A not guilty plea was heard in the September district court session along with a plea agreement.

Harold Stone, 59, of Davenport, pled not guilty to one count of first degree sexual assault of a minor, a class 1B felony.

Stone was arrested June 11, 2015, at his residence after Dan Werner, Thayer County attorney, filed a complaint that Stone subjected a person of 12 years but younger than 16 to sexual penetration.

Stone faces a minimum of 15 years in prison and a maximum life sentence if found guilty.

His next court date is set for November 5 at 9:45 a.m.

Jesse Durlflinger, 24, of Alexandria, made a plea agreement with prosecutors.

Originally charged with using a firearm to commit a felony and terrorist threats which are both felonies, Durlflinger pled guilty only to obstruct tion of a police officer and assault in the third degree, both class one misdemeanors.

The 24-year-old, who is accused of assaulting his father, faces up to one year in jail and a $1,000 fine.

His sentencing will take place September 3 at 9:45 a.m.

A motion for revocation of probation was held for Andrew Collins. The court found that Collins violated the terms and conditions of his probation. His sentencing is set for October 1, at 10 a.m. Collins was originally sentenced to 48 months of probation after he was convicted of theft, a class three felony.

A warrant was issued for Nickalass Lutt who did not appear in court for his violation of probation hearing.

Lutt was arrested in August 2014 after he and another man broke into cars in Hebron.

Lutt was found guilty of theft, a class three felony, and was sentenced to 30 months of probation. The bond was set for $500.

Yesterday morning about 10 o'clock while Mr. T. E. Guthrie was removing the staging from the town cistern at the west end of Main Street, the cement wall gave way burying Mr. Guthrie. His assistants gave the alarm. After the rescuers had been digging a few minutes, a voice was heard. This encouraged the men who worked so faithfully that finally they reached him, but were unable to draw him out until some of the staging had been cut, when he was tenderly carried by strong and willing arms up ladders to the surface. When he reached the surface, he was very weak until after stimulants had been given. He was then carried to his home where medical aid was summoned. After a thorough examination, it was found that no bones were broken, but a scalp wound, extending from the right eye directly back about three inches, was stitched up, and excepting some bruises on the arms and limbs, no further injuries are reported. It was undoubtedly a close call for Mr. Guthrie, as it is estimated that several tons of earth were upon him.

The Hubbell Standard: The Hubbell Picnic for 1915 is a thing of the past. It was pulled off Wednesday and advertised and was a grand success. The weather was ideal, the sun shining bright until about 2 o'clock when a light shower cooled the atmosphere and made the afternoon a pleasure to all. The crowd was estimated at about 2,500 people in spite of the busy season and every town within 20 miles was well represented. A party that made a count of the autos gave it in between 200 and 250 from the gasoline world, present, beside all the outer streets and alleys were full of teams.

Nebraska State Fair sets new attendance record in G.I.

A total of 352,176 guests attended the Nebraska State Fair this year, which is a new record for the fair in Grand Island. The previous record was in 2012 when attendance reached 336,987.

Joseph McDermott, executive director for the fair, said, "We were up almost 11 percent over last year's numbers, which isn't surprising given our rain soaked fair a year ago. What is impressive is that we're just short of five percent higher than our previous record in 2012. What makes it even more exciting is that we ended 2015 just 15,678 visitors short of two million. That will happen on day one in 2016."

"The highest attendance for 2015 was the first Saturday of the fair when the total came in at 61,855. This, of course, can be attributable not only to the Keith Urban concert, but perfect fair weather as well," McDermott said. "The second Sunday, which is typically the highest attendance, saw 56,389 fairgoers."

Other highlights from the fair include:

- On Aug. 29, 861 runners ran the State Fair Marathon, with 428 running the half marathon and 186 running the full marathon.

- There were 11,780 tickets sold to the Keith Urban concert on Aug. 29. Folks from 28 states and three foreign countries attended.

On Sept. 5 and 6, the Fire-fighter Combat Challenge included 100 participants, with 14 relay teams and 23 tandem teams. There were eight states represented.

McDermott said, "This was a banner year for the Nebraska State Fair with our largest concert in the history of the fair, and even more new and exciting attractions to entertain fair guests."

Research through electronic kiosks was conducted again this year. Early reports indicate that the Nebraska State Fair was a hit with fairgoers. Overall fair enjoyment received 4.4 out of 5 stars and 80 percent of the fairgoers are likely and very likely to highly recommend the Nebraska State Fair to others.

"Word of mouth is our most effective advertising medium, and the word is very good," McDermott said. "It's our goal to always make improvements from year-to-year to make every Nebraskan proud of the state's largest entertainment event."

National Preparedness Month

September is National Preparedness Month. This month focuses on taking action and making a plan. Your plan should address how to stay safe and communicate during any disaster that may affect your community. Being prepared goes beyond awareness and puts it into action. We all need to know our role and responsibilities during any emergency.

Being prepared includes having an emergency supply kit, making a family emergency plan, and staying informed about different types of emergencies. After preparing ourselves and our families, we need to take the next step and get involved in helping our community be prepared.

When preparing for a possible emergency situation, it's best to think first about the basics of survival: fresh water, food, clean air and warmth. Recommended items to include in a basic emergency supply kit are:

- Water, one gallon of water per person per day for at least three days;

- Food, at least a three-day supply of non-perishable food;

- Battery-powered radio and a NOAA Weather Radio with tone alert;

- Flashlight and extra batteries;

- First aid kit;

- Whistle to signal for help;

- Dust masks, to help filter contaminated air;

- Plastic sheeting and duct tape to shelter-in-place;

- Moist towelettes, garbage bags and plastic ties for personal sanitation;

- Wrench or pliers to turn off utilities;

Health News

- Can opener for food (if kit contains canned food);

- Hygiene items.

This list is just the basics. You will need to add items if you have a baby, pet, or take medications. Other items could be important documents, extra cash, cold weather items, matches, fire extinguisher, activities for children, writing material, bleach for disinfecting and extra clothes. If possible, store items in water proof containers.

During an emergency, your family may not be together. It is important to plan how you will contact one another; how you will get back together; and what you will do in different situations.

The staff at Thayer County Health Services works closely with Thayer County Emergency Management and other local agencies on developing a plan to be prepared for any medical emergency. To receive emergency notifications for Thayer County, go to <http://public.alertsense.com/SignUp/Public.aspx?regionId=1057>.

During National Preparedness Month we should also recognize local police officers, firefighters and emergency personnel for their commitment to our safety. As first responders, they have demonstrated the true meaning of heroism by being willing to take great risks to safeguard our communities.

Ralph Schardt

Ralph Henry Schardt, the son of Ernst and Lillie (Vetter) Schardt, was born on the family farm in rural Carlton on June 1920. He passed away on September 4, 2015, at home in Hebron, at the age of 95 years two months and 22 days.

He was baptized on June 20, 1924, and confirmed May 13, 1934, by Rev. Droegemueller in Trinity Lutheran Church, Friedensau. His confirmation verse was Revelation 2:10, "Be thou faithful unto death and I will give thee a crown of life."

He attended school at Trinity Lutheran through the eighth grade and completed ninth and tenth grades at Carleton High School.

Ralph was united in marriage to Hulda Krenke on August 6, 1941, at Trinity Lutheran Church Friedensau by the Rev. Droegemueller. This union was blessed with children, Audrey, Laura, Everett, Larry, Marvin and Lila. Ralph and Hulda farmed in the Friedensau and Carleton areas.

Ralph was drafted into the armed services during World War II and served his country for over three and one-half years. During this time, he was a driver for a general.

After Ralph's return from service, they continued farming in the Friedensau area until retirement. Even after retirement he was very active in the family farm. They moved to Hebron in 1993. Ralph loved his family and all facets of farming.

He is survived by his children, Audrey Schardt of Cozad, Laura Schmadeke and husband David of Springfield, Ill., Everett Schardt and wife Marilyn, Larry Schardt, Marvin Schardt and wife Diane, all of Hebron, and Lila and husband Brian of Cozad; grandchildren and great grandchildren, David Schardt and wife Merlo, and their children Katie, Karen, Krista and Jonathan, Brian and wife Julene and their sons Darren, Cale, Blake and Dillon, Joy Barton and husband Ross and their children Brianna and Lane, Kelli Schardt and children Conner and Lakin.

Funeral services were held on September 9 at St. Peter Lutheran Church in Deshler, with Rev. Brian Francik officiating. Music was congregational hymns "Nearer My God to Thee," "I know that My Redeemer Lives" and "Amazing Grace," with Anita Harms as organist.

Pallbearers were Ralph's grandsons, David Schardt, Brian Schardt, Jeremy Schardt, Andrew Schmadeke, Brant Weatherl, Nick Worcester, Ross Barton.

Honorary pallbearers were Joy Barton, Amy Weatherl, Jennifer Worcester, Rebecca Weber, Sara Weber, Merlo Schardt, Julene Schardt, and Adison Schardt, Kelli Schardt.

Harms receives Tanks of Thanks

Jamon Harms of Deshler has received a special thank you for paying it forward in his community. Harms was selected to receive free fuel from Tanks of Thanks(r), a program that rewards people who go the extra mile for others.

Recently, Harms received a $50 Tanks of Thanks gift card, which is redeemable at any Cenex(r) location, for his work with Men Against Destruction Defending Against Drugs and Social Disorder (MAD DADS).

Harms collects bikes of all sizes and conditions and brings them more than 100 miles to MAD DADS in Lincoln. Locally, he has helped collect more than 60 bikes this year and has worked with the foundation for several years. To date, MAD DADS helped find new homes for more than 7,000 bicycles.

The Tanks of Thanks program from CHS and Cenex retailers encourages people to nominate neighbors, family and friends for free fuel as a way to thank them for doing good deeds, both large and small. Each month, more than $5,000 in free fuel is given away through the Tanks of Thanks program.

"Tanks of Thanks does more than give away free fuel. It empowers people to continue doing good things for their communities," explains Akhtar Hussain, CHS refined fuels brand marketing manager.

According to Hussain, nominating someone for Tanks of Thanks is easy, and anyone can nominate or be nominated for any act of kindness.

"Congratulations to Jamon Harms, and thank you for your contributions to the community," he says.

To make a nomination, visit TanksOfThanks.com and briefly describe why someone deserves a Tank of Thanks.

Hintz member of Cornhusker marching band

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln's 299-member Cornhusker Marching Band makes its 2015 debut Saturday at Memorial Stadium with pregame and halftime performances at Nebraska's football season opener against Brigham Young University.

This year's band includes representatives from nearly every region of the country, however, 78 percent of the students are from Nebraska. Twenty-five percent of the students are music majors. The rest are studying in more than 60 other degree programs across campus. Each band member passed two auditions to gain admittance to the group.

Benjamin Hintz of Hebron plays the trombone. He is a sophomore majoring in biological system engineering.

Anthony M. Falcone, associate director of bands in the Glenn Korff School of Music, is the director of the Cornhusker Marching Band.

The Cornhusker Marching Band, which resides in the Korff School, was founded in 1879 as an ROTC unit and is one of the oldest marching bands in the nation.

The marching band has received many honors throughout its 136-year history, including a Distinguished Recognition Trophy presented by John Philip Sousa in 1927 and the John Philip Sousa Foundation's Sudler Trophy in 1996 for high musical standards and innovative marching routines. The Sudler Trophy is the highest honor given to collegiate bands.

The Pride of All Nebraska has been seen by millions of viewers on television including in 2005, when the band was featured on the NBC primetime series "Tommy Lee Goes to College," in 2007 on ABC's "Extreme Makeover: Home Edition," and in 2008 in the motion picture "Yes Man" starring Jim Carrey. The band was the first collegiate ensemble to perform at all of the major football bowl games (Rose, Orange, Fiesta, Sugar and Cotton). The full marching band will travel to the Nebraska at Illinois game on Oct. 3.

Obituaries

Sharon Holtzen

Sharon Kay Holtzen was born to Harley L. Gaston and Viola E. Schmidt Gaston on June 1, 1949, in Fairbury, and passed away August 31, 2015, at the age of 66.

Sharon graduated in 1967 from Fairbury High School. She was a jack of all trades with numerous jobs from sewing to making cakes to winding brooms to helping troubled youth to secretarial responsibilities- she could do it ALL. She left a lasting impression on anyone who crossed her path. Her contagious smile and enthusiasm for life was her personal signature.

Although Sharon called a few other places home, her heart was in Bruning. She was an active member of the community and a die-hard fan of any school sport. Sharon had a lot of pride for Bruning and enjoyed her job as Village Clerk. She was always going above and beyond to make sure that the community was clean and welcoming to visitors and residents. Her pride was displayed especially during playoffs when she made the town's streets her canvas, leaving inspiration for the entire team.

She was all about "getting the party started." Whether it would be around a fire pit, in the gymnasium, on a road trip, or over a drink; her energy was contagious. She loved bringing joy to others through surprises and embarrassment. She especially enjoyed Christmas celebrations - coming up with games that were meant not only to bring a smile to everyone's face, but also to reflect in the gift of life.

Her greatest pleasures in life were her four children, grandchildren, and youth of the community. Left to cherish her memory are her son, Dustin Zabokrtsky; daughters, Madison and Hailey of Bennington, Neb., Kimberly Mussman and husband Chad Mussman and their children Cagney, Allison, and Barrett of Ohio; son, Dalton Holtzen and wife Lary Holtzen of Fairbury; daughter, Whitney Holtzen and fiance Jason Garwood of Ames, Iowa; brother, Dennis Gaston of Fairbury; sister, Lorie Monroe of Lincoln; sister-in-law, Mary Jo Gaston of Fairbury; as well as nieces, nephews, friends, colleagues, and others she considered family.

She is preceded in death by her parents; sister, Ardith

Willcox; and brother, Vern Gaston.

In January of 2013, Sharon started a journey in which she truly found her purpose in life. With a cancer diagnosis she utilized her faith and became an inspiration for others. She stayed strong and positive throughout her fight and hasn't lost the battle... she has finally won.

Funeral services for Sharon were held on Sept. 3 at the Trinity Lutheran Church in Bruning. Pastor Stuart Sell officiated the services. Melissa Houchin accompanied the congregation in the singing of "In The Garden" and "Amazing Grace." She also accompanied Karie Buchli in the singing of "The Lord's Prayer." The recorded music of "I'll Always Love You" by Whitney Houston was played at the end of the service.

Pallbearers for the service included Leon Gaston, Jeffrey Gaston, Michael Gaston, Matt Buchli, Donnie Willcox, Rob Marsh, Ryan Monroe, and Matt Pittman.

Honorary bearers were Barrett Mussman, Allison Mussman, Cagney Mussman, Madison Zabokrtsky, and Hailey Larsen.

Interment was held in the Fairbury Cemetery.

Memorials are directed to the CEDARS Youth Service, 6601 Pioneers BLVD #1, Lincoln, NE 68506.

Farmer & Son Funeral Home of Geneva conducted the services.

Betty Drohman

Betty L. Drohman of Lincoln, formerly Deshler, the daughter of Walter L. and Elsie (Green) Jacobson, was born December 12, 1922, in Albion. She departed this life on September 3, 2015, at Southlake Village in Lincoln, at the age of 92 years.

She attended school in Ogallala and graduated from Ogallala High School and took normal training to teach in country schools. She met her husband, Vivan, in Ogallala, where he was working on the Lake McConaughy Dam. The couple married November 29, 1941, in Ogallala. This union was blessed with the birth of two children.

Vivan was drafted into the United States Army during WWII. He and Betty went to Texas and upon his deployment she returned to Deshler, where she taught in area country schools.

While teaching she continued her education and received her bachelor's in teaching in the 1950's. She then taught in the Deshler Public School System for over 30 years. In 1967, she received her master's degree from the University of Nebraska. Betty loved children and spent her entire life teaching young children. She especially loved the fourth grade.

Betty and Vivan lived on the family farm, before they moved into Deshler, where she helped her husband with the farm chores. Her favorite was the horses, but she also enjoyed cross stitch, reading, and playing bridge.

She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church in Deshler until moving to Lincoln to be close to her daughter after retiring.

She is preceded in death by her parents; son, William; brother, Walter Jacobson; and sisters, Helen Tuman, Diana Toops and Carol Jacobson.

She is survived by her daughter, Patricia Harley and husband Dr. Rick of Lincoln; grandchildren, Michele Wheeler and husband Tom of Firth, Dr. Scott Harley D.O. and wife Melissa of Oceanside, Calif., Stephanie Eells and husband Jeff of Lincoln; and nieces, nephews and friends.

Funeral services were held on September 8 at First Presbyterian Church in Hebron. Officiant was Pastor Connie Stone; organist, David Cording; and soloist, Abby Stone sang "Amazing Grace." Congregational hymns were "What A Friend We Have In Jesus" and "Nearer My God To Thee."

Casket bearers were Scott Harley, Tom Wheeler, Nathan Wheeler, Jeff Eells, Marvin Drohman, Greg Drohman, and Steve Drohman.

Condolences may be left at www.krollfh.com.

Kroll Funeral Home of Deshler was in charge of arrangements.

James Walters

James Russell Lee Walters was born in Lebanon, Mo., on July 17, 1949, to Barney Leroy Walters and Virginia Johnson Walters. He was the second of nine children. He passed away at the family home in Hebron, surrounded by his family on September 5, 2015, at the age of 66 years.

He grew up in the Ozark hills, a rough and tumble little hillbilly boy, who did his part to give his mother the gray hair she has today. When just a little tyke, he grabbed onto some clothes going into the electric wringer washing machine and it pulled him into the ringer, grinding away until his Dad hit the ringer with such force that it broke. He carried a scar under his arm for the rest of his life.

When five years old, he got polio. This time it was his mother who spent hours massaging his legs every night when they were hurting so bad. As a result, he regained his ability to walk.

Then there was the time while playing good guy-bad guy and he was the bad guy who was going to get hung at sundown. He jumped off the bucket and the little rope around his neck tightened, leaving him kicking in the air. Fortunately, once again his father was close enough to cut him down and give him a chance to grow up a bit more.

While playing hide and seek, he knew the other kids were hiding in the chicken house so he quietly climbed up on the roof, stuck his head through a hole in the roof, and scared the hiders below only to find his ears prevented his head from coming back out. His dad had to make the hole bigger so he could escape. He probably wouldn't have survived life without his dad.

Jim married Judy Apple-garth on August 1, 1970. They had four children: Joy, Jamie, Jonathan, and Jennifer. His children were his treasures. No one could date his daughters without first facing Daddy. Only the ones that survived his hillbilly shotgun intimidation made it into his daughters' lives. Then he took them into his big heart and loved them like sons.

He worked at Potlatch Lumber Mill for several years before returning to school. He graduated from Christ for the Nations Institute in Dallas, Texas, in 1979, and served as pastor of Faith Christian Center from 1991 to 1999 before moving to St. Ignace, Michigan, where he ministered until retiring in 2007.

He ran his own construction business for nearly 30 years, quietly praying for the people he worked for. He saw marriages restored and lives changed.

When he and Judy moved to Hebron, he was hired at Thayer County Health Services to work in maintenance. Whether the staff there realized it or not, Jim took them into his heart as family—just as he did the entire town. He loved people whether they knew it or not or whether they liked him or not. He was known for turning any enemies into his personal friends.

He loved to hunt and tried to instill that love into his children. He patiently taught his active son, Jonathan, to sit so still that a turkey walked up and looked the boy in the eye before wandering off. Then he patiently taught him how to shoot turkeys that came that close. He also taught his girls how to hunt, and Jamie and Jennifer have both been known to put meat on the table. He passed on his carpentry skills to his oldest daughter, Joy, who makes beautiful furniture pieces. The last piece they worked on together was a manicure table for his youngest daughter, Jennifer.

Jim is preceded in death by his father, Barney Walters.

He is survived by his wife, Judy; their children, Joy, Jamie, Jonathan, and Jennifer; twelve grandchildren; his mother, Virginia Walters; and five brothers and three sisters.

Memorial service will be held on September 12, at 11 a.m., at the First Community Church in Hebron. Officiants will be Pastors Steve Speichinger and Brett Mackey. Special music by Jim Walters' family.

There is no visitation; cremation.

Interment will be at Monarch Cemetery in Brownsville, Mo.

Condolences may be left at www.krollfh.com.

Memorials are directed in care of the family.

Kroll Funeral Home of Hebron is in charge of arrangements.

Donna Ahrenkiel

Donna L. Ahrenkiel was born on August 6, 1924, in Carleton, to Theodore and Mary (Heartley) Leff. She passed away on September 4, 2015.

Donna is preceded in death by her husband, Mel; son, Terry; and her parents.

Donna is survived by sons, Mick and wife Sue and Robert; daughters, Mary and husband Doug Severs and Carol Jenkins; seven grandchildren; and almost three great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held on Sept. 11, at 1 p.m. at the Funeral Home Chapel in Omaha.

Interment will be in West-lawn Hillcrest Cemetery in Omaha. Visitation will be held from 12 p.m. to 1 p.m. prior to services.

Belvidere Women's Club

After a long summer the Belvidere Women's Club held their first meeting of the 2015-2016 club year on Sept. 1, at 7 p.m., at the Community Center.

President Linda Hudson welcomed 17 of the 23 members back. She introduced three new members: Lee Cording from Hebron, Kim Dunker from Geneva and Ardys (Avers) Dunsmoor from Hampton. Each of the members answered roll call by showing or telling of a craft item they had made through the years. Jackie Williamson presented the "Thought for the Day." She read some articles about Fall.

Colin Fink was present to thank the Women's Club and tell them something about his experiences as a delegate to Sophomore Pilgrimage. He and Samantha Wiedel represented the Belvidere Club. He said he especially enjoyed the debates in the legislature and lunch in the Governor's Mansion. The club also wants to thank these two 2015 sophomores for representing Belvidere and Thayer Central so well.

President Hudson then introduced Deena Schultz of Deshler who presented the program for the evening. She gave a brief history about her experiences of how she began getting into art.

She has now opened her business "A Leap of Faith" and gives parties to groups of people who want to try their hand at painting. She showed a large number of her paintings, all of which were very professional. She also answered a number of questions. Everyone was well pleased with the first program of the year.

The rest of the evening was taken up with the business meeting. Secretary Jen Waldmeier read the minutes of the last meeting held in April and Cheryl Marsh presented the financial report. Cheryl handed out program sheets for the rest of the year. She will have the more formal booklets ready for the October meeting.

The members discussed if they wanted to donate food and labor for the Thayer County Museum's Fall Festival which will be held the last Sunday of September.

The president commented about all the town's flowers which she felt were more beautiful than ever this year. She urged everyone to take time to view them because frost may be only a little over a month away. The club had voted to continue their support of the Belvidere Community Center. At this particular time, the club will purchase a large coffee pot to be placed in the center.

President Hudson announced the Dist. 4 Club convention would be held in Fairmont on Oct. 1. Club members are urged to attend if possible. The program at the convention is presented by the Attorney General's office on Child Trafficking. A special project will be the annual auction which is a fund raiser for projects of the districts Women's Clubs.

Linda also announced special meetings sponsored by the Thayer County Health Services. One of these meetings is to be held in Belvidere, Sept. 9, at 7:00 p.m. The meeting will inform the public about the renovations at the hospital.

They also discussed money making projects to have at the Fall Festival. The club is proceeding with the project of the little house to be moved to the Railroad Park. Linda wrote and received a grant from Norris Public Power to help with improvements to the building. Tom Priefert is donating the building to be refurbished into a little meeting place for birthday parties, card groups, coffee klatches and various other activities. We are anxious to get started on this project.

Several ladies brought their "Sock it to 'Em" socks which were filled with change to be donated to St. Jude's Children's Hospital. If you forgot yours, they can also be brought to the next meeting.

Cheryl Marsh and Jane Dodes were hostesses for the evening. The next meeting will be held on October 6 at 7 p.m. at the Community Center.

Belvidere

By LaDonna Avers

Since the news for next week's paper must be in by today there is not much yet to report for this week. You will read elsewhere in the paper that the Belvidere Women's Club met Tuesday night.

Forgotten last week was the fact that Ardys Dunsmoor had a bat in her house last week. She couldn't get it out until Thursday so she slept with the doors all shut and a broom near at hand. It departed this earth on Friday.

Your correspondent did a stupid thing Sunday. While sitting on the arm of a highly polished pew, she slid backwards onto the pew and ended up with feet in the air and a completely red face. It seemed like there was no injury, except to her pride, until Monday morning when everything possible ached.

Aside from these two prior incidents nothing seemed to happen. There have been people attend the State Fair but so far it hasn't been reported so, hopefully, there will be more news next week.

Also, don't forget the Renovation Presentation in Belvidere on September 9 at 7 p.m., following the community center committee meeting.

Meeting on elder abuse held

Speaking on Elder Abuse at the Chester Senior Center last Friday was Sally Singer.

Mrs. Singer told of different types of elder abuse, such as physical, sexual, financial, neglect (denial of essential services or self-neglect). She spoke of the many scams which are going on especially targeting the elderly.

There is a free AARP Fraud Watch Helpline available at 877-908-3360; no AARP membership required.

Another number to report abuse is available at 1-800-652-1999 where one can make anonymous calls and do not need to prove that abuses are occurring. Individuals can put a trace on phone lines for a fee or change phone numbers.

If one has access to internet, he can sign up for the free AARP Fraud Watch Network.

If one receives 900 numbers on his cell phone, they could indicate harassment and should not be opened as it could cause his account to be charged horrendous fees. Individuals should check phone bills each month to make sure this has not happened. There are phone numbers that can be called to find out the number of the last call, such as 1169 for land lines (there may be a .50 fee for call), or 69, if from

Titans host first home football game of the season

The Thayer Central Titans went up against Sutton in the season's first home game last Friday night. The Mustangs overcame the Titans in a final score of 44-6, scoring eight in the first quarter, 20 in the second and 16 in the third. Preston Reece managed a touchdown in the second quarter for the Titans with a 39 yard run.

"We knew going into the Sutton game that physically they were going to run the ball right at us," said Josh Lanik, the Thayer Central coach. "I thought we did a pretty good job assignment wise, especially compared to the week before. Turnovers once again were a thorn in our side and this week we are going to put an extra emphasis on ball security." Reece had 51 yards rushing followed by Dietric Kenning at 30 yards. Jady Dightman had 51 yards receiving and Connor Mumm had 13 yards. Defensively, Adam Meyer had 11 total tackles. Cody Fitzgerald, Dightman and Mumm each had seven tackles. "We need to find ways to score points and sustain drives," said Lanik. "We moved the ball well but just couldn't finish drives when we had the chance." The Titans will next face Sandy Creek in a home game. Kickoff is at 7 p.m.
