School tax request decreases

The Thayer Central Community Schools District decreased its tax request for the 2018-2019 fiscal year by 1.8 cents because projects such as, the heating, ventilation and air conditioning system for the high school that was acquired six years ago and the $3.2 million elementary school addition.

The district has $296,000 on the HVAC system and $690,000 for the addition remaining.

"Everyone appreciates the fact we are bringing down our tax request," Superintendent Drew Harris said. "It's difficult times in agriculture."

Harris is referring to the trade conflict as President Donald Trump seeks to rebuild a system that would be fair for all countries involved.

Regarding the district's facilities, no meetings are planned for at least the next two months because of the harvest.

"Overall, our facilities are sufficient," Harris said. "Safety-wise, connecting the buildings would be an improvement." Connecting the buildings tops the list of suggested improvements.

"It's the harvest right now. In November, we can start meetings again and see the best way to approach this," he said.

Harris said there were no unexpected expenses over the past fiscal year. The district had funds left over to reallocate to food service and the depreciation account for future projects.

The district will continue to remodel what's left of the high school's 14 classrooms.

Remodeling has taken place in two to three classrooms a year.

The chemistry lab and media center are on the district's radar for improvements, and within two to three years, the district is planning the same for the original classrooms in the elementary building. They were last touched in 1979.

City sets budget

The City of Hebron will implement a three percent increase in its budget this fiscal year, as opposed to the 3.64 percent increase last year.

Accountant Brian Blobaum said new property growth will absorb .38 percent, which leaves a 2.62 increase in prior existing properties.

The levy rate last year was .470041 and this year's rate is .485499. By law, the city cannot levy more than .50.

The city's finance committee, Larry Fangmeier, Kurk Wiedel and Tim Pickering, met with departments to forecast expenditures.

"We looked at it pretty closely. We're catching up on maintenance that hasn't been done in several years and we're finding more and more to catch up on," Fangmeier said.

Valuation dropped slightly and aren't showing they will increase dramatically in the future.

"Property taxes are not raising nearly as fast as health insurance and various other expenses," Blobaum said at the city's public hearing for the budget earlier this month.

The city will have to make a transfer from the utility fund to the general fund next year, Blobaum said.

Transfers to the general fund from utilities are commonplace for cities. A transfer in 2007 was $150,000 and that rose to $250,000 through the years. The city does not transfer funds every

Resource meeting gives leaders tips

From grant programs for the deconstruction of abandoned buildings to growth for swine and dairy to overall economic development in the livestock industry, the resource event last month in Hebron arranged by Thayer County Economic Development Alliance, drew nearly 50 people, including leaders of villages and cities in Thayer.

Southeast Community College Learning Center in Hebron was the location for the Aug. 30 event.

Three to four representatives from mostly ag-related companies, organizations and agencies spent approximately 25 minutes each explaining resource opportunities to audiences that rotated through sessions, and collected literature, contacts and notes.

"I was really pleased half the council was here today," Larry Fangmeier of the Hebron City Council said. "This is a worthwhile meeting. These pieces of information could make all the difference."

Meanwhile, TCEDA director, Diane Wettstein, said the presenters were excited as well.

"The event was a way to get their programs out to the public," she said. Wettstein organized the two-hour event to create a communicative bridge.

For example, the Alliance for the Future of Agriculture in Nebraska touts its one-on-one assistance with zoning regulations for producers looking to expand, tips on building sound livestock facilities and videos and radio spots promoting livestock.

Nebraska Department of Environmental Quality has one-stop permit meetings for incoming businesses or livestock facilities.

The Nebraska Department of Agriculture developed a livestock siting assessment matrix after being directed by the Nebraska Legislature in 2015, the same year Thayer became a livestock friendly county, along with Fillmore.

The matrix allows county commissioners and zoning boards to assign points to facets of potential projects and review their likelihoods of moving forward.

The Center for Rural Affairs helps with technical assistance in troubleshooting cash flow, budgeting, loan packaging and small business lending through the Rural Enterprise Assistance Project.

And, Norris Public Power District supports development in offering an economic development rate for new or expanding customers.

Norris's communication coordinator, Vicky Jurgens, said there are energy classes for every grade. Norris educates students about electricity, including careers and safety training. Scholarships are available for students of Norris customers.

Hebron City Councilman Kurk Wiedel said he was looking into resources for the Denny's Entertainment building next to city hall that was purchased for $16,000 by the city.

"I'd like to take this information and start the process with that building," Wiedel said.

The event was also a chance for TCEDA to reiterate the Southeast Nebraska Development District fund for down payment assistance on homes and the USDA revolving loan fund for businesses.

The SENDD organization has four targets - housing, community development, emergency/disaster relief and economic development each have a list of assistance projects such as, owner occupied rehabilitation, community development block grants, floodplain management and GIS mapping.

At TCEDA, there is $40,000 available for down pay-

As will be seen by an announcement in this issue, a movement to reopen the Hebron Packing House is being organized.

One of the strongest illustrations we have seen of the deep interest taken by the people this year in politics, was shown last Saturday evening at Bruning. The committee was unable to get any other room than the upper part of a lively stable. In this cold and uncomfortable room a large audience gathered and listened for an hour and a half to talk on the political issue of the day by E. M. Correll.

W. J. McAnally, formerly of Belvidere, has taken charge of a lumber yard at Chrismon, Ill.

A lively runaway and the screaming voice of a frightened boy, brought men and women to their feet Monday evening along Lincoln Avenue, as Mr. Dane's delivery wagon and old white horse came tearing down the street with the boy clinging for dear life to the high seat. The umbrella attached to the wagon had tipped over and touch the horse, causing him to strike a pace and make the dust fly for a few blocks.

A severe electric storm during Tuesday night cooled the sultry air and moistened the parched ground with rain valued at an even $2,731,356.23.

In connection with the recent death of J. R. Prentice of this city, it is of interest to reprint the following account of his medal of honor, which appeared in the Journal. The article is quite long, so it could not all be included in this column, but the paragraph below gives an account of the deed which won the medal of honor for

J. R. in the battle at Stone River, Tenn.: "Our brigade was in the battle at Stone River, Tenn., and was cut off from both sides so that we had to retreat. My major was cut down and I returned and picked him up and his sword and carried him about one-half mile. By the time I reached there he was dead. The First Lieutenant noticed what I had done and made a memorandum of it, for promotion. Afterwards he went into recruiting services and I never got it. A few years ago I was reading about Andersonville prison, and reading about these medals of honor, I thought I would see if I couldn't get one. I wrote to the Adjutant General, and he told me that my deed deserved a medal and if I could furnish proof of the fact I could get it. I wrote to Colonel McCook of the 2nd Ohio, and secured affidavits of five other soldiers who had witnessed it, and turned it over to the Adjutant General. Three or four years afterwards I received the medal."

Obituary: Michael Dennis Lennon was born in Lafayette, Tippecanoe County, Ind., May 27, 1853. He came to Hebron in October, 1884, and started in the monument business for himself. In Nov., 1885, he married Aloise Sedlacek of Fort Dodge, Iowa. He leaves his widow and five children to mourn his loss. He died on July 22, 1908, at the age of 55 years, 1 month and 25 days.

An experiment in "oiled roadways" is being tested out on the corner of Lincoln Avenue and Fifth street. J. E. Shearer furnished the sand and T. M. Taylor the crude oil, to test its value. It is claimed that the oiled roads are dustless and do not pit out, as the oil holds the gravel together.

Leo D. Saxton, formerly of Belvidere, was killed in action in France on June 7. The young man, aged 19 years, volunteered in the aviation service on Jan. 22, 1918, and went to training at Ft. Logan, Colo. He was transferred to the infantry and stationed at Camp Hancock, Ga., then sent to New Jersey and to France in March or April. Fate moved rapidly for the young patriot--six months from the time of enlistment to burial on foreign soil. "Chub," as he was familiarly called, was beloved by a large circle of friends and his passing is a matter of grief, altho there is glory in the thot that he died a hero.

Since the City's passage of its new ATV ordinance earlier last month, there have been 23 inspections and 23 registrations handed out, or roughly one every other day. Of those 23 applications, only one is for a golf cart. Legalizing the driving of golf carts on city streets is where the whole thing started, but the difference might be that most all-terrain vehicles are street ready, where most golf carts must be made that way prior to inspection at the local law enforcement center. It could also be that all-terrain vehicles are simply more fun to drive. For years farmers have used ATVs for agricultural related work meaning their ATVs are probably as ready as they need to be in order to pass inspection.

Bruning ALA #166 meets

The Durham-Mammen Legion Auxiliary, Unit #166, Bruning, met on Monday, September 10, at the Opera House with nine members present.

The meeting began at 7:30 p.m. with our chaplain, Pat Headrick, giving the opening prayer. The opening ceremony was held.

Our president Janelle Bruning called the business meeting to order.

The minutes of the June and July meetings were reviewed and approved.

The treasurer, Linda Hume, gave her report. A motion was made, seconded and carried to approve her report.

Correspondence included information from several different sources. We received a thank you from the Western Nebraska Veterans Home in Scottsbluff for the centerpieces we sent to them. A big thank you to Janelle for taking care of this project.

We received a thank you from the two boys for the scholarships they received. Both boys shared what college they are now attending and what they are studying.

We received information from our District 11 President Beverly Neel, concerning several projects we can support, if we choose to do so. 2019 will be the 100th birthday of the American Legion. A motion was made, seconded and carried that we send a donation to the Veterans Hospital in Lincoln to be used for the project of their choice.

The Fall county meeting will be held September 19 in Davenport. The Fall Round-Up will be held October 21 at Ohioa.

The American Legion Family Leadership Workshop and Homecoming Banquet will be held September 22 in Winside. Workshops will be held throughout the day with a banquet in the evening.

We plan to serve a soup supper, along with the Carleton Auxiliary at the BDS basketball game on December 7, which is also Pearl Harbor Day. Plans will be made soon for the soup supper.

Dues need to be paid to Carol Weber, so please get them to her as soon as possible.

Linda announced that September 30 in Belvidere's annual harvest day. We are all invited to attend.

It was brought to our attention that several of our ladies have been Auxiliary members for 40 years or more. We will talk about this at our October meeting and possibly honor them at our November meeting.

A motion was made, seconded and carried to give donations to the same projects that we have given to in the past.

As there was no further business, the meeting was closed with prayer by our chaplain.

Janelle presented a short program on the "Quilts of Valor" and showed several quilts that are in the process of being finished to be given to a Veteran. The ladies who help with these quilts spend many hours making them and they are beautiful and special. Veterans who receive them are very appreciative; these quilts are just one way of thanking them for their service.

Our next meeting will be on October 8, at 7:30 p.m. the program will be on Community Emergency. We are each asked to bring a Halloween card to be sent to the Veteran's.

Thank you to our hostesses, Donna Schweer and Debra Stanek.

Burglary suspect arrested

The Thayer County Sheriff's Office arrested Zachary Roth, 23, of Belvidere, because he is a suspect in a Belvidere burglary.

According to a warrantless arrest affidavit, the burglary occurred Sept. 6 and Roth admitted he had stolen items to a third party.

Acting on a tip Sept. 7, Sheriff David Lee found Roth at a sandpit near roads 6500 and T, and ordered him out of his pickup truck. Roth had a stolen firearm and other items in his truck.

On Sept. 10, Roth was charged with burglary, theft and second degree criminal trespass by Thayer County Attorney Dan Werner. Roth's bond was 10 percent of $50,000 and was reduced to 10 percent of $25,000.

He plans to hire an attorney and is due in court Sept. 24 at 10:30 a.m., for a preliminary hearing.

Lady Eagles win Mudecas

The Lady Eagles of Bruning/Davenport-Shickley won the 2018 Mudecas Volleyball Tournament last week after defeating Class D1 No. 2 rated Johnson-Brock.

Coach Kari Jo Alfis said the girls were ready to play the final match. They will not have a chance to play Johnson-Brock again since the Eagles dropped to Class D2 this year.

“Our serving game was a huge factor for us tonight as we did not miss any serves, but still served aggressive enough to chock up 11 ace serves against a very tough squad,” Alfis said. “I am very proud of the girls as they work hard and play for each other.”

It was a productive tournament week for the Lady Eagles. They began Sept. 10 in Beatrice and took on Humboldt Table Rock Steinaur to start.

Alfis said the girls were a little sluggish and didn't take the lead until the score hit 21-20 in the first set.

Once they settled in, however, they took control. Serve receives were solid and setters distributed the ball.

Macy Kamler scored seven straight points from the service line and the Eagles finished 25-20 and 25-14.

Next was Freeman with Caitlin Mosier smacking four points in a row with two ace serves to start the game.

“It was a total team effort,” Alfis said, crediting Kamler and Jady Klein-schmidt on serve receive; Regan Alfis and Jordan Bolte for good decisions as setters; Sera Johnson for serving well; and Emilie Schardt, along with Kamler for blocks in the second set to help put the game away. Scores were 25-21 and 25-20.

Against Johnson Brock, the girls won 25-21 in both sets, completing a week of winning sets and boosting their record to 9-1.

They were scheduled to play Shelby/Rising City in a triangular with Nebraska Lutheran Sept. 18.

Eagles 52-26 over Lourdes

The Bruning-Davenport/Shickley boys banded together after a couple injuries could have held them back, but they scraped out a win, Coach Mark Rotter said.

“We were very happy how the band of brothers pulled together,” he said.

On the campus of Peru State College, the BDS Eagles toppled Lourdes Central Catholic, 52-26.

Helping the Eagles to the boards were Isaac Kamler, who returned two interceptions for a touchdown pass;

Logan Schroeder for a touch-down catch and extra point; Dalton Kleinschmidt, who rushed one touchdown and extra point; John Christensen and Aaron Mick each had a touchdown; and Kameron Dickson and Justin Stengel each caught a touchdown pass.

“We had three sophomores play very well,” Rotter said about Kleinschmidt, Aaron Mick and Kyle Ardissono.

Kleinschmidt's rushing on the night totaled 58 yards. Mick went for 52 yards. He had seven tackles as well. Ardissono pounced for seven tackles, a pass deflection, blocked punt and an interception.

In rushing, Christensen had 86 yards. Christensen also threw for 99 yards in passing. In receiving, it was Dickson with 63 yards, Stengel, 16 yards and Schroeder, 13 yards.

Jacob Swartendruber added 12 tackles and Dylan Domeier, 11.

The BDS Eagle record is 3-0.

Season challenging for Titans

Exeter-Milligan-Friend tested Thayer Central's grid-iron skills at home Sept. 14 with a 62-20 game.

“EMF is an excellent well-coached team and played like it tonight,” Coach Jerome Jones said.

The Titans had several good moves, but just couldn't hold the Timberwolves, Jones added.

Scoring touchdowns were Isaiah Keilwitz and Jackson Feulner. Keilwitz made two, Feulner, one. Jarod Hergott had two conversions for two points.

Keilwitz rushed for 20 yards and 137 in total yards.

Tackles were fairly distributed. Feulner and Cavan McCuiston had four each; Jarod Hergott, three; Ashton Sinn, two; and Logan Wiedel, Zach Koss, Andrew Engle, Logan Leehring and Brennan Harms with one each.

Shevin Solomon goes after a Timberwolf in Friday night's game with Exeter-Milligan-Friend on the Titan gridiron.

Carter Miller and the Titan defense shared tackles and assists throughout the battle with the Timberwolves.

Dragons take game, 68-26

Deshler's homecoming game against Eustis-Farnam Sept. 14 saw a 68-26 win for the Dragons, who started the game well, Coach Carson Klute said.

The Dragons had to limit the opposing team's running back, who had averaged more than 400 yards per game.

Klute said the boys had been sluggish their first two games of the season and to see them start the game well was good.

In the second half, the Deshler defense held tight.

“Our guys stuck to their responsibilities and the game plan, so it was good to see them trust the process and fully commit themselves to the game,” Klute said.

The team's offense has racked up 321 yards in rushing and 793 in passing. Defense was at 1,201 on rushing and 283 passing. Rushing averages 371 per game for the Dragons and passing is at 400 yards.

Players making headway on the season are Cayden Loomis for 36 carries and 163 total yards; Hutch Finke, going 389 yards; and Holden Ruhnke with 134 yards.

The Dragons are looking forward to taking on 2-1 Dorchester Sept. 21.

They defeated Franklin two out of three sets — 25-17 and 25-20. Franklin won the second set, 25-22.

Farming years ago...

This is a picture of farming in Thayer County a long time ago. Henry Laber has a large collection of pictures in wooden frames that he has made. They are hanging in the museum's Big Red Barn. If anyone has some old barn wood, be sure to let Henry know. He uses it for frames such as this. Stop by the barn sometime and enjoy the collection.

Plate collection...

A new collection of plates has been given to the Thayer County Museum. These are just a few of the plates in the collection that depict farming of long ago and can be found in the Big Red Barn. There are many plates in the museum's Annex of a variety of different birds. This collection was owned by Kathy Mieth, wife of former Hebron school superintendent, Ray Mieth.
