Stone sentenced, will serve at least 30 years

By Nancy McGill
Hebron Journal-Register
hebronjrnews@windstream.net

Nebraska Assistant Attorney General Jason Bergevin said it wasn't a "fair fight" between defendant Harold Stone, 60, and his 15-year-old victim.

"It was just not a fair fight when the defendant decided to pursue her sexually," Bergevin said in his argument prior to Stone's sentencing.

Stone was convicted in July on four counts of first degree sexual assault of a child and one count of child abuse in Thayer County District Court by an evenly split jury of men and women. He was acquitted on a fifth count of first degree sexual assault of a child.

"The defendant completely minimizes his actions. He wants the court to think he is the victim," Bergevin said.

The victim and her family, who were manipulated by Stone want him in prison for the rest of his life, Bergevin said.

Stone's attorney, Robert Krieger said there were aggravating and mitigating factors in the case.

"We have to move forward," he said, despite disagreeing with the verdict.

Prior to sentencing, Thayer County District Judge Vicky Johnson told Stone he would need to register as a sex offender for 25 years.

Stone talked once during his sentencing and that was to answer questions about the forms he had signed to register.

Johnson asked Stone if he wanted to speak before sentencing and he said no.

She said Stone's pre-sentence investigation revealed from testing he is moderate to high risk to reoffend and overall testing showed he is medium risk to reoffend.

"The defendant continues to deny his guilt," she said.

The jury convicted him on five, separate, serious felonies, Johnson said.

"We must accept this verdict," she said.

Stone was sentenced to 15 to 20 years in prison on two counts of first degree sexual assault of a child. He will serve 15 to 20 years consecutively on both counts, making him eligible for parole in a minimum of 30 years.

The next two counts of first degree sexual assault of a child will be served concurrently with each at 15 to 20 years.

On the child abuse conviction, Stone received four to five years, also to be served concurrently.

Johnson said child sex abuse cases are on the rise and recent cases in her courtroom put Stone's case into perspective.

She said it is a myth to assume sexual predators are strangers.

"The fact is sexual predators are known to the children and their families. He (Stone) groomed the victim and her family to have access to her," Johnson said.

Stone is an educated man, he went to church and people throughout the world respect him, but he is undeserving of leniency, she added.

New year, new addition

Students gather outside the new addition at Thayer Central Elementary on the first day of the 2016-2017 school year Sept. 6. The school delayed the start of the year to finish construction on the facility. An open house was held Sept. 2. See the photos, page 12.

County commits to subdivision

About eight residents from the Country View Subdivision near Highway 136 and First Street were at the Thayer County Commissioners meeting Aug. 31 to protest the commissioners' decision not to maintain the subdivision roads during a scheduled public hearing.

Commissioner David Bruning said the commissioners talked the issue over two to three months ago.

But at the start of the hearing, Bruning said the commissioners won't be changing anything because a 2004 resolution between Ernest Wiedel, Darlene Wiedel and the county stipulated the roads in the subdivision were public, that the subdivision increases the county's tax base and the county would provide grading, gravel, snow removal and drainage maintenance.

"Because we've had difficulty with getting equipment in that area, the county felt it could discontinue maintenance there," Bruning said.

The resolution was written to remain in effect until it was modified by the parties involved or until the city of Hebron annexed the subdivision.

Resident Yvonne Long said the subdivision was only graded about once a year and wondered if they could expect it more frequently.

Road Superintendent George Gerdes said when the county's graders have gone to the subdivision, workers found someone was grading the road.

"People call the road department when the road is in bad shape. I would just like to have us handle it if we're going to do it," Gerdes said.

Resident Lester Reinke said the road must be graded at least once a week to prevent potholes.

Over 100 vehicles travel through the subdivision per day.

"That is probably a conservative number," Long said.

Five-foot high weeds were also a concern because it seems the weeds are shielding the road from view, according to residents.

Gerdes said the equipment had problems maneuvering around the circles to turn the equipment around.

"We're willing to accommodate the county and make a place for turnaround," Reinke said.

Resident Alan Wiedel said he has been involved with the process from the beginning and the first time the road was graveled, it was at the residents' expense.

"We can expect grading, gravel, drainage and snow removal just like any other primary road in the county in a timely manner?" Long asked.

"Yes," answered Bruning.

Commissioner Dean Krueger encouraged communication between the residents and the county.

"Everyone sees the potholes out there," Reinke said. "All I have is a drag and a John Deere. If there are potholes, you're going to get the calls."

Long also asked about a stop sign to replace the yield sign because once the bridge opens, traffic will increase.

Gerdes said he would look into if a stop sign would be required after the bridge opens.

The conversation switched to Highway 136 and slowing the speed there. Drivers are traveling 60 to 65 miles an hour on the highway.

"You have to have your foot on the gas because you may have a semi coming at you," Dan Werner said.

There were plans to change the lay of the road before the subdivision was built by shaving the hill, but the plans never came to fruition.

The speed limit drops to 55 miles per hour through Deshler and Gilead. The towns followed a criteria set by the Nebraska Department of Roads to lower the speed limit.

In other business, a public hearing was set for Sept. 7 on the conditional use permit for a wind met tower.

Quake jiggles state

The United States Geological Survey reported a 5.6 magnitude earthquake in Pawnee, Okla., Sept. 3 shortly after 7 a.m., that shook several states — the quake rippled from Texas to Minnesota and included Nebraska.

Cameras at Ray's Apple Market in Fairbury captured grocery store items slipping off the shelves while items at Central Market in Hebron remained in tact.

Steve Anderson of Central Market said he was at the store by 6:10 a.m. and didn't know there was an earthquake.

Thayer County Emergency Manager Bill McPherson said although he felt a tremor in Carleton, he had no reports of damage.

McPherson said at first, the tremor seemed like a loaded train rushing through town, and then wondered if it was a tremor.

"About that time, I started seeing it on the news," he said.

Commenters from Geneva to Wichita, Kan. on Hebron Journal Register's Facebook reported feeling the quake.

In a press release Sept. 3, the Oklahoma Geological Society stated the earthquake was an emergency and warranted the shut down of 37 saltwater disposal wells authorized to inject.

The wells inject enough fluid into the earth, and often into never-before-touched rocks, to produce "induced" earthquakes, according to a 2013 report by William Ellsworth of the United States Geological Survey.

Ellsworth stated fracking is not a frequent cause of earthquakes, rather, the earthquakes are minimal and don't climb past a 3.6 magnitude, compared to injection well seismicity.

The USGS states "enhanced oil recovery injects fluid into rock layers where oil and gas have already been extracted, while wastewater injection often occurs in never-before-touched rocks."

The Campbell Bros.' show was greeted with large crowds, Tuesday. They had bad luck here, losing a llama and a lion, both dying as a result of the intense heat.

Louis Hohensee writes home from Norfolk, Va., that Bob Johnson and George Hawkins have become coal passers and shipped to join the Asiatic squadron at New York, where on September 4 the fleet will pass in review before President Roosevelt.

Schmidt among those named as Nebraska LEAD 2016-1018 Fellows

Nebraska LEAD (Leadership Education/Action Development) Group 36 participants have been announced by the program's director, Terry Hejny. The two-year program will begin in September. Among the 36 named is Ellen Schmidt of Deshler.

The newest members of Nebraska's premier two-year agricultural leadership development program are involved in production agriculture and/or agribusiness in Nebraska.

"Class 36 consists of 30 diamonds in the rough and our job is to polish them up, preparing them for future leadership roles in their community, our state and beyond,"

Hejny said. LEAD Fellows will participate in 12 monthly three-day seminars across Nebraska, a 10-day national study/travel seminar and a 14-16 day international study/travel seminar. The goal of the program is to develop problem solvers, decision makers and spokespersons for agriculture and Nebraska.

Seminar themes include leadership assessment and potential, natural resources and energy, leadership through communication, agricultural policy and finance, Nebraska's political process, global perspectives, nuclear energy, social and cultural issues, understanding and developing leadership skills, agribusiness and marketing, information technology, advances in health care, the resources and people of Nebraska's Panhandle and other areas designed to develop leaders through exposure to a broad array of current topics and issues and how they interrelate.

The Nebraska LEAD Program is operated by the non-profit Nebraska Agricultural Leadership Council, in cooperation with the University of Nebraska-Lincoln's Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources and 12 other institutions of higher education throughout Nebraska.

Suicide Prevention

The second week of September is Suicide Prevention week. Each year 30,000 people die by suicide in the United States; this is nearly twice the number of deaths by homicide. Suicide is the 11th leading cause of death in the United States, with one suicide occurring on average every 16 minutes. Even more alarming, suicide is the third leading cause of death among 15- to 24-year olds.

Ninety percent of people who die by suicide have a diagnosable mental illness and/or substance abuse disorder. A suicidal person may not ask for help, but that doesn't mean help isn't wanted. Most people who commit suicide don't want to die—they just want to stop hurting.

Most suicidal individuals give warning signs or signals of their intentions. The best way to prevent suicide is to recognize these warning signs and know how to respond if you spot them. If you believe that a friend or family member is suicidal, you can play a role in suicide prevention by pointing out the alternatives, showing that you care, and getting a doctor or psychologist involved.

Major warning signs for suicide include talking about killing or harming oneself, talking or writing a lot about death or dying, and seeking out things that could be used in a suicide attempt, such as weapons and drugs. These signals are even more dangerous if the person has a mood disorder such as depression or bipolar disorder, suffers from alcohol dependence, has previously attempted suicide, or has a family history of suicide.

Take any suicidal talk or behavior seriously. It's not just a warning when someone is thinking about suicide—it's a cry for help. A more subtle warning sign of suicide is hopelessness. Studies have found that hopelessness is a strong predictor of suicide. People who feel hopeless may talk about "unbearable" feelings, predict a bleak future, state that they have nothing to look forward to, state feelings of self-dislike, or express a sudden sense of calm after sadness.

Other warning signs that point to a possible suicide include dramatic mood swings or sudden personality changes, such as going from outgoing to withdrawn or well-behaved to rebellious. A suicidal person may also lose interest in day-to-day activities, neglect his or her appearance, and show big changes in eating or sleeping habits.

Many suicides might be prevented if everyone learns to recognize the warning signs and know how to access help. If you or someone you know suffers from depression, substance abuse, or has ongoing thoughts of death or suicide, we urge you to seek help. Talking openly about suicidal thoughts and feelings can save a life.

Thayer County Health Services has behavioral health services to help patients. There are also crisis centers located all across the country that are committed to suicide prevention. Anyone can call anytime, from anywhere in the nation and speak to someone who will listen and assist them in getting the help they need. For more information you can visit www.crisislink.org. You can also call 1-800-SUICIDE or 1-800-273-TALK. Volunteers are available 24/7 to give support.

Dale Goeking

Dale Charles Goeking of Hebron, the son of Henry and Margaret (George) Goeking, was born August 16, 1930, in rural Gilead. He departed this life on August 29, 2016, at Bryan LGH West in Lincoln, at the age of 86 years.

Dale grew up in the Gilead area attending country school through the eighth grade. He graduated from Hebron High School with the class of 1948.

He was confirmed in 1944 at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Gilead.

He was inducted in the United States Army January 24, 1952, serving in England during the Korean Conflict. He was honorably discharged December 23, 1953. Dale returned home to work on the family farm.

Dale married Sharon White on September 5, 1964, at St. Michael's Catholic Church in Fairbury, by Father Barry. This union was blessed with the birth of two children.

Dale worked for Thayer County Department of Roads, then went to Fillmore County Department of Roads where he worked 26 years dragging roads. He retired in 2005 at the age of 75.

Dale was an avid hunter, enjoying God's creation, especially for deer and pheasants. He enjoyed taking a ride with Sharon down the river road, sometimes ending up at McDonald's for a double cheeseburger, fries and a diet coke.

Trojans top Titans 69-24

Patience is a hard thing for
By Jerome Jones
Thayer Central Football

anyone to have, especially in the current day and age.

Sometimes, it is even harder for a football coach to have patience. It is not an easy thing to see your guys work so hard day in and day out and not have a lot of success on Friday night, however, as someone who has coached for a long time, I know that even though our hard work isn't showing up in results just yet, it is making a difference in our performance and will benefit us greatly in the course of this season.

Tri County started with the ball and put together an 8-play drive that culminated in an 8-yard touchdown run by Colby Ensz.

Thayer Central answered with a touchdown of their own, a 36-yard run by senior Dietric Kenning to tie the game at 6-6.

The Trojans would end the quarter with another long drive that ended with another 8-yard touchdown run by Ensz. After one quarter, the Trojans led 14-6.

Thayer Central began the second quarter with the ball and got a big play on third down, a 38-yard pass from junior Max Madsen to senior Preston Reece.

The Titans used the conversion to get on the board again with a 15-yard touchdown run by Kenning to cut the lead to 14-12.

Tri County converted a 4th and 1 on their next drive, leading to a 5-yd touchdown run by Ensz to make it 22-12 with 6:47 left in the first half. It was at this point things fell apart for the Titans.

On the first possession of their ensuing drive, the Titans fumbled and the ball was recovered by Cooper Smith of Tri County, who returned it for a 14-yard touchdown to extend the lead to 30-12. On their very next offensive play, the Titans again fumbled the ball away to the Trojans.

But thanks to a sack by junior Tim Schulte, the defense held Tri County to a 4 and out. Again, however, the Titans fumbled the ball on their first offensive play. This time, Tri County would capitalize with another touchdown run, this one by Smith, to make it 38-12.

It made the second straight week where the Titans gave up 20 or more points in a short time span in the 2nd quarter. The teams would trade possessions to finish out the half.

At halftime, Tri County led 38-12.

Thayer Central began the second half with their fourth turnover of the night, this time on a Max Madsen interception. Tri County responded by scoring another Ensz touchdown, this on a 6-yard run to make it 44-12.

The Titans would punt on their next two possessions and the Trojans would score on their next two possessions, on 37-yard and 41-yard runs by Ensz.

Thayer Central would get back on the board to end the quarter on a 37-yard touchdown pass from Madsen to sophomore Zach Koss to make it 57-18.

Tri County began the fourth quarter with a touchdown by their starting running back, Cooper Smith, to make the score 63-18.

The Titans answered with a touchdown of their own, a 15-yard pass from Madsen to sophomore Jarod Hergott. Tri County would finish the game with one final touchdown, a 1-yard run by Bailey Waltke.

The final score was Tri County 69, Thayer Central 24.

Dietric Kenning, who ran for 94 yards and 2 touchdowns on 12 carries, led the Titans offensively. Max Madsen was 13 for 22 passing, with 174 yards and 2 touchdowns. Zach Koss caught 7 passes for 68 yards and a touchdown, while Jarod Hergott caught 3 passes for 64 yards and 1 touchdown. Senior Preston Reece caught 3 passes for 42 yards and also rushed for 7 yards on 2 carries.

Defensively, junior Tim Schulte, in his first career start, led the Titans with 13 tackles, 1.5 tackles for loss, and a sack. Fellow junior Seth Mumford also had 13 tackles. Kenning had 12 tackles, while freshman Jackson Feulner added 10 tackles. Other tacklers in the game included Hank Harris (9 tackles), Brenden Fangmeier (7), Ryan Koch (6), Elliot Epstein (5), Isaiah Keilwitz (4), Issac Montes (3), Jarod Hergott (2), Preston Reece (2), Keith Hergott (2), Zach Koss (1), and Max Madsen (1).

There is an old axiom among football coaches that a team makes their biggest improvement between the 1st and 2nd weeks of the season.

While the scoreboard may not suggest it, I feel like we took a big step forward this week.

Our offense was much improved, not just because we scored 24 points or put up 261 yards of offense; we also improved our blocking (only 1 sack) and cleaned up our penalties from last week (no offside or false starts).

Defensively, we gave up more points, but we also made a number of changes in our personnel and scheme due to facing a different type of offense this week.

We did see some success in that, especially in the performance turned in by Tim Schulte at middle linebacker. This is Tim's first season of football and he showed a glimpse of his potential with his 13 tackles and a sack.

I believe that our defense will continue to improve with more reps in both practice and games. Another positive I have seen from this team is that despite the score, these young men never gave up Friday night and continued to play hard until the clock ran out. These kids are bought in to our program and we will see the benefits of that down the road.

This week, the Titans have a bye. The bye comes at a good time in the season; it allows us to spend a week focusing on fundamentals and getting some additional reps for our guys on both offense and defense.

Our next game will be Sept. 16 at 7 p.m., in Odell against the Diller-Odell Griffins.

I hope to see you all on the road, so you can give us a home field advantage in Odell. Until next week, Carry Your Shield and Go Titans!

Zach Koss dodges Tri County to run the ball. Koss caught seven passes for 68 yards and a touchdown.

Thayer Central's Preston Reece goes in for the tackle on Tri County. Reece had two tackles on the night.

Eagles own opponents in first season game

The Lady Titans varsity volleyball team had the Thayer Central gym rocking in its opener against Tri County Sept. 1 with a quick 3-set win over the Trojans, 25-16, 25-22, 25-15.

"For our first night out, I was very pleased with how they handled themselves," said head coach Amy Harris. "Even when we started slow in Game 1 and 2, we were able to shake off mistakes and come back and play the game we see them exhibit in practice."

The Titans dug themselves into a 2-8 hole in the first set before squelching the jitters. Sophomore Grace Souerdyke took the serve with the score 9-10 and calmly served the next 9 points for the Titans, 2 of them aces.

She was 18 for 18 in serves for the night, with 5 aces. Senior Kenidee Miller contributed 6 aces on 19 for 20 serving.

Leading all hitters for the night was sophomore Emily Welch who had 15 kills, with Miller close behind with 10.

Senior Grace Brinegar and sophomore Maggie Harris rounded out the kill totals with 5 and 1, respectively.

Brinegar led the blockers with 3. Welch also led in digs with 12, followed by sophomore libero Olivia Deepe with 10 and Souerdyke with 7.

Junior co-captain Jena Cottam set 25 assists while adding 5 digs.

Senior co-captain Jessica Huhman and Deepe each added 8 good passes.

"Thanks to everyone who came out and supported us in the season opener," Harris added. "We're home again this week, and then we're on the road for the next two, so hopefully we can get some confidence under our belts to carry us through."

The Titan fans were aided in their effort by a group of high school boys dressed in togas, the high school pep band, the new cheerleaders, and new sophomore announcer Dakota Cherney.

Titan JV defeats St. Cecelia and Sandy Creek Saturday

The Lady Titans JV fell to Tri County in a close opening match—25-27, 25-21, 10-15—after scrambling to fill freshman Bailey Kiburz's spot after she went down with an ankle injury.

But, they regrouped for their final Labor Day weekend tournament at Sandy Creek on Saturday, being crowned champions after decisively defeating Hastings St. Cecelia 25-11, 25-21 and Sandy Creek 25-15, 25-6.

The team served 94 percent on the day, with freshman Sydney Havel gathering 7 aces and sophomore Katelyn Richardson getting 6.

Richardson also got three stuff blocks on the day. Sophomore Maddison Williams led all hitters with 17 kills on the day, followed by Richardson with 10, Havel with 8, and junior Hailey Wilshusen with 5. Freshman Madalyn Crouse led in digs with 28, and freshman Stephanie Meyer followed with 18.

Meyer also got 23 assists on the day, with Havel adding 8.

"They definitely had moments of flawlessness during the day," said head coach Amy Harris. "There was no question of who was the best team in the field. Even when they were challenged a bit by St. Cecelia in the second game of the match, they responded with cool aggressiveness."

Titan Jackson Feulner catches the ball in the first half against Tri County Sept. 2. Feulner's success in the game came from the defensive side with 10 tackles.

New spirit

Thayer Central cheerleaders MicKael Halverstadt, Bailee Remmers, MaryRuth Dodes, Grace Souerdyke, Kylie Pachta and Hannah Cooper dish out the Titan spirit at the Tri County game. The cheerleading team formed earlier this year as Thayer Central decided to bring the program back.

Sophomore Emily Welch bumps the ball over the net during the Titan home opener against Tri County Sept. 1. Welch had 15 kills at the net.
