caused trouble for a mower. It would be nice to have drivers put trash in bag in their vehicle and not litter the roadside. Our next meeting is Thursday, November 19, at the community center at 3 p.m. The meeting was adjourned and coffee and cookies served.

The elevator in Chester has been very busy with the fruits of the labor of local farmers, amassing large amounts of grain. They are storing corn in the hoop building as well as in these two piles which are south of town. The corn seems to be doing very well this year for the most part, in spite of the recent bad hail which probably took more toll on the soybeans.

Thayer Central Titan Connor Mumm tries to avoid a Tri County player Friday evening as the Titans had their most consistent offensive game of the season. Tri County came out ahead, 49-16.

Titans move ball against Tri County

Thayer Central Coach Josh Lanik observed the Titans doing well offensively against Tri County Oct. 16.

"We only had one possession where we failed to get at least one first down and we did not turn the ball over at all,' Lanik said

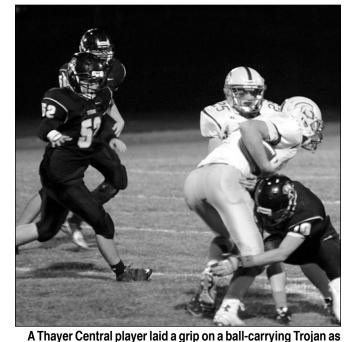

The Trojans came out on the high end of the game, 49-16.

Offensively, Max Madsen completed 16 passes for 106 yards. Jadyn Dightman rushed 35 yards while Cody Fitzgerald had 32 yards to his credit. Preston Reece helped out with 16 yards.

Defensively, Lanik said the Titans knew they were walking into a great challenge as the Trojans have two opposite backs.

"One hits you with power and strength, and the other is shifty and tough to tackle," Lanik said. "They are tough to stop in combination."

Tackles were spread out between the Titan team members. Dightman had five. Adam Meyer and Hank Harris took the Trojans down three

In points, Madsen and Meyer each had six. Reece and Logan Tietjen made two points and two conversions each.

Bruning tops McCool, 64-6

The Bruning Davenport Shickley Eagles took the field against McCool Junction for a 64-6 win on the Eagles' homecoming night.

The Eagles stomped through the first quarter of the game and scored 52 points.

Kale Kleinschmidt scored four of the touchdowns and one point after; Thomas Mick rushed for the end zone and made a PAT; Riley Tegtmeier and Logan Schroeder each rushed for a touchdown; Neol Gines returned an interception for one of the touchdowns; and Sam and John Christensen each caught a PAT pass.

Kendall Dickson caught a 46-yard touchdown pass.

"A 6-foot, 4-inch, 220pound tight end is great to run behind and throw to," Coach Chris Ardissono said.

On defense, Kale Smith recorded eight total tackles and offensively caught a 30-yard pass," Ardissono added. The Eagles had seven first downs to McCool's four and 143 passing yards. Leaders in the stats were Kleinschmidt with 114 yards rushing and 67 receiving; Tegtmeier had 67 passing yards; and Taylor Anderson came away with 14 tackles.

"We want to keep improving each week as we head into the playoffs," Coach Mark Rotter said.

Three set to compete on state course

Thayer Central Cross Country Runners, Junior Taelyn Virus, Sophomore Aubrey Fangmeier and Freshman Dylan Fischer, will compete at the Oct. 23 state meet in Kearney after placing in the district contest at Brickyard Park in Hastings Oct.

Virus finished 15th with a time of 22:41, and is a third-time state qualifier.

Fischer a n d Fangmeier were 13th and 14th, respectively, with Fischer's time at 18:35 and Fangmeier running the course in a time of 18:37.

According to Coach Andy Long, the young state qualifiers are setting themselves up for a successful future in cross country, along with Freshman Damien Stewart, who just missed the state sweet spot by finishing in 16th place.

"Our top three runners all became better runners throughout the year," Long

Freshman Dylan Fischer

Virus remains consistent,

"Taelyn provided us with solid leadership as a consistent, number one runner," Long added.

Virus is set to start at 2 p.m. in Kearney. Fischer and Fangmeier will run at 3 p.m. Long said all the runners performed in what he considers one of the tougher districts. The Class D race included five of the top 10 teams, as well as several of the district's best individual competitors Long has seen this season.

Additional Lady Titans, Cambrie Cottam and the team's three seniors, Kylea Hintz, Mariah Hintz and Shawna Timmerman were good competitors, Long

"All five girls were very tough competitors in helping the team finish in the top half of most meets, he said. On the boys side, Evan Fugelstad finished for the team, despite a late start on the season.

Collin Fink and Elijah Keilwitz provided the boys with great depth, Long said.

JV players win battles

The Thayer Central C and junior varisty volleyball teams played against a well organized Superior team at home Oct. 15. Samantha Lindsay finished the 25-11 and 25-12 match with a kill and an ace block. Olivia Deepe scored 13 points and McKenzie Johnson had seven points. Maddi Williams led the team at the net with five kills and one block, and also led on defense with seven digs. Brittany Boyce had three kills and two blocks for the Titans. Tionna Wiedel had four digs.

The girls had just beat Superior in a tournament last week. It can be hard to beat a team twice, but the girls responded with even more power. We were able to make fewer errors and had control of the game throughout. It was a fun game to watch as many girls were able to play. The entire team played a role in this victory," Coach Carlece Kenner said.

The C team's record is 9-2. Only one match against Wilber

The Thaver Central JV team won a very tight battle 25-19, 20-25 and 15-11 against a competitive Wildcat team. Johnson led the team with 14 points and Grace Souerdyke scored five. Leading at the net were Souerdyke, Maggie Harris and Katelyn Richardson.

Defensive players were Jess Huhman and Bailee Remmers. Johnson and Huhman were placed in the setting position due to the injuries other players had.

"This was the best match the team has played. They worked together and were in control throughout the match," Kenner said.

The JV record is 6-4.

Lady Eagles conquer

The Bruning Davenport Shickley Lady Eagles went full force at the net last week for a 3-0 record in conference play and a win against Dorchester.

In conference games, the Eagles outscored Dorchester 25-20 and 25-15; McCool Junction, 25-6 and 25-14; and High Plains, 25-7, 25-10 and 25-6.

A Saturday game with Dorchester had the Eagle win at 25-14 and 25-16.

"The girls were fired up and ready to play after teacher, Taryn Wolfe gave the pregame pep talk," Coach Kari Jo Alfs said. "The girls came out to a comfortable lead in both sets and didn't miss a serve all match."

The Eagles played McCool Junction and Dorchester in the first evening of conference play, then went on to face High Plains on "Pink Out" night.

It was also parents and seniors night.

The BDS Eagles had 17 ace serves on the night, along with 30 kills and 28 assists.

The seniors stepped on the courts and never looked back as they played the last home game of their high school careers, Alfs said.

Carly Elznic went 15-15 on serving, McKenna Schardt, 16-17 and Madison Yantzie, 13-13 in the game with High Plains. In addition, Courtney Kamler had 20-20 in setting and eight assists. Yantzie was 31-31 in setting with 15 assists. Elznic had nine kills as did Catherine Mick.

Megan Grote, Elznic, Kamler, Mick, Schardt, Jadyn Kleinschmidt and Yantzie were 100 percent for serving with Schardt going 23-23.

Yantzie had 14 assists while setting 100 percent of the time. Kamler was at 93 percent with six assists.

TCHS hosts Women's Health Night...

On October 13, Thayer County Health Services held their annual Women's Health Night at the Statsny Community Center in Hebron. Over 200 guests were in attendance at this fun Ladies night out focusing on women's health. The evening started with wine tasting by Superior Estate Winery and a health fair featuring over 35 vendors from the local communities and throughout the state. The various vendor booths offered food, health information, or showcased their products. In addition, participants were able to enter drawings for over 40 different door prizes that were donated by vendors and area businesses. For the "Paint Yourself Healthy" portion of the evening, Cindy Chinn, local Chester artist with The Center for Creativity, gave a painting session to registered quests while everyone listened to three presentations on healthcare issues and new services available at Thayer County Health Services. Featured presenters were Dr. Tyler Adam, an obstetrician-gynecologist in Hastings; Dr. Leann Heinrichs - FP/OB, Maggie Johnson - PAC and Kay Elting – APRN presented on the new Aesthetic Services offered at TCHS; and Angie Albert - PMHNP presented on behavioral health. # Belvidere

By LaDonna Avers

It was a pretty quiet week in Belvidere with all the meetings, festivals and harvest under way. As the ladies of the Belvidere Woman's Club had promised at their last meeting they served lunch one day to the farmers as they brought their grain into the Belvidere Elevator. The food that the club served was compliments of Chauncey and Shirley

On Wednesday, Linda Hudson and LaDonna Avers drove to Mary Bruning's home in Bruning for a coffee in honor of Linda's birthday and Lillian Lentfer's farewell trip to Texas for her winter sojourn. Besides Linda and Lillian Lentfer, other guests were Shirley Aksamit, Barb Schoenholtz, Doris Wilkin, and LaDonna Avers.

Sunday the dinner table was full as the Yoachim family joined Ruth Yoachim for dinner. Kirk and Wanda Yoachim from Doniphan, Kevin and Colleen, Hebron; Ryan and Amy from Grand Island; and Joshua from Deshler, all joined Ruth at the local cafe. Lorna Waldmeier and her friend Val of Beatrice came to visit Russ and Bonnie Priefert on Sunday. They also visited Lorna's great-granddaughter, Landi Priefert, and Landi's parents, Tom and Angie Priefert. Lorna sewed and brought along a Halloween costume for Landi. Not many little girls get a costume lovingly homemade by their 93 year old great-grandmother. It will be a lifelong treasure for her.
